ARGUMENTS BEFORE JUDGE EDWARDS

LEGALITY OF INSPECTOR ORDI-NANCE QUESTIONED.

It Is Alleged That When the Act of 1887 Was Declared Unconstitutional the Props Were Knocked from Under the Ordinance Creating the Office of Building Inspector-Worthington Scranton Registers as a Student-at-Law-An Application for a Divorce Filed.

Before Judge H. M. Edwards arguments were made yesterday on the appeal from the summary convictions be ore Mayor Moir of Contractors M. E. Worden, H. R. Hurlbutt and N. R. La Bar, who were fined $50 each be-cause they falled to take out a permit efore beginning the construction of buildings as required by the city ordi-nance creating the office of building inspector. The arguments in behalf of the city were made by City Solicitor A. A. Vosburg and Attorney H. M. Hannah and C. W. Dawson argued in behalf of the contractors. The arguments on behalf of the ap-pellants were to tDhe effect that under the provisions of the act of assembly of May 24, 1887, the councils of the city of Scranton passed an ordinance which was signed by the mayor on March 25, 1888, "to regulate the construction, repairs and removals of buildings in the city of Scranton." This ordinance is the one under which the present operation of the building inspector's office is conducted. The supreme court decided the act of 1887 inconstitutional, and it was argued that as the ordinance derived its life from the act of assembly 2000, must fall with the act; therefore, that the fines imposed on the contractors were Hegal.

On May 13, 1889, the legislature passed an act to remedy the defects of 1887, because a number of cities has been organized under the act of 1887, and they had gone on and made large contracts. In the absence of the remedial legislation in 1889 these cities which had provided for large improvements and had contracts for these improvements in process of construction would be in a deplorable state of cheas. Mr. Dawson argued, though, that the remedial legislation of 1889 only applied to cities which had been organized under the act of 1887, and not to Scranton, which was organized under the act of 1874. He held also that the ordinance is unconstitutional because it does not set forth in its title what its contents are, and that it is unconstitutional on account of the price i fixes for permits.

It was contended by Mr. Vosburg that the act of 1874, under which Scranton was organized as a city of the third class, gave the municipal government the power to pass laws for the peace, gold government and welfare of the people. He also argued that the act of 1889 cured all the defect of the act of 1887 and that it vali dated the ordinance passed by the city councils of Scranton creating the office of building inspector, which is the ordinance under consideration.

AN OPINION OF GENERAL INTEREST

HAS BEEN GIVEN BY REFEREE C. A. VAN WORMER.

Decides That in the Case of A. R. Gould & Sons Against Samuel L. Goldstein the Landlords' Right to Priority of Payments Is Limited to One Year's Rent-The Adjudication of Bankruptcy Determined the Rights of the Other

An opinion which will be of general interest to landlords and lessees has been given by Attorney C. A. Van Wormer, referee in bankruptcy, in the case of A. R. Gould & Sons vs. Samuel L. Goldstein, relative to the collection of rents when the tenant has been declared a bankrupt. This is the first instance of this kind in this part of the state, and the opinion is therefore of much interest.

At the first meeting of creditors in this action, A. R. Gould & Sons filed with the referee a claim for rent, for the premises occupied by the bankrupt as a place of business. The facts upon which this claim is based are as follows. On May 6, 1898, the bankrupt became a tenant of A. R. Gould & Sons by the assignment of a lease made by Could & Sons to the Free man Manufacturing company. By the terms of this lease it was agreed inter alla, that the term should be for ten years at an annual rent of $1,500, payable $125 per month in advance. "And if default be made in the payment of said rent or any part thereof, for the space of thirty days after the same shall become due, or any default be made in the performance of any of the covenants herein contained, the said hiring and relation of landlord and chant, at the option of the lessor, shall wholly cease and determine; and the lesser shall and may re-enter said premises and remove all persons therefrom." FURTHER AGREEMENT.

"And it is further agreed that should lessee remove his goods or any part thereof from said building or in any manner attempt to vacate the premises during said term, or become onnkrupt or assign for the benefit of creditors or executions be issued creditors or executions be issued against him, then in that case, the whole rent for the unexpired term shall at once become due and collectable by distress or otherwise.

On May 17, 1899, Goldstein was in efault of $28.80 balance due for April rent and 3125 due for the month of May. On this day Gould & Sons issud a landlerd's warrant and levied unn all of the bankrupt's property upor be premises leased. On May 19, 1899 Goldstein filed a voluntary ceiftion in bankruptey, and on the same day was adjudged bankrupt. All proceed-ings under the landlords warrant have been stayed by Gould & Sons. and they now present their claim to the referee for $11,356.20, being the cent for the unexpired term of the lease, and chalm priority of payment.

That they are entitled to priority there can be no doubt; for the law of Pennsylvania secures to landfords priority of payment for rent due, out of funds arising from the sale of the terant's property; and Sec. 51 (5) of the Bankruptcy act provides for pri-ority of payment to such chimants. The amount to which Gould & Sons tre entitled an prefered creditors. therefore determinable by the law of Pennsylvania. Sec. 83 of the Act of 1836, provides, "The goods and chat-tels being in or voon any messuage, nts, which are or shall lemised for life or years, or otherers. Professors Stiffer and Evans, of wise, taken by virtue of an executive seminary, all of which spoke the nand liable to the distress of the highly of his character, preparations landled, shall be liable for the payment of any sums of money due for rent at the time of taking such goods in execution. Provided, that such rent shall not exceed one year's rent."

QUESTION OF AMOUNT. It is unnecessary to consider the prestion of the amount Gorld & Sons might have collected under the distress had not bankruptey proceedings intervened, for any lien they acquired by virtue of the landlord's warrant, was dissolved by the adjudication of bankruptey of Goldstein, Bankruptey net, Sec. 67. The question is what amount was due at the time the tenant became bankrupt, and the title of his property vested in his trustee? By the terms of the lease should the lesshall at once become due and collectfor the unexpired part of the form

It was said by Chief Justice Sterrett in Platt, Barber & Co. vs. Johnson et al., 168 Pa. S. 49, "There is son et al., 168 Pa. S. 49, "There is nothing illegal or contrary to public pelley in either of the above quoted provisions." As was said in Goodwin vs. Sharkey, 80 Pa. S. 149, 153, "the whole reat for the term might have been payable in advance, and there exists no reason why it might not be made payable at any time during the running of the lease upon the happen. running of the lease, upon the happen-

"The right of distress would immo-diately arise upon the happening of the specified contingency; and that right might be exercised by the lessor to the extent of collecting more than one year's past due rent, provided the rights of execution creditors have not previously attached. If they have, the net of June 12, 1836. Uniting the les-sor's right to payment out of such fund to an amount not exceeding one ear's rent becomes operative in fa-er of the execution creditors."

The whole amount of rent for the nexpired term, by the terms of this lease, become due on May 15, 1839, the date of the adjudication of bank-ruptcy of Goldstein, but the same act which fixed the amount doe under the lease, viz.: the adjudication of bank-ruptey, also determined the rights of all other creditors of Geldstein; and all other creditors of Goldstoin; and their rights having attached to the bankrupt's property, the landlords' right to priority of payment is limit-ed to one year's rent. The claim of A. R. Gould & Sons is therefore al-lowed for the sum of $1500 to which amount they are entitled to priority

GERMANS ORGANIZED.

Recognition.

Branches of the recently organized | Independent German Political association have been formed in eleven wards of the city and the organization has already become one of great strength. It is theely a political organization, being formed for the purpose of securing for the German element the poiltical recognition which that nationality claims. It is the intention of the promoters to extend the organization to every town and village of the county and thus consolidate the 8,000 German voters of Luxerne, who will make themselves felt as a powerful political organization.

Such a large body of citizens, the eaders of the association claim, should | 2 receive much more recognition from the two great parties than is now received. A prominent German in concopal parsenage, Lackswanna, Pa., Au., ceived. A prominent German in congust 5, 1899, by Rev. G. F. Ace, George Brow. of Duryea, to Miss Martha stated that the Germans are not politicians, neither do they desire to be so classed. They should, however, he said, be counted in the makeup of the county tickets. He referred to the candidates now aspiring for places on the Democratic and Republican tickets, and stated that from present indications the Germans are not apt to receive much consideration. But before many weeks the association will be in position, continued the speaker, to show that the candidate who does not receive its support cannot hope to be elected. Should the organization extend only to the cities and principal towns of the county the members feel that it will hold the balance of power. It some of the wards of the city the association has almost 200 members. and in none of them where a branch exists has it less than fifty. evening a branch was organized in the Eighth ward. It starts out with a healthy membership and it is expected that it will be one of the leading clubs in town.-Wilkes-Barre Times.
