Large Clothing Manufacturer Moves from New York to New Orange, N. J.

The reason that there has been so much delay in the silk mill is because we found that the parties who were going to occupy it were not going to be able to employ the help that they agreed to. We have therefore substituted in their place the large clothing manufacturer, Max Ernst, who had a contract with the government to supply 200,000 uniforms for the soldiers. He is now employing upwards of 600 hands in several factories in New York and expects to be able to accommodate about 400 in this building, which is being rapidly fitted with shaftings, pulleys, hangers and machines for his tailors. Mr. Ernst employs union help, pays New York union wages and is endorsed by the Federation of Labor. Yours Truly, C. M. Tompkins, President.

THROWN FROM A HORSE. Miss Susan M. Donley, of Binghamton, N. Y., Seriously Injured.

The following from yesterday's Binghamton Republican refers to a young woman who has many friends in this city. "Dr. F. L. Forker was called yesterday morning to Little Meadows to attend Miss Susan M. Donley, of No. 24 Doubleday street, who was seriously injured near there while with a party of Binghamtonians. "The accident occurred at about noon on Sunday. The party was at the lake four miles beyond Little Meadows. Dr. M. Pembroke Congdon, of this city, was taking a snapshot photograph of Miss Donley, who was mounted on a horse for the occasion. The animal became frightened and gave a start. Dr. Congdon jumped to catch it by the bit, but missed, and the horse became more frightened, starting to run. "Miss Donley was thrown off and her head struck a tree, cutting a deep gash in the scalp, which bled profusely. She became unconscious. The party and the spectators were much frightened. Dr. Forker was called and it was feared that the young woman would not recover. Her father was summoned from Buffalo and came immediately home, and Miss Donley's mother, Mrs. J. H. Donley, also came. The local physician considered the case so serious that he sent to this city yesterday morning for Dr. Forker, for consultation. The latter, however, when he had examined the patient, did not think the case was so serious as danger and believes that, barring unforeseen circumstances, Miss Donley will recover."

CORONER INVESTIGATING. Inquest in Case of Boy Killed on Lehigh Valley Road.

Coroner Roberts went to Pittston yesterday to inquire into the death of the young man who was killed on Monday by the Black Diamond express at Ransom. The remains lay in Howell's undertaking establishment and were horribly mangled. The boy's head was cut off, the body was terribly cut and the legs were severed at the thighs. Both feet were also cut off at the ankles.

From what could be learned from several witnesses Mrs. Gorton and her son had been warned not to cross the tracks, as the express was due and when the train was approaching several persons called to them to get out of the way. The woman was caught by the hand just as she crossed the track and dragged by the engine. Her injuries were not proved fatal.

The father's name is Lorenzo Gorton and he is employed as a laborer. The family formerly resided in Noxon, Wyoming county. The coroner will hold an inquest Friday afternoon between 2 and 3 o'clock at the L. & B. junction.

DISASTER AT MUD RUN IS RECALLED

JOHN J. CURRAN, OF JERMYN, SUES FOR DAMAGES.

He Was One of the Two Persons Who Were Taken Alive Out of the Last Car of the Train Into Which Cook's Engine Plunged—Was Pinned Between the Side of the Car and the Locomotive Boiler—Brother Killed by His Side—Other Court Matters of Yesterday.

The terrible railroad accident at Mud Run on Oct. 18, 1888, in which more than sixty persons were killed and a large number more or less seriously injured, was recalled yesterday by the instituting of a suit for damages by John J. Curran against the Lehigh Valley Railroad company for injuries sustained in that memorable wreck.

The papers in the case were filed with Prothonotary John Copeland. The plaintiff is represented by Attorneys E. C. Newcomb, of this city, and H. D. Carey, of Jermyn.

At the time of the accident Curran was 11 years of age and was one of the two who came alive out of the last car of the train into which the engine in charge of Cook plunged into the cab. Curran was sitting with his brother, who was killed. The plaintiff in the action begun yesterday was pinned between the inside wall of the car and the side of the locomotive and was scalded by the escaping steam.

It is contended that he has since suffered from the injuries he then sustained and that he will continue to suffer during the remainder of his life. One of his feet is said to be useless and he cannot bend over because of the pain such action entails. At present he is employed as a barber, but cannot work save at irregular intervals, on account of his physical condition.

At the time the accident occurred Curran resided at Aveca, but has since moved to Jermyn. After the accident his parents received $1,000 from the railroad company, but never having reached his majority, he sued in his own right and places his damages at $20,000.

A Boy Prisoner. Seven-year-old Martin Sibulski spent Monday night in the county jail having been committed by Justice of the Peace Smith, of Peckville, on a charge of receiving stolen goods.

Yesterday he was released on $300 bail. Michael Haydock becoming his bondsman. The boy's father was with him in the clerk of the court's office when he entered bail. It is alleged that one of the boy's companions stole a pocketbook containing $5 and that he helped to spend part of the money.

Holgate Made Objection. Attorney R. H. Holgate, one of the attorneys for W. S. Langstaff in the contest against M. J. Kelly for the office of county treasurer, yesterday refused to take part in the examination of certain witnesses from the Nineteenth ward who he believes were not legally subpoenaed. He says he has information to the effect that these witnesses were subpoenaed by a bookie who writ shoved under the door of their residence instead of having it served upon them personally. The court will be asked to pass upon the matter. The witnesses examined yesterday were all from this city. They were: Nineteenth ward—E. L. Franco, A. L. Wood, Joseph Welch, Richard Keller, August Franz, Philip Rolter, John W. Warner, August Ross, William Greiser, Louis Franz, Philip Lowert, Herman Stahliker, John Lewert, August Knapp, P. J. Kramer, Lewis Deising, John Schunk, William H. Walter, Jacob Miller, Jr., Christ Wirth, William Schunk, John Petzer, Charles Cooper, Jacob Miller, Sr., Fred Fisher.

Tenth ward—Henry Haustian, Philip H. Hansen, L. F. Horns, Fred Pittack, Charles Kempke, S. D. Berry, Charles Rinker, Henry Bosley, A. B. Bernstein, A. L. Rice, Ed. Horst, Charles Wagner, Henry Kempke, A. H. Dickman, Charles Carbondale, Baumister, Charles Luther, Michael Walters, Christopher Woehrl, W. H. Nelson, Lewis Miller, Philip Schwartz, R. H. Cobb, Charles Waxman, C. Hart, William Miller, Christopher Becker, C. W. Kramer, Charles Raynor, O. R. Swink, Rudolph Bunzel, Henry Miller, Sr.

James Serrano, a married man of Dunmore, who was committed to the county jail Monday night on a charge of having criminally assaulted 13-year-old Rose Garbo, also of Dunmore, entered bail yesterday in the sum of $1,000. Frank Williams became his bondsman.

John D. Jones, tax collector of Taylor borough, yesterday filed his bond with Clerk of the Courts Daniels and had it approved by the court. It is in the sum of $50,000 and has John W. Jones, Davy J. Thomas, James McDermott, Joseph Jones, John Price, Martin Williams, Edmund Williams, John Combe and Edmund Jones as sureties.

There was another hearing yesterday in the Eighth ward election contest. The only witness examined was Harry S. Spout, who was tax collector for that ward in 1898. He was questioned concerning those whose votes are challenged on the ground that they did not pay a tax in time to enable them to vote at the election last February. There will be another hearing Thursday.

THIRD CONTRACTOR ARRESTED. Failed to Take Out a Building Permit from Inspector's Office.

R. Nelson La Bar, head of the North End Lumber company, was arrested yesterday by Mounted Officer Block on a warrant, sworn out by Building Inspector Jackson, charging him with beginning the construction of a building without first obtaining a permit. The hearing will take place at 9 o'clock this morning before Mayor Moir in police court. A number of other contractors, who have been guilty of a like violation are to be arrested.

THAT SOUTH SIDE SEWER. Contractor Koons Says He Will Begin Tomorrow.

Once more the South Side sewer "is, at last, in sight." STOLEN GOODS FOUND. Identified as Having Been Taken from School of Lackawanna and Ruins of Ladwig's Store.

A clue has at last been discovered to the mysterious burglaries which have been committed at the School of the Lackawanna during the past few weeks. A search warrant was procured yesterday afternoon from Alderman Kannon by Marion S. Cann, son of the principal, and the house of Charles Heams at 213 Broadway was gone through.

It was thought that Albert Sinoueki, a young boy who lived there, was the guilty party, and search of his room led to the belief. Two of the cameras seized from the School of the Lackawanna were discovered as well as a miscellaneous collection of crockery, which has been identified by John Ludwig, of the Four Cent store, as some which was stolen from the ruins of his store on Lackawanna avenue. A bunch of over 100 assorted keys was also discovered showing that the lad was no novice at the work.

A warrant was procured for the arrest of Mr. and Mrs. Heam and their daughter, Kate, on a charge of receiving stolen goods. When arrested before Alderman Kannon they denied the charge and said that the boy told them he had found the articles on a dump.

This did not convince the alderman, however, and he held them under $200 bail each, for appearance in court. They were allowed to go until this morning, when they said they would procure the necessary bondsman.

TESTIMONY WAS EXTREMELY TAME

CLOSING HEARING IN OLD FORGE INJUNCTION CASE.

Number of Councilmen Were Put on the Stand, but Aside from Receiving Passes Denied That They Had Been Approached in Any Way. General Manager Silliman Was the Only Witness Called for the Defense—Case Will Be Argued Thursday in Chambers.

There was another hearing yesterday in the injunction case of the property owners of Old Forge against the Pittston and Scranton Railway company, but the testimony was not as sensational as on the preceding day. All the testimony is now in and on Thursday the case will be argued before Judge F. W. Gunster in chambers.

When the hearing opened yesterday morning William Repp was called for cross-examination. Nothing of importance was elicited from him.

Robert Staff, one of the borough councilmen was recalled and questioned concerning a conversation with Rev. J. F. Jordan before the ordinance was passed. The testimony of Father Jordan told him he thought it was necessary to have a street car line through the borough and as a franchise would mean additional revenues for the Scranton Railway company, he told P. W. Gallagher that his company ought to pass the election expenses of the councilmen, as they were all poor men. Mr. Staff said on cross-examination that Father Jordan did not ask him to vote for the ordinance or endeavor to influence his vote in any way.

HE HAD A PASS. Anthony Biancardi, another member of the council, was the next witness. He had a pass from the Scranton Railway company before the borough society of the franchise ordinance. He was never approached or offered money to vote for the franchise ordinance.

Thomas Stevens, another member of council, said he received a pass from the railway company before the passage of the franchise ordinance. He was asked if he ever had a conversation with General Manager Silliman about the ordinance and answered that the only time he ever saw Mr. Silliman was in the office of Attorney J. R. Bonner on the day the councilmen received their certificates of election. Mr. Silliman said they were going to ask the council for a franchise, but that was all that was said about the matter.

William Monroe, who is also a member of council, was furnished with a pass the night before the ordinance passed. He never had a conversation with P. W. Gallagher about the ordinance or anything else and no one said anything to him about paying his election expenses.

Patrick Gallagher, member of council, received a pass on his way to the council the night the ordinance was voted upon. He had a conversation with P. W. Gallagher about it.

TESTIMONY OF DEFENSE. The plaintiff rested with Councilman Gallagher's testimony and the case was opened for the defense. The charter of the company was offered in evidence together with a resolution of the board of directors providing for the extension of the line of the company through Old Forge.

General Manager Silliman of the Scranton Railway company was the only witness called by the defense. He testified that his company had entered into a contract with the Pittston and Scranton Railway company to construct and operate the proposed road and he described in detail the route it will follow. He said the only private property it will run on is owned by the Pennsylvania Railroad company and he has secured the right to use that.

He was not questioned about the alleged corruption or about the representative of the councilmen who is alleged to have called upon him to talk about the franchise.

The case will be argued Thursday morning before Judge Archbald in chambers.

KAFFIR MARRIAGES. The Wife Sometimes Asks Her Husband to Get Another One.

From the Wide-World Magazine. That which makes a Kaffir marriage binding is, in Kaffirland, not the performance of a ceremony, but the transfer of a certain number of cattle, as agreed upon, from the husband or his friends to the father or guardian of the woman. The regulations respecting Kaffir marriages are very strict. No cattle are to be taken from the bride who has seen each other a hundred times before, yet on the day of the inauguration of the wedding ceremonies etiquette requires that they should meet as total strangers, going each to her own home. The bride and groom and a company assembled are smiling and passing pleasant remarks, and the bridegroom is hastening to ward his shy lady love. After the formal introduction is over the bride, accompanied by her father, mother and friends, is ready to acknowledge herself as the wife of her lord. The "Yehe," or "Yes," being uttered, the dance is somewhat of a trial to the bride, as the critics are the bridegroom's party. The bride's dance finished, the feasting commences. No formal invitations are issued to the feast. It is soon levied about that a marriage between Kenebo and Mpanyanana is impending, and that the ceremonies are fixed for a certain date. When nature is much the same as the world over, and should there be a likelihood of plenty of beer and meat, many friends will put in an appearance. The Kaffir wife is a hard worker. She toils in the garden, growing the Kaffir corn, and, in a thousand other ways, being the life of the industrious man her lord. She is sometimes so overburdened with work that she says to her husband, "It is only fair that you should take another wife to help me in the work. I have been a good working woman, and industry and thrift obtained the means to enable you to acquire much cattle; your riches come through me. Now, it is only just, as the cattle were bought with my earnings, that you should spend some in a fresh marriage contract, and my labors being lightened." And the man is generally agreeable to fall in with her proposals. The Kaffir women, wives of the same man, agree well together, jealousies being seldom exhibited.

A MODEL CITY. Inviting Swiss Community in the State of Indiana. From the Cincinnati Enquirer.

Indian claims that one model city in the United States—a city where the workingmen own, control and operate the factories and fix the price of labor. Tell City is the name of this place. It is situated in Perry county. The tollers are formed into companies and operate as a dividend was declared this month. There is, however, no common purse for citizens. Each man must make a living for his own family, but the matter of employment is so simplified that the difficulty of this is minimized. The city was founded in 1856 by the Swiss Colonization society of Cincinnati. Each factory in the city is owned by a stock company of citizens. They were started years ago, the first in 1856, by small sums furnished by individuals. Year by year the business grew, and as soon as a dividend was declared this money was added to that already in the business.

In this way the new buildings were erected, and great sums of money were eventually invested in the industries which have made Tell City a manufacturing center of wooden utensils of all kinds. Each stockholder in a factory at Tell City is a workman. Each company selects its own board of managers and superintendent. These men are always stockholders. Each member of the corporation is entitled to as many votes as he has shares of stock. Each laborer is paid at the end of work according to the amount of work done or at a stipulated sum per hour. A dividend is declared annually.

The various industries employ 505 workmen, and represent nearly $700,000 of capital. In addition to this about 200 men are given employment by the chair factories caving chairs, which work is done by hand at the workmen's homes. The leading products of the city are furniture, desks, mantraps, wagons, hubs, hub-blocks, spokes, brooms, baskets, shingles, railroad ties, flour and meal, harness (wooden), staves, barrels, toys, wooden goods, bricks and dressed lumber, brandy, whisky, wine and beer. There are no unemployed people at Tell City. Everybody is busy and contented. Most of the workmen own their own homes.

Recruiting in France. Every year about 300,000 Frenchmen reach the age of twenty. After the physically unfit, and those who are exempt under any of the other clauses, have been weeded out, the actual number of men required to maintain the standard strength of the army is chosen by ballot. They spend three years in the active army. They are then dismissed from permanent service and return to civil life. But for the following ten years they are numbered among the reserves of the active army. They are then drafted into the territorial reserve for another six years. Not until the age of forty-five does a Frenchman become free from all obligations of military service for thirteen years he is liable to be called upon to serve either at home or abroad, and then for the following twelve years to defend his country against invaders.

No exemption can be purchased. Unless a conscript is exempt either on the ground of physical or family reasons, he is bound to serve his twenty-five years. Until 1899 there was a class of conscripts known as "one-year volunteers." These were men of good education, who were allowed to purchase their discharge after one year's service. The extent to which conscription has militarized France may be gathered from the fact that every fourth male is serving or has served in the army.—Chambers Journal.

It is Expensive to Be Late. The Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railway carry the United States mails under contract between Buffalo and Chicago. Under the arrangement the railroad company loses a heavy forfeit whenever its mail trains are delayed. It is therefore expensive to be behind time and travelers may be sure of reaching their destination on time if they buy their tickets via the Lake Shore.
