ANNUAL INSPECTION OF THE RESERVOIRS

BOARD OF HEALTH VIEWED CITY'S WATER SUPPLY.

Paid a Visit to High Pressure, No. 7, Williams' Bridge Reservoirs and Lake Scranton of the Scranton Gas and Water Company—Danger of a Water Famine Is Very Remote. Great Capacity the Reservoirs Have for the Storage of Water.

The members of the board of health made their annual inspection of the reservoirs of the Scranton Gas and Water company yesterday. The High Pressure, Williams' Bridge, No. 7, No. 5 and Lake Scranton reservoirs were looked over and next week some time the Elmhurst and Lehigh reservoirs will be inspected.

Those who comprised the party were: George S. Horn, W. G. O'Malley, Dr. Reynolds, Dr. Rodham and M. J. Kelly, of the board of health; Mayor Mohr, Health Officer Allen, Secretary R. J. Murray, Sanitary Officer Burke, Foot Inspector Widmayer, Superintendent Robert Reeves, Major John B. Fish, Victor Arnold, of the Providence Gas and Water company; School Controller Jennings, Mr. Lowther, secretary to Superintendent Fitzgibbon; Frank G. Rarick, Thomas Cosgrove, Dr. Gateson and representatives of the press.

The start was made at 9:30 in the morning from city hall. The party left in four carriages. The first reservoir visited was the High Pressure near Dunmore. This reservoir is situated at a higher level than any of the others and supplies water to the "hill" section of the city and also to the highest portions of Hyde Park.

SUPPLY RESERVOIR.

The next to be visited was the No. 7 reservoir, which is the main supplying reservoir for the central part of the city. The members of the party were shown through the filtering building and inspected the machinery. Much interest was shown in the Venturi meter system which is installed at this place. By means of this device the amount of water pumped from the reservoir is registered every ten minutes. The appliances are connected by electricity with the company's office on Wyoming avenue and a register is also made there.

The Williams' Bridge reservoir was next visited. Samples of water were obtained from all the reservoirs visited, by Sanitary Officer Burke.

Up to this time the members of the board had been delighted with everything seen and were especially impressed with the diligent efforts made to prevent contamination of the supply. Their delight was changed to positive admiration, however, when Lake Scranton, the new reservoir, came in sight.

When the inspection was made last year the masonry work on the dam was not yet completed and there was not a single drop of water in the immense natural basin. It seemed almost so very yesterday when the beautiful sheet of water met their gaze, looking as peaceful and calm as if it had been there for ages and ages.

The party repaired to the woods near the lake where a dainty luncheon was served. They were next driven around the entire lake and thoroughly examined it on all sides.

FACTS ABOUT THE LAKE.

Superintendent Robert Reeves gave some very interesting facts in connection with the lake. At the present time it contains 2,500,000,000 gallons of water. It has a surface area of 222 acres and is three and a half miles in circumference, making it the largest artificial bed of water in the state and one of the largest in the country. It is fed by the Stafford Meadow Brook and took over three months to fill. The gates were let down in the latter part of December and it was as full as at the present time about the first week in April.

At present the water in the lake is being used to supply No. 5 reservoir and also as a reserve supply.

The tunnel through the mountain is now completed and the work of laying the pipe through it is in progress. When this is done a complete line of 30-inch pipe will connect the Elmhurst and No. 7 reservoirs with the lake. The water in the Elmhurst reservoir can then be turned into the lake.

The water in the lake can also be used to supply the No. 7 reservoir. There are now 4,500,000,000 gallons of water stored in the various reservoirs of the company, enough to supply the city for 250 days so that the danger of a water famine is very remote.

The party arrived in the city again at about 6:30 p. m., inspecting the No. 5 reservoir on the return trip.

THE CASE OF M'LAUGHLIN.

What the Shamokin Dispatch Says About Him. The Shamokin Dispatch of yesterday contained the following concerning Joseph R. McLaughlin, formerly of that place, who was arrested in this city last Saturday for forgery.

"The warrant for McLaughlin's arrest was issued by Justice Schwartz, this city, and it is for a forgery, where a note for $170 was renewed. The information was sworn to last March, but not pushed until now, because of McLaughlin's promise to make it right. This time it appears he has paid $1 and a sister $20 on account. He has also sent several checks, all of which went to protest.

"McLaughlin left Shamokin a few months ago. He came into prominence shortly before leaving, when he surmounted many obstacles and married Miss Katie Halle, whose parents were bitterly opposed to the match. He was arrested then, upon information sworn to by the young lady's father, for having given wrong information to local papers, whereby his marriage was published before it took place. This bill was ignored by the grand jury."

NEWSBOYS' ANNUAL PICNIC.

The Event Will Be Held at Nay Aug Park Today.

The newsboys' annual picnic will be held at Nay Aug park today and judging from the arrangements made, the outing will be an enjoyable affair. All the newsboys in the city have been invited to participate and a parade will take place at 9 o'clock. Headed by the Lawrence band, the line of march will be covered and end at the park, where the events of the day will occur.

Arrangements have been made for exhibitions of kite-flying by professionalists from New York, bicycle, foot, sack, and three-legged races and other sports. Dinner will be served in the park and the Traction company will furnish free transportation on the return trip.

Street Commissioner O'Boyle, P. W. Gallagher and Controller Eedras Howell will act as Judges and Hugh Keenan will officiate as starter. The committee in charge includes George Perigo, H. S. Crawford, Thomas J. Fleming, A. P. Bedford, T. E. Price and Frank Culpen.

STILL ON THE MARKET.

Big Tract of D. L. & W. Land Has Not Been Sold.

The reported sale of the big tract of Delaware, Lackawanna and Western land on North Main avenue to a company headed by Charles Schlager and John T. Porter was denied last night by Superintendent Loomis.

"You can say," said Mr. Russell to a Tribune man, "that the property has not been sold or have arrangements to sell it been closed. It is still on the market."

OUTLOOK IS GLOOMY.

Places of Strikers are Daily Being Filled—Would Not Be Work for All If Strike Was Over.

There was no apparent change in the strike situation yesterday. The larger part of the stonecutters employed by Frank Carucci went back to work in the morning under the new conditions. It is thought that the entire force will be at work in a day or two.

There have been numerous bolters from the ranks of those out of work within the past few days and it cannot be denied that there is a strong feeling of dissatisfaction among the men now that they realize that even if the Builders' Exchange signed the agreement in a body there would be very few of them who could obtain work.

A member of the executive committee of the Builders' Trades' council stated yesterday that the men who are out will stay out until next spring if necessary. The members of the Exchange say that as things stand now there is no other course left for them to follow.

There is no possibility of the master plumbers giving in to the demands of the journeymen. They will take them back but they must conform with the wishes of their employers. Gunster & Forsyth have six men working and other members of the association have also a number of men employed.

MURDERED IN THE WEST.

Former North Scrantonian Met an Untimely Death.

A telegram was received in this city yesterday by Martin Gannon, of Bloom avenue, stating that his son, Anthony Gannon, aged 22 years, had been murdered and robbed in a lumber camp known as Upton, located near Mount Shasta, California, on June 15.

Young Gannon left here two years ago, and the last letter received from him by his father was dated May 26, in which he professed to be again on June 15, when he would send him some money. Gannon worked in San Francisco shortly after his departure from Scranton, and later resigned to accept a position with the Shasta County Lumber company.

On the night of June 15, the murdered man's father dreamt he saw his son lying alongside a fallen tree in a pool of blood with bills scattered around him. Mr. Gannon became alarmed over the dream and sent a telegram to a friend in San Francisco making inquiries and yesterday his presentment was verified in the telegram received.

Deceased is a brother of James Gannon, who was formerly employed at Lane's Street street cafe, and Edward Gannon, who works in Blackman's barber shop on Penn avenue, for several years. Young Gannon was educated in St. Mary's parochial school and previous to his going west, was an accountant at the Cayuga mine.

Further inquiry will be made regarding the murder. The father is an old man and is seriously affected by the news of his son's tragic death.

BURGULARS IN PECKVILLE.

Morgan Store Entered and Merchandise Removed.

The building occupied by the Morgan Store company, at Peckville, was entered by burglars recently and a large quantity of merchandise removed. The store is now owned by the New York and Scranton Coal company and recently the building was closed and the place used as a store house.

Detectives are working on the case in the hope of bringing the guilty parties to justice.

ARE TROLLEY LINES NOW IN NEW HANDS?

Sale Reported to Have Been Made to John A. Riggs and Others.

MR. SILLIMAN INTERVIEWED

Says He Knows Nothing of the Sale. Reported Purchasers Are the Same Persons Who Recently Acquired the Wilkes-Barre and Wyoming Valley Traction Company—The Scranton Railway Company Operates Over Forty Miles of Track and Is Considered a Most Desirable Property.

From a source The Tribune considers reliable it is learned that the lines owned and operated by the Scranton Railway company have been sold to a company of capitalists headed by John A. Riggs, of Reading, who recently organized the United Power and Transportation company.

The first work undertaken by the company was the purchase of the Wilmington and Chester Traction company of which Robert F. Fox, formerly of this city, was general manager. Soon afterwards this company secured the extensive plant and lines of the Wilkes-Barre and Wyoming Valley Traction company and is now operating both of these systems.

Negotiations looking to a purchase of the Scranton lines have been in progress ever since the Wilkes-Barre lines were obtained and as a means, it is alleged, of hastening matters the Riggs people threatened to invade the local field by extending their Pittston line to this city largely along a private right of way.

It is said that the sale was decided upon several days ago but the details have yet to be arranged. The Scranton company operates forty miles of track and is considered a very desirable property as it has a large city and a chain of towns and villages up and down the valley, all knit together from which to draw.

General Manager Silliman was at his summer home at Waverly last night and when questioned by telephone denied all knowledge of the sale.

"I have heard nothing about it," was his statement.

The purchase of the Scranton lines by the Riggs people, if true, gives them a continuous line from Archbald to Nanticoke, a stretch of thirty-five miles.

TO REFORM PREACHERS.

Novel Crusade That Rev. J. C. Hogan Is to Launch Next Sunday in New York City.

Rev. J. C. Hogan, who for several years furnished sensations at each meeting of the Wyoming conference, is now in New York city. The New York World of yesterday printed the following concerning him:

"In a new tent at the corner of Broadway and Fifty-sixth street, across the way from the Gospel tent, on Sunday next a missionary will begin a month's service for the 'salvation of sinners.'"

"This novel crusade will be led by the Rev. J. C. Hogan, a regularly ordained preacher of the Methodist Episcopal church, who two years ago attracted the attention of the whole country by publicly burning his doctrinal and ordination papers, and that therefor he would preach to reform preachers."

"Mr. Hogan, for he prefers to be thus designated rather than as 'Rev.," has been for ten years a prominent member of the Wyoming conference, a number of the southeastern New York and adjacent Pennsylvania counties.

"Mr. Hogan does not believe in 'hired preachers' and expresses his sentiments on this subject pointedly. 'It is impossible to imagine Christ or Paul,' he says, 'consenting to preach a trial sermon before a pulpit committee in the hope of thereby securing a call from a congregation of politicians to preach to them for from one to five thousand dollars a year.'"

"Mr. Hogan believes that a preacher should be independent of the hire of his congregation, and to prove his words he has, with his brother, opened a little temperance restaurant at No. 188 Eighth avenue.

"Take the typical pulpit preacher of this city," Mr. Hogan said yesterday to a World reporter, "and you find him making a pretense of exhorting men to a Christian life, while he is supported by men whose political acts and associations prove that they have rejected Jesus Christ in all their public lives."

"Statistics which are available to any student show that there has been no moral progress in this country since 1881. Crimes of violence, divorce and drunkenness have increased three times as much as has population.

"At the same time such societies as the Christian Endeavor and the Epworth League have sprung up, numbering their millions of members; churches are being built as never before, and we now propose to ask the preachers, if they are preaching the Gospel of Jesus Christ, how these things can be reconciled with the social and political conditions under which we live because they are afraid to attack the sinners who make those conditions."

MARRIED FORTY YEARS.

Important Event in the Lives of Mr. and Mrs. Wenzel Celebrated.

At the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Wenzel at Gravel Pond, the fortieth anniversary of their wedding was celebrated Monday night. The city home of Mr. and Mrs. Wenzel is in West Scranton and Mr. Wenzel has been for a quarter of a century a prominent member of the Scranton Liederkranz. In honor of the important day in the lives of their brother member and his wife a party of thirty members of the Liederkranz went to Mr. Wenzel's home where they were most hospitably entertained.

The visitors presented Mrs. Wenzel with a silver cup and saucer and Mr. Wenzel with a gold headed cane. The presentation speeches were made by Frank Hummler and Mr. Wenzel replied in a feeling manner to the kind words addressed to him by Mr. Hummler.

TIN PLATE INFORMATION.

Exhaustive Report is to be Forwarded Here Soon.

Secretary Atherton, of the board of trade, yesterday received a letter from L. K. Torbet, the Chicago man who is trying to interest Scrantonians in the establishment of a tin plate factory here, saying he will forward in a few days plans, facts and figures covering an up-to-date six-mill plant, with a capacity of 5,000 boxes a week, that will employ 550 skilled mechanics and have a monthly payroll of $23,000.

These matters will be placed before the manufacturers committee of the board and when it is ready to consider them Mr. Torbet will likely be at hand to give detailed information.

A tin plate manufacturer and an iron specialty company are negotiating with the board of trade for the establishment of plants in this city.

AN OPEN AIR CONCERT.

Given by Bauer's Band at the Residence of Hon. and Mrs. William Connell.

The band concert on the hill promenade was a permanent affair. Heretofore nobody has seemed to value or provide a suitable spot from which they may discourse sweet sounds.

A street corner, a house top, a railway station platform, the front steps of a public building or any other old place where a hurdy gurdy could find standing room, was considered good enough for even Bauer.

Last night, however, when the popular leader of his band arrived to give a complimentary concert to Hon. William Connell and Mrs. Connell, at their Clay avenue and Vine street residence, they were almost paralyzed to find on the opposite side of the street, occupying a prominent position, an iron structure elevated platform, brilliantly lighted, surrounded by a substantial rail and provided with chairs for the accommodation of the musicians.

It is probable that Mr. Connell will allow the stand to remain or will erect another still more complete, as Mr. Bauer expressed himself as so much pleased that he would be glad to give a band concert there each week if so convenient a location could be furnished.

The scene last night was striking in the extreme. From across on the South Side rose the flames above the steel mills lifting the glow of prosperity far into the sky and over the assembled multitudes. In the streets little children danced to and fro to the inspiring music. The verandas and lawn surrounding Mr. Connell's residence were dazzling with electric lights, and were the background for many guests. From far and wide the people gathered, thronging the streets in every direction and giving the most unqualified expressions of approval of every number.

The programme was carried out with but slight deviations, and was played with excellent taste and great spirit. The selections from "The Runaway Girl" were among those most warmly enjoyed. The number containing many Welsh airs called forth vocal accompaniment from many trained voices in the audience to whom the melodies were dear.

An unexpected feature of the evening was the rendering of "Love's Old Sweet Song" by John T. Watkins, accompanied with beautiful effect by the band. It was sung with great breadth and richness of tone and upon request was repeated later in the programme.

"The Star Spangled Banner," with which the evening closed, was received with enthusiastic applause, after which the members of the band were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Connell and were served with refreshments in the dining room.

REAL ESTATE MEN POINT OUT DANGER

LACKAWANNA'S POLICY IS CAUSING UNEASINESS.

There Are Now More Building Lots on the Market Than There Is Any Present Demand for and if 15,000 More Lots Are Suddenly Thrown on the Market a Decrease in Property Values, It Is Alleged by Real Estate Experts, Is Bound to Come. How This May Be Avoided.

Real estate men are much disturbed over the announcement that the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Co. is to throw its 3,000 acres of city land on the market to be cut up into building lots. It means, so a prominent one of their number said, yesterday, a slump in property in general and financial distress to the small land improvement companies which have recently opened up tracts at a large expense with the expectation of disposing of the property in small lots at good prices and within a reasonably short period.

As it is now, he went on to say, there is more land on the market than there will be any probable demand for in several years. Let the Lackawanna company place 18,000 more lots on the market and there will be such a falling in prices that the small land improvement companies will be glad to get their own out of their holdings without reckoning interest or taxes.

It means, too, he said, that all land will be liable to decrease in value, at least for a time, and the householder who years ago paid $300 for a lot and now holds it for a $100 may find its value shrink to, possibly, less than its original cost.

LOTS ON THE MARKET. To give an idea of the amount of land now on the building lot market, he enumerated the principal plots that are still on the market partially disposed of:

- Jones' addition 30 acres
Hoban plot 20 acres
Meyer and Scranton addition 30 acres
Sanderson plot 150 acres
Dlekson plot 100 acres
North Park plot (Capouse) 30 acres
Frothingham's Columbia avenue addition 20 acres
Richmont Park 15 acres
View Park 10 acres
Woodlawn Park 15 acres
Race course plot 40 acres
Pinn Bros. plot (First ward) 5 acres
O. & W. plot (Capouse) 30 acres
Gilbert's plot (First ward) 20 acres
Thompson plot (First ward) 20 acres
Electric City Land Improvement company's plot 50 acres
Bull's Head Land Co 30 acres
Winton tract (Park Place) 40 acres
Pinn & Patten (Park Place) 10 acres
H. N. Patrick (Park Place) 15 acres
Tripp Park 30 acres
Fellows' estate (10th ward) 30 acres
Richards & Meers (10th ward) 40 acres
Lincoln Heights tract 60 acres

Besides these are the large holdings on the South Side of William Connell, Charles du Pont Breck, the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company and the Lackawanna Iron and Coal company; also the Lackawanna Iron and Coal company's land in the Ninth, Tenth and Seventeenth wards and the Schlager & Co. additions back of No. 25 school hill to say nothing of the tracts in Little England and the suburbs which Reynolds, McCarthy and others are offering for sale.

PRICES WILL SUFFER.

Good prices have been maintained thus far but if the tension becomes any stronger the real estate men fear a downward movement, and it will become stronger if the Lackawanna company carries out the policy announced in the newspapers.

For its own protection and that of real estate in general, it is believed by the men who hold these views that the company will reconsider its announced determination and instead of turning over all its land at once to the first speculator that makes an acceptable bid, sell it only in small parcels from time to time.
