by President Watson and Robert N Valentine, the cashier's father, showed that the cashier's checks did not correspond; that the checks called for more money than the stubs recorded and that while taking the stub as the basis of accounting the bank's finances would figure out all right, the checks would show that the bank had been drawing heavily on its New York correspondent, the Park National bank. The cashier carried the accounts on the stubs and from them to the books correctly, but when the returns from the cashier's checks came he pocketed the difference between the stub and the check. Four or five months of this method of financieting depleted the bank's reserve moneys and brought it on the verge of ruin. Then the cashier evidently secured the ready ash on hand and left Perth Amboy.

Tuesday night the determination to lose the bank was agreed upon, and President Watson notified Chief of Police Burke and asked him to locate the missing cashier. Valentine, who had been in New York city, returned to Perth Amboy from Woodbridge today accompanied by his counsel, Edward Savage, of Rahway, He or clined to go into details about the
