But it was still vile enough to constitute a blistering disgrace upon the city and upon every man whose financial support helps to keep it alive. It is high time to turn the hose on this nausenting public stench.

The Phillips Case.

The state of mind in which the retent investigation of the management of the High school was begun and conducted, and the conclusion reached. constitute, in our opinion, an impressive illustration of how the educational affairs of a large city ought not to be run.

From the evidence, public and private, it does not in our judgment appear that the primary charges against Dr. Phillips have been sustained; nor do we find in the transcript of testimony sufficient warrant for the censure put upon this efficient and conscientious instructor in the report of the High and Training committee which recommended a cut in Dr. Phil-Hps' salary and which the Board of Control on Friday night approved. This, however, is our opinion only and opinions are liable to differ.

There can, though, be no difference of opinion among fair-minded men upon the point that in turning an episode of this kind into a factional political game and exhibiting in its treatment the passion and the wirepulling of an old-fashloned ward caucus an abominable example is set before the eyes of the young men and women in our High school. We hope that when they come into men's and women's estate they will order school government better.

New York's increase ion dollars. The Maryland Steel com-sons recited in the preamble to the judgment, the Rennes tribunal is instructed as to the weight to be attached to certain evidence brought forward against. Dreyfus at the first court-martial, as well as to certain other evidence which has been subsequently adduced. It will be remembered that the first court-martial convicted Dreyfus of having communicated cortain documents relating to the akmy to the agent of a foreign power on the express ground that these documents were enumerated in a list, or bordereau, which it adjudged to be in Dreyfus's handwriting. The evidence submitted to the court of cassation showed, in the first place, a great preponderance of expert testimony to the fact that the bordereau was written by the same hand as two lettern known to have been penned by Esterhazy in 1892 and 1894. It was also proved that these three letters were written upon transparent, square-ruled paper, and that the most careful sourch had failed to demonstrate that Dreyfus ever owned or used a specimen of this paper. On these grounds, M. Ballot-Beaupre, the official reporter of the court of cassation, declared that he had come to the conviction that the bordereau was written. not by Dreyfus, but by Esterhazy. The court, practically, adopted this conclusion, for, in its judgment, it says that the facts relating to the transparent, square-ruled paper, "unknown to the court-martial which passed sentence, tend to show that the bordereau could not have been written by Dreyfus, and, in consequence, are of a kind to establish the innocence of the condemned." From a reading of the text of the decision, it appears that nothing is left to the Rennes court-martial except to make a formal acknowledgement that Astrolabe Cast: 4.62 a. m., for Monday, Drevfus was not the author of the bordereau, and, therefore, not the betrayer of the documents mentioned therein. There may be a smaller organization than the Scranton school board but if so it is not yet got within focus of the microscope.

A Reviving Industry.

That the American shipbuilding industry is entering upon a new era of | activity and development seems assured adays. in spite of the tardiness of congress in passing legislation for its encouragement.

A new $3,000,000 shipbuilding plani is, we are told, soon to be constructed on the banks of the Delaware river. The Philadelphia Record, a journal opposed. to ocean subsidies, has traced this rumor down and asserts that it is well founded. The president of the new concern it describes as a "thoroughly man practical and experienced bridge builder and iron master who is accustomed to manage large establishments." According to the Marine Review over $70,-000,000 worth of new ships are now building in the United States-$40,000,000 worth of warships and the rest merdents should do something for that ond visit to the house of a doubtful voter Niobe habit. In whooping this year up as the banner business year on record we are afraid that R. G. Dun & Co. neglect to consider the feelings of Calamity Howler Bryan and the apostles of 16 to 1. Since the Courier-Journal's restora tion to grace as a simon pure party organ Colonel Watterson has accumulated affluence at the expense of picturesqueness. The New York Sun no sooner makes out an unanswerable case against Admiral Schley than it runs up against new proof that the multitude is wedded to its idol.

Admiral Dewey will be surprised to earn when he gets home that during his absence he has been completely appropriated by the anti-imperialists.

Ex-Senator Ingalls is meditating another confinement in congress. He will be welcome on the principle of anything for variety.

Although another bank cashier has gone wrong we cannot conscientiously recommend the sock system of savings deposits.

The czar of Russia has indorsed Dewey, which ought to inject another hoarse note in the triumphant cagle's seream.

As a matter of fact the American toy pisto! puts up on the whole a more deadly campaign than Spain.

Only 12 cities report decreases, the worst being in New Haven, where building operations fell off 50 per cent. Scranton is not included in the table. Here, on account of the strike, the falling off has been very marked.

The conclusion to be derived from this table is that, speaking generally the present spring and summer season has been an uncommonly good one in the building trades; especially good when we take into account the numerous recent advances in the prices of building materials, some of which have been arbitrary enough to scare intendmg buffders into postponing their operations until a more inviting time. As we note this truth we gain a new realization of the extreme unwisdom of the local strike which has not only deprived Scranton of all participation in the general prosperity characterizing the building industry throughout the United States but has also imposed a grievous burden of loss upon every aranch of local commerce and industry, for which there is in view no compensating gain.

Scope of the New Dreyfus Trial. (New York Sun, Editorial.)

We have before us the text of the judgment rendered by the court of casiation in the Dreyfus affair, and pubished by order of the chamber of leputies in every commune of France. & close examination of this document discloses the important fact that Dreyus is not to be tried upon the general tharge of treason, but upon the quesion whether he committed a particular reasonable act which is specified in he judgment. That is to say, even if te could be shown, upon newly disfosed evidence, to have been a traitor, at is yet guiltless of the one treasmable act specified in the judgment, is would have to be neguitted by the nilitary tribunal now convoked at tennos.

The operative part of the judgment endered by the court of cassation is hat which sets forth that the supreme ribunal quashes and annuls the senince of condemnation passed Dec. 22, $94, upon Alfred Dreyfus by the first ourt-martial of Paris, and sends back he accused to be tried by a courtpartial, to be held at Rennes, on the bilowing issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of taving in 1894 instigated plots or held ommunications with a foreign power, r with one of its agents, with a view a engage it to commit hostilities and o wage war against France, or in or-once admitted the Tagals are free to organize their own government in their own way. The German and French colonial lan is to fill the colony with colonial administrators. It is not the English plan. It has not been ours. In Alaska we have even gone too far in letting a territory take care of itself. In India itself, out of 1,560,160 square miles. 55,167 square miles, or one-third of British India, is today ruled by native overeigns like the Sultan of Sulu. Nothing so becomes English administration as its success in maintaining these states, improving their management and slowly raising them out of Oriental despotism. Jeypoor, a Malay state, is ruled this way. The Straits Settlements are governed through native chiefs. All over the world the same plan is followed, and 212 years after English rule began in India with the cession of Bombay one-third the area of India is under native rulers.

> Why should we be wiser or try to setter the most successful of colonizng nowers and the methods of the ugest of colonial empires? The first duty of a civilized power with the responsibilities of a region like the Philippines is not to tear down and destroy but to preserve and to give
