Bauer's Band Open Air Concert To- night.

The popular firm of music dealers and publishers, Messrs. Finn & Phillips, 126 Wyoming avenue, have announced Bauer's band to give a concert in front of their store this evening.
The signal success of this firm during its short existence, has indeed been remarkable. Today it is the largest and most widely known firm of its kind in northeastern Pennsylvania, and has branch stores in both Stroudsburg and Berwick.

The cause of their wonderful success has been honest business methods, liberality, and good advertising. Such a combination is bound to win.

The following is the programme which will be given tonight by Bauer and his musicians, in appreciation of the assistance the public in general have given Messrs. Finn & Phillips in mak-

ST. SWITHIN'S DAY.

Can Now Be Prepared for Forty Days of Rain.

Saturday was St. Swithin's day and it rained. If there is any virtue in the old saw, we can expect forty days of rain. The old rhyme goes thus:

St. Swithin's Day, an' there be rain, For forty days it will remain, St. Swithin's Day an' it be fair, For forty days 'twill rain me sair.

While Americans as a rule do not profess to believe in the influence of this good old saint over the midsummer weather, there are many, even in this enlightened age, who have a lingering affection for traditions and legendary lore. In Maryland and in Virginia, where the customs of bygone times and English ancestors are still cherished, St. Swithin's day is regarded as a pledge of sunshine or of rain for forty days to come.

The tradition concerning rain which is associated with St. Swithin's day makes his name familiar, but comparatively few know the story of his life, and fewer still are aware that it was he who established tithes, that form of church endowment which has lasted in England till the present day. St.
Swithin, who flourished in the ninth century, was a Saxon priest of noble family.

The legend is that this good and lowly minded man who died in 862 as Bishop of Winchester, expressed a wish to be buried, not within the sacred building, as was the right of bishops in those days, but in the church of St.
Swithin, so that "the sweet rain of heaven might fall upon his grave, and the feet of the passerby might tread upon it." This humility, we are told, called down a blessing on his resting place, and from far and near came pilgrims to benefit by its healing virtues.

For one hundred years his body remained undisturbed in the lonely spot he had himself chosen. But in 971 the monks, thinking it a reproach to their house that so great a saint should be without the sanctuary, resolved to remove his body to the due solemnity.
This was accordingly done, and St.
Swithin, since for forty days fell rain of such unceasing violence that the monks were obliged to abandon the project.

But they erected a chapel over his grave, which became noted for many wonders, until on the restoration of Winchester cathedral, which before the Reformation was called St. Swithin's Priory, his bones were finally removed without interference from the weather, and deposited in their place among the other bishops.

And still does the traditional influence of dear old St. Swithin lead us to watch with anxiety the clouds or the sunshine of July 15.

WIGGINS KILLED THE PEST Kissing Bug Made an Assault on Him Last Night.
Jury Commissioner Charles Wiggins had an exciting adventure with a "kissing bug" while coming from Archbald to Scranton last evening on an open car, in company with his wife.
Mr. Wiggins was sitting on the front seat when the insect began to circle about his head. The motorman noticed his efforts to drive it away and remarked:

"Guess it must be one'er them Honan' fles. Yer better look out!" At this Mr. Wiggins became more eager to secure the bug but was unable to do so until the car was opposite the Providence watering trough, when the vicious insect suddenly made a lunge for Wiggins' right ear. Mr. Wiggins made another effort and succeeded in crushing the troublesome insect between his thumb and fingers, and brought it to The Tribune office last night.
The injuries inflicted upon Mr. Wiggins by the bug were not of a serious nature.

Mrs. Reid Wants a Divorce from Her Husband, William Reid.
As foretold in The Tribune, Mrs. Estella A. Reid commenced an action in divorce against her husband, William Reid, Saturday. She is represented by Vosburg & Dawson, and alleges as a basis for her action that she was compelled to leave the home of her husband on June 28, 1899, on account of his cruel and barbarous treatment.

William Reid, the respondent, is the plaintiff in the suit brought last week against Robert Naimith for the alienation of Mrs. Reid's affections. Reid says he will fight the case and that he will bring dozens of witnesses to prove that he never treated his wife cruelly, as she alleges.

PLUMBERS WANT AN EIGHT-HOUR DAY

HAVE DECIDED TO MAKE A FOR-MAL DEMAND FOR IT.

They Will Hereafter Treat with the Master Plumbers as Individuals.
Frank Carlucci's Stonecutters Had a Conference with Him on Saturday and Later the Stonecutters Had a Meeting, at Which the Matter Was Considered—J. F. Ham-mos Was Assaulted.

The plumbers, who have been out on sympathy with the striking carpenters for the past four weeks, have now made a demand upon their employers for an eight-hour day.

This course was decided upon at a meeting of the Plumbers' union held Saturday evening in Industrial hall. It was also decided that the union would hereafter treat with individual bosses instead of with the Master Plumbers' association, the members of which are all associated with the Builders' Exchange.

The union met again yesterday afternoon and prepared a set of trade rules which will be submitted to the grievance committee of the Building traders' council this morning for consideration. This set of rules will embody the eight-hour clause and probably some other minor deviations from the present code.

A member of the union, in conversation with a Tribune man last night, stated that the union had considered the time was ripe for a strike for an eight-hour movement and had acted accordingly. He stated that the plumbers had already obtained over six jobs since the men were allowed to go back to work under fair conditions on Thursday last. He further said that there was a strong probability, if the master plumbers do not give in within a few days, that the journeymen will set up in business for themselves.

TIMES ARE BRISK.
When asked in regard to the possible influx of plumbers from other cities, he said that they could not be obtained, as work in that line is brisk just now about the country, and that the inability of the master plumbers to carry out their threat of importing men proved this.
The executive committee of the stone cutters union held an extended conference with Contractor Frank Carlucci last evening in Industrial hall morning. The conference was held for the purpose of endeavoring to secure Mr. Carlucci's consent to signing the Traders' Council's signature.

Mr. Carlucci was strongly in favor of agreeing to every wish of the committee, except that these two he took under advisement and will render a decision today. The first disputed point is the demand of the union that only union men be employed as planers at the stone yards and that they receive the union wage, $3 a day.

The second disputed point is the refusal of the stone cutters to cut any stone upon or for any building upon which non-union labor has been employed during the strike. This would affect the new bank building on Lackawanna avenue and several other large jobs.

The stone cutters union met in a body on Saturday afternoon and discussed the conference held with Mr.
Carlucci. An exciting incident of this meeting was an assault committed upon J. F. Hammis, a member of the executive committee, and one of the leaders of the present strike, by John Evans, a foreman in Carlucci's yard and Getano Prospero, a stone cutter.
The attack, Mr. Hammis says, was unprovoked and made without warning while he was speaking. The men were separated before any serious injury was done, as Hammis received warrants for their arrest and they were arraigned before Alderman Lentes on Saturday night and held for a hearing which will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. Hammis says that the assault was caused by jealousy.

Fifty contractors have now signed the agreement and nearly 200 workmen of all trades will be at work this morning. The name of the only member of the Exchange who has so far signed the agreement is Mr. Apostolous. He is an experienced contractor employing between twenty-five and thirty men.

It is expected that Mr. Cartermull will arrive in the city the early part of this week.
MEETING AT SUNBURY.
Called to Take Action with Reference to Appeal in Conspiracy Case.
A meeting was held at Sunbury Saturday afternoon for the purpose of arranging for arrangements for the appeal from the decision of Judge Gunster, declaring the Weiler act unconstitutional.

AN AFFAIR OF HONOR.

Effort Made to Pull It Off in Oakford Court.

A quarrel which would have undoubtedly terminated in an "affair of honor" with peculiarly unpleasante surroundings, was broken up last night by the prompt action of the police.

Instead of "an open space in the gloomy forest with the sun peering down through the branches," the scene of action was the darkest portion of that particularly unromantic locality, Oakford court. The contendants instead of being noble looking fellows, attired in black knee breeches and white shirts with lace frills were two low-lived, swarthy-faced, vil-laneous looking fellows.

They had had some trouble in No.
315 Centre street and had repaired to the alley to fight it out. Patrolman Karius and Sergeant Reese G. Jones were in the Centre street station house when a man rushed in and told them of the quarrel. They rushed down the court and captured the two men who were just at a stage when weapons would be drawn in another moment.

When searched in the station house a razor was found in the pants pocket of one while the box was in his vest pocket showing that he had it ready to draw at a moment's notice.
The other had a villainous looking stiletto in his back pocket. It had a pointed blade eight inches long. They will be given a hearing this morning in police court.

EXCITING DRIVING CONTEST.

F. P. Fuller Came in First and James Blair, Jr. Second.
The driving contest was wildly exciting Saturday at the Country club.
While a number of players made an excellent showing, F. P. Fuller came in first with Mr. James Blair, Jr., a close second.

The match was held at the fifth tee.
It is probable that the two ball match on Saturday will have many entries.
POLICEMEN'S ANNUAL OUTING.
It Will Be Held at Maplewood on Wednesday.

The members of the Scranton police force will have their second annual outing at Maplewood, Wednesday.
They will be accompanied by a party of city officials.
The train will leave the Erie and Wyoming Valley station at 5:45 a. m. and returning will arrive in Scranton at 7:45 p. m.

GUERNSEY BROTHERS.

their expenses to the lowest figure and raising their purchasing power so high by special spot orders for every article the day it arrives, are in a position to make prices so low and payments so easy that they absolutely have no competition. As a proof of this fact, see the following prices:

Monson & Hamlin Organ, 2 full

The following bargains are at $10 down and $5 per month:

combination mirror top 60.00 Esty Organ, 6 octaves, full combination mirror top 55.00 Wilcox & White Organ, 2 full Fischer Piano, square, good order 40.00

Arion Piano, square, fine 100.00 Sherwood Piano, upright mahogany finish; has been used less than six months 145.00 Weber Piano; two years old; perfect order 125.00 The above are all second hand and were taken in exchange for higher priced instruments, but every one is thoroughly guaranteed.

We also have some great bargains in new pianos, a few of which it will be proper to mention:
Schubert, latest and best mahogany case $200.00 Schirmer piano 200.00
They build 200.00
These last named pianos, same styles, have in many instances been sold by long-time buying, heavy interested paying dealers as high as $400 to $450. Correspondingly low prices are also made such pianos as Hazleton & Decker. Profits small and payments small are combinations seldom found together, but they certainly go hand in hand with Guernsey Brothers.
Every long-time buying, large interested paying, heavy expense contracting, high priced selling dealer has some unkind word to say of Guernsey Brothers. Is not this a good reason why sharp buyers should investigate their methods, goods and prices before buying?
Remember the place, "Burr Building" This is where the customer gets the greatest "HAUL" for his money.

THREE MEMBERS OF THE BRIGADE STAFF

SCRANTON'S GUARDSMEN HON-ORED BY GEN. GOBIN.

Major W. S. Miller, Major J. W. Oak-ford and Captain W. W. Inglis, of This City, Are of the Brigadier's Military Household—Commission Issued to Adjutant L. F. Mattes.
Rifle Range Open Saturday—To Try and Muster in Company H Tonight.

From national headquarters at Harrisburg an order has been promulgated issuing commissions to various officers of the National guard.
Three Scrantonians receive commissions as members of the staff of General J. P. S. Gobin, commander of the Third brigade. They are Major W. S.
Miller, Major J. W. Oakford and Captain W. W. Inglis. The brigade commissions are as follows:

Major Milton A. Gherst, assistant adjutant general, with rank from June 29, 1895, reappointed.
Major William S. Miller, inspector, with rank from June 3, 1895, reappointed.
Major James W. Oakford, judge advocate, with rank from August 14, 1894, reappointed.
Major Simon B. Cameron, commissary of subsistence, with rank from May 27, 1892, reappointed.
Captain William W. Inglis, aide-de-camp, with rank from June 27, 1892, reappointed.
Only one commission was issued in the Thirtieth regiment and that is to Captain L. F. Mattes, adjutant of the regiment, who is re-appointed. In the Ninth regiment, which has headquarters at Wilkes-Barre, the following commissions were issued:

First Lieutenant Harold G. Franz, regimental commissary, with rank from May 31, 1899, original.
First Lieutenant Samuel C. Chase, regimental inspector of rifle practice, with rank from May 31, 1899, vice Edmund Nelson Carpenter, to quartermaster.
First Lieutenant Edward J. Dougher, Company H, with rank from June 26, 1899, vice Michael J. Buckley, resigned.
RIFLE RANGE OPEN.
The rifle practice season was declared open Saturday and Lieutenant Reese Watkins, inspector of rifle practice for the Eleventh regiment, will be present at the range in Dickson City for the next two months to instruct the members of the regiment in marksmanship. The season should have opened in May and is two months behind this year.

Every member of the regiment is expected to at least qualify as a marksman and if he does not, he will probably be told that the state has no further use for him. No rules governing the work of qualifying have as yet been received, but Colonel Watres has decided to use a set of rules compiled by Lieutenant Watkins some time ago.
When Colonel Watres was general inspector of rifle practice he had every man in the Guard qualified, and this fact contributed in a large degree to wards placing the National Guard of this state on such a high plane.

COMPANY NOTES.
Company H, Thirtieth regiment, will meet this evening at 8 o'clock for muster-in.
Company D, Thirtieth regiment, will elect a captain and first and second lieutenants this evening in the armory.
Captain W. G. Raub, of Company G, will conduct an election for captain of Company K, Eleventh regiment, tonight.
