Joseph Mikus Claims That He Made an Unprovoked Assault on Him Last Night-Woelkers Says That Mikus Started the Trouble by Striking Him-James Moran Held tor Court on Charge of Assault and Battery-Other News Notes and Personal Mention.

Constable Woelkers when seen at Christ Fickus' hotel, gave his side of the case. He says that he heard that Mikus has, for some time, given utterance to many disparaging remarks against him and his family. Meeting Mikus at his brother-in-law's house last night be approached him and ask ed for an explanation. Mikus, he states, admitted of what he was accused of, and added that Woelkers dead beat. The constable warned him to guard his language and to be more discreet regarding what he said.

"Then he hit me," said the constable, "and I returned the compliment, but when he says I used my club on he tells you a lie,"

"How do you account for his bat-tered head?" was asked Woelkers, "Oh, I don't know, I will have to see it first," he answered.

Women Who Faint.

A MODERN APPLICATION OF THE FAMOUS EPIGRAM, "FRAILTY, THY NAME IS WOMAN."

It is a curious fact that the word faint is derived from a French word meaning to pretend. The word feint, meaning a deceptive movement, as by the boxer or swordsman, has the same derivation. So that in unconsciousness was merely one who felgned illness. But there is no feigning in that sudden failure of the vital power which blanches the cheek, closes the eyes, seems to stop the breath and sends the woman an inert mass upon the counter at which she is shopping. Fainting is very real for the sufferer who cannot go to ball or theater without this liability to sudden unconsciousness. menacing her enjoyment and safety.

Why do women faint? Women themcives would in this advanced age of progress be the first to deny the charge of physical frailty. They run and row, they swim and ride, they golf and shoot side by side with men. And yet they faint. You rarely hear of a man's fainting. Such a thing is so uncommon as to partake of the nature of a dred and forty. I take great pleasure in recommending your remedies to suffering women. I thank you a thouand times for your good medicine and your kind advice. I used four bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' four of "Favorite Prescription' and two vials of your 'Pleasant Pellets.' 'The cure of Mrs. Davis offers a fair xample of what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has done and is doing t make weak women strong. This is not an exceptional case. It is not a solitary case. In more than thirty years of practice Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. has treated and cured more than half a million women. Many of these experienced years of suffering. They had spent large sums of money seekcure in vain. Doctors gave them up. Yet Dr. Pierce's treatment cured them; made them happy wives and joyful mothers.

"IT SEEMS TOO WONDERFUL,"

some women write. It is wonderful that such results should come to the woman who had given up all hope, But from a medical point of view it is not such a wonderful thing that # medicine perfected in years of experience should do the one thing it was made to do. It seems wonderful when the musician sits down at the plans

Why can a weak framed, undersized man go through life without fainting, when a splendld woman, a Diana for beauty and courage, must know the humiliation of this sudden lapse of consciousness? There is

A SCARLET CLUE to follow which will bring us safely

out from the labyrinth of discussion. There are certain times when a woman is more liable to faint than she is at other times. And those times will be found to be the times when the womanly nature and functions are most dominant. The conclusion is irresistible. As a general proposition a woman faints because the delicate organs by which she is differentiated from brother or husband are affected by dis-ease. Woman is creation's master-piece, the last and fairest work of the Creator. To her are given joys and en a capacity for suffering beyond the knowledge of men. The great question is: To what extent is this suffering necessary Has woman been made so finely only that she may know the retinement of suffering? The very thought is an outrage on Nature. The new woman" will know nothing of the suffering of the woman of the past. She will "run and not be weary." She will "walk and not faint." Let her put away at once and forever the thought that she is under Nature's particular ban and must suffer because she is a woman. Let her relegate that superstitution to the limbo where all the old superstitions that left her a slave have long been relegated. Let her believe that there is a way to sound physical health which those that seek will surely find.

to escape the physical bondage of weakness is to follow the guidance of other women who have found a way of escape from the sufferings so long esteemed inseparable from the feminine

"For seven years I was confined to bed most of the time," writes Mrs. M. P. Davis, of Honaker, Russell Co., Va. "I had four doctors, and they said I could not be cured. I had ulceration of womb and female weakness so I could not stand on my feet but a short time: had bearing down sensation, pain in the small of my back. My stomach and bowels, also legs and feet, would swell, and everything I ate hurt me, I could not sleep well, was so short of breath I could not lie down at night: had soreness and tenderness over womb, troubled with pulpitation of heart, and suffered with headache all the time. I would get blind and have fainting spells, had dark rings around my eyes and my eyes seemed bloodshot; suffered from painful menstruation: could not lie on my left side. I would have numb spells, pains around my heart every morning, my lungs hurt me a great deal and my shoulders, too .. I would spit up blood at times. memory was poor, hearing was bad. hands and feet were cold all the time, and I had chills and night-sweats, After the doctors said I could not be cured I got hold of one of Dr. Pierce's Memorandum Books and read about how he had cured so many patients afflicted like I was, so I thought his medicine might help me. I wrote to Dr. Pierce for advice, and he sent me a very encouraging letter in reply, advising me to take his Favorite scription' and 'Golden Medical Dis-covery' and his 'Pleasant Pollets.' got two bottles and used these and felt much better. I sent and got six bottles more. After I had used four bottles I broke out all over in sores. then quit taking the medicine and wrote to Dr. Pierce, and he advised me to still keep on taking his medicine. I did so and soon found it to be a great medicine. I can new work all day and not feel tired at night. can sleep all night and can cat any thing I want at any time. I can walk and go anywhere I please. I feel bet ter than I ever did. Can do all kinds of work in the house and outdoors, too. I am sorry I did not take Dr Pierce's medicine when I first began to have poor health. I could have saved what I paid to humburs. My friends say that I do not look like the When I commenced same woman. your medicine I only weighed one rundred pounds. Now I weigh one hunphenomenon. Why don't men faint? [and brings forth harmonies undreamed It is practice which brings the perfection. Hundreds of people can play the piano, but only one here and there is a master of the instrument and that one person has given his life to the mastery of the piane. It's the same with the cures wrought by Dr. Pierce and his great remedy for women, "Favorite Prescription." There are hundreds who can prescribe for women's allments. But only one man here and there can prescribe with certainty, and that one man has made the cure of woman's disease a life-long study. He has made a life study of the disease peculiar to women, and he treats those diseases with a positive knowledge and certainty which bring success in almost every case. Ninetyeight per cent, of all the women who have been treated by Dr. Pierce have been completely cured. Women who are suffering from weak. ening drains, irregularity, inflammation, ulceration, bearing-down pains headache, back ache, nervousness or other consequences of a derarged condition of the delicate womanly or gans, should begin at once the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in
