THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review. By Associated Press. New York, July 21.-The stock market was dull today for the general list but there was a firm tone and final prices were higher than those of last night. The Grangers were especially in good demand and ruled for the greater part of the day at about a point above yesterday. Burlington and Rock Island showed special strength and there was some evidence of manipulation in these two stocks. Much talk was heard of Burlington's large earnings for June and rumors were affoat on a coming increase in Rock Island dividend rate, which was, however without official sanction. London was a decided factor in the day's higher prices and buying for that account in New York was estimated as high as 20,000 shares, principally of L. & N.
