MEN OF THE HOUR.

Attorney John R. Edwards, who has just been selected for the important position of supervisor of the census of Lackawanna, Monroe and Pike counties, is in his twenty-seventh year and has been a member of the Lackawanna bar for four years. He is a son of Judge H. M. Edwards and has inherited the intellectual qualities that made his father one of the foremost members of the local bar and marked him as an available judicial candidate years before he was elevated to the position of additional law judge of Lackawanna

Mr. Edwards will undoubtedly make a fine record as supervisor of the cen-sus. He is painstaking and thorough A Midnight Round of the Guard, in all he undertakes and these are qualities that are especially desirable in a census supervisor. They are the qualities, coupled with a natural aptitude for the law, which have placed Mr. Edwards in the foremost rank of the younger bar of the county. He will at once begin to make the preliminary arrangements for the taking of the census of the three counties he has assigned to him. It is a task of no small proportions.

A remarkable man is Louis Schautz, the superintendent of mails in the Though a young he is one of the local veterans in Uncle Sam's service who, by his attention to duty has risen step by step from one of the humblest positions in the postoffice. Today he can distribute and stamp letters with any of the office experts, although it is some time since was engaged in that branch of work. When Mr. Schautz was at the stamping desk all that work had to be done by hand but now that is changed and an electric stamping machine relieves the postoffice clerk of a large amount of very fatiguing labor.

Mr. Schautz has a wonderful memory and he frequently astonishes seek. Garbolosa-Regalia Concha. ers after information at the postoffice Garbolosa-Camelia Especials. by telling them off hand the exact route a letter will follow to some distant point which leaves Scranton at given hour. When one stops to consider the magnitude of the mail service this is a more extraordinary feat than it would at first thought seem to be, as letters are sent by many different routes to the same place. The povernment does not believe in holding letters for short routes. Mail is rent out as soon as possible after being received, sometimes over a circultous route, if by doing so time can be saved in delivering the letter at its destina-

Captain Ambrose Higgins, a former residence of Pittston and Wilkes-Barre, has resigned from the Volunteer Signal corps of the army and has resumed his law practice in Philadelphia. Captain Higgins, whose home is now in Germantown, entered the signal corps at the outbreak of PLUMBERS HAVE the war with Spain and was placed in charge of a company composed mainly of men from Pennsylvania. The com-pany was stationed for a time at Washington barracks. Later Captain Higgins was made chief signal officer at Montauk Point on the staff of General Young and continued in that capacity on the staffs of General Wheeler and General Shafter. He installed the telephone and telegraph system at Camp Wikoff and served in a confidential capacity. It was on his proposition that an electric light plant was constructed at Montauk and he superintended the installation. Subsequently he was sent to Huntsville, where he again served on the staff of General Wheeler,

He has since been serving in Cuba, where he gained much praise from his senior officers for the development of the telephone system on the island. He acted as chief signal officer on the staffs of Generals Lee, Williston, Davis and Brooke. His resignation was sincerely regretted by General Greeley, the chief signal officer of the army, who was anxious to send Captain Higgins to the Philippines. In the reorganization of the signal corps in June Captain Higgins was made a first lieutenant in that branch. A brother of Captain Higgins, James A. Higgins, was enlisted as a sergeant in the corps and by his diligence and ability was commissioned a second lieutenant. He was mustered out in May and resumed his studies in law at the University of Pennsylvania.

NOT MADE DEMAND

WHAT THE MASTER PLUMBERS THINK ABOUT IT.

Met Yesterday Afternoon and Decided to Parley No Longer with Their Striking Employes-One Member Delegated to Visit the Larger Cities and Secure Workmen-These Will Be Brought Here and Given Employment - Contractor Stipp Says his Men Were Intimidated.

The plumbers had not, up to last night, presented any formal demand for an eight-hour day to their former employers, but such an action will take

One of the most prominent members of the Master Plumbers' association nade an extended statement yesterday afternoon to a Tribune man regarding the position which has been and which will be taken by the members of that rganization. He stated that the plumbers were not justified in going out on sympathy in the first place, and that heir present demand for an eight-hour day would not be considered for a

He said that the plumbers had been promised by their various employers before the existing difficulty began that if the other branches of the Building Trades' council were granted the eighthour day that they would be granted He characterized the eighthour demand as absurd, anyway, because he said that the average time worked by a journeyman plumber was only a little over seven hours a day the year round. He admitted that there were exceptions to this rule under extraordinary conditions, but maintained positively that the peculiar exigencies of the trade made a less than an eighthour day an unalterable condition.

MADE LITTLE EFFORT.

He said that the master plumbers had not up to the present time made a determined effort, to secure labor from outside sources, because they were given to understand that the journeymen were not firm in the sympathetic stand they had taken with

At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the master plumbers met formally and decided to parley no longer with their striking employes. One of their number was delegated to visit the larger cities from which applications have ome for employment and examine pertonally the men who have made the applications. The best of these men will be engaged and sent on here to take the strikers' places. They will be given permanent employment.

A master plumber said last night: We do not propose to make any further effort to concillate our employes. They told us they were anxious to come back, that they would take advantage of the first opportunity that would permit them to do so onsistently.

"That opportunity presented itself when the carpenters raised the tie-up | Fort Wayne, Ind. as far as it affected contractors against whom there were no grievances. The plumbers had no grievances against us and could have come back without violating any of their union rules or doing up a grievance and thereby set aside the opportunity they alleged they were laying for. This, coming on top of personal requests that came to every shop asking that the master plumbers hold off for a short time in their intended importation of men, has completely exhausted the patience of the master plumbers.

WORK MUST BE DONE.

"I, for one, will not stand for this ort of thing any longer. I have work on hand that must be done and I propose to do it. There is a limit to leniency and in my case that limit has been reached. I will have my shop manned with good men in a very few Six more contractors signed th Building 'Trades' council agreement yesterday. Contractor Apostolice, who the agreement, has cured the contract for building terest. the new St. Mark's Lutheran church at the corner of Washburn and Fourteenth streets. Contractor Frank Carlucei was out of town yesterday and is not expected home till tonight, so that his decision in regard to the signing of the agreement will probably not be made known until tomorrow. Contractor Peter Stipp called upon Sheriff Pryor yesterday to see if some steps could not be taken to prevent the almost forceful intimidation of the stone masons employed on the new Speedway hotel which Mr. Stipp claims is being done by members of the Stone Masons' union. The sheriff informed Mr. Stipp that he could not nterfere until a breach of the peace was committed. Mr. Stipp said that his men were threatened Saturday.

Contractor Conrad Schroeder yesterday exhibited to a Tribune reporter a $3,500 check, representing the first payment on the bolt and nut works contract. "That doesn't look much like u tie-up," he said, as he folded up the slip of paper and tucked it in a fat wallet. "I have one building ready for he roof, another almost ready and a third that will be ready by Saturday. They will all be completed within the time specified in the contract."

Hammes' Assailants Will Have to Answer at Court

John Evans and Gretano Prospero who were arrested Saturday on a charge of having assaulted J. F. Hammes, the well known labor leader were given a hearing before Alderman Lentes, of the Eleventh ward, yesterday afternoon. Assault and battery and threatening to kill were the offenses the accused were asked to an-

Hammes testified that he was in attendance at a meeting of the Stone Cutter's union at Cassesse's hall Saturday afternoon and after the business of the meeting was concluded all repaired to the hotel below, where some of the members showed a dislike to the manner in which the business of the meeting was conducted and made their disapproval public by clamoring for a special meeting.

Evans, who is a foreman in the employ of Frank Carlucci, was to be presiding officer of the special meeting. Hammes stated that he remarked that those who were desirous of holding a special meeting were in favor of returning to work; that they had scabbed before and that they were willing to scab again. Evans, who heard the remarks censured Hammes for what he had said and by way of making it forcible hit him in the chest. Hammes went to the wall.

At this point Prospero arose and delivered several blows on Hammes' head, with threats to kill him if he repeated the remarks. Hammes was corroborated in his testimony by several witnesses

Both of the accused men were held in $300 bail on the first charge, Prospero being held under $200 on the charge of threatening to kill. Frank Carlucci qualified as bondsman for

GOING TO WASHINGTON.

Strikers Propose to Make an Effort to Have the Carlucci Stone Cutting Brought Back to This City.

A committee of two, consisting of J. F. Hammes and another member of the Stonecutters' union, leave the city this morning for Washington, D. C., to confer with the secretary of the treasury and the supervising architect of the treasury department in regard to the stone work on the new immigrant station on Ellis Island, New York har-

Frank Carlucci, of this city, has the contract for supplying the stone for the building, and just after the general tieup was declared, it will be remembered that he tendered his resignation to the Builders' Exchange, thinking that the stonecutters would go back to work, This they refused to do, and, as previously noted in The Tribune, Mr. Carlucci sub-let the contract and the stone-cutting has since been done in

Now that the Building Trades' coun cit of this city has opened work on fair jobs, and as Mr. Carlucci is no longer a member of the Exchange and any injustice to their fellow-strikers. subject to no further monetary losses Instead of this, they proceed to work from that source, the stonecutters think to New York from Tyrone, where he that the work should be done in this city. The committee appointed will endeavor to get the treasury officials in Washington to use their influence upon Mr. Carlucci to have the work brought back to this city. The Trades' council in Fort Wayne has already been appealed to, but they have, up to the present time, paid little heed to the appeals sent them.

Mr. Carlucci was not in town last night, so that his views of the case could not be learned. The committee will also confer with the national officers of their organization and will get them to use their influence also in the case. The result of the committee's labors will be watched with much in-

HEADS OF DIVISIONS MEET MR. RUSSELL

SUPERINTENDENTS ASSEMBLED HERE YESTERDAY.

Conference at the Office of the New General Superintendent-Successor to Mr. Bogart Not Yet Announced. Committee of the Conductors and Trainmen Will Confer with Mr. Russel Today-Firemen to Meet Superintendent FitzGibbon Later. Grand Chief Arthur in the City.

General Superintendent E. G. Rus sell, of the Lackawanna, had his fix conference, yesterday, with the division superintendents. There were present J. B. Marston, of the Buffalo division; A. Schwarz, of the Syracuse division, and A. C. Salisbury, of the Utica division, and Garrett Bogart, of the Scranton division. Raymond Du Puy, the newly appointed superintendent of the Morris and Essex division, was not present. Mr. Bogart, who retires Thursday, was not present throughout the entire conference

The main subject discussed as far as could be learned was the filling of the vacancy that will be made by Mr. Bogart's resignation, which goes into effect Thursday. The proposition of Mr. Russell to move either Mr. Schwarz or Mr. Salisbury from his present position to the more important superintendency of the main division, was thoroughly canvassed, but whether or not a conclusion was arrived at, could not be learned.

THE NEW SCHEDULE.

Today, Mr. Russell will meet the representatives of the conductors and trainmen to discuss the new schedule. No definite agreement will be arrived at, it is thought, for several weeks Both the company and the men are agreed upon the Rock Island mileage system as the basis of pay, but General Superintendent Russell, who has had the schedule presented by the trainmen and conductors under consideration for the past two weeks, gave it out, yesterday, that some of the details do not meet with hir ideas altogether and will be referred back for modification.

The mileage allowance per hour of part thereof when a crew is engaged in switching or when a train is side tracked for an extended period, i where the company and the men are likely to differ, it is said. There is hardly a question, though, but that it will be amicably adjusted.

The firemen have their conference with Superintendent Fitz Gibbon towards the end of the present week. The date had not been definitely settled yesterday, Mr. Fitz Gibbon stated. As in the case of the conductors and trainmen, a ready adjustment of the schedule is looked for.

The engineers' general committee is still working on their schedule. They expect to complete it any day nov and to have it ready for presentation to Superintendent Fitz Gibbon before the week is over.

GRAND CHIEF ARTHUR HERE. P. M. Arthur, of Cleveland, Ohio grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, was in the city yesterday and had a conference with the committee. He was on his way attended a union meeting Sunday To a Tribune man who met him at the Jermyn in the evening, he said his visit was not of an official nature. I was going through this way and ust stopped off to tarry awhile with the boys. He was in company with Eli Vail. traveling engineer of the Lackawanna when he left the hotel and they started in the direction of where the engineers committee is meeting. Before leaving the hotel Mr. Arthur was introduced to Superintendent Fitz Gibbon and in the corridor.
