Falling Machinery Knocks Him from a Scaffold to the Ground, a Distance of Forty Feet--An Imitator of Blondin Comes to Grief-Durrien-Moran Wedding - Baptist Young People Hold an Ice Cream Social. United Mine Workers' Excursion. Personal Notes.

Jacob Lutz, of Linden street, was seriously injured at the Leggetts Creek breaker yesterday. Lutz is employed as a carpenter on the new Leggetts. Creek breaker which is being erected, and yesterday was working in the interior of the breaker. He was standing on a scaffold, when some machinery above him fell and struck the scaffold and broke it, precipitating him to the ground, forty feet below. He fell on some planks which had spikes imbedded in them and they entered his back, cutting him severely. He also sustained several severe scalp wounds. He was removed to the Lackawanna hospital in the mine ambulance. The physicians there say that his condition

Charles Shimpton, of Green Ridge, while under the influence of liquor, attempted to walk on the top of the Nay Aug avenue bridge yesterday. He was in the middle, and on the highest part of the bridge, when he attempted to turn around and consequently fell thirty feet into the river. Fortunately the water was not deep and he escaped with a few injuries and a bath.

DURRIEN-MORAN NUPTIALS.

A pretty marriage was celebrated yesterday afternoon at the Holy Rosary church when Father J. V. Moylan united Miss Maggie Moran and James Durrien in holy wedlock. A large number of their friends were present. The bride was attended by Miss Mary Mor rison, while the bride's brother, Michael Moran, acted as best man. The bride and bridesmaid were attired in the latest costume and presented a very charming appearance. After the ceremony the bridal party returned to the home of the bride's parents, on Grove street, where a sumptuous wedding supper was served.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL.

(Editorial from the Washington Post Washington, D. C., July 9, 1899.) To one who has seen the mountain region of North Carolina it seems inredible that so many thousands of people, in quest of pure air, magni vill leave Monday to enter the con- ficent scenery and healthful surround ings, should annually flock to the Adirondacks of New York and the White Mountains of New Hampshire Church of Peace, and president of the These latter resorts do not compare in any respect with the North Carelina country. Their so-called moun tains are dwarfed by those of the "Old North State," while, as for lakes, trout streams, hunting grounds and landscapes at once gracious and majestic, there is no approach to a comparison.

Yet, year after year, our people journey in regiments to New York and New Hampshire, sperding vast sums of money for mountain contaces and summer fare, while within eighteen hours of Washington is a region infinitely more attractive in every way better for health, for bodily comtert for outdoor sports, and for gratification of the artistic senses. Everybody knows or has heard of Asheville Thousands have enjoyed its wonderful scenery and have been restored to health by the life-giving atmosphere and the balsamic zephyrs wafted from the mountain sides. There is a district larger than the state of Massachuseits, easily accestible by rail, well provided with excellent inns and the most picturesque iriving roads, and with room for tens of thousands of summer homes in the most beautiful locations imaginable, The area is as large as that of Switserland; the climate is more equable and wholesome; the opportunities for healthful outdoor life far more abundnt and attractive. Northern people have begun to ocognize the Southern states as reuges from their killing climate during ebruary, March and April, and beautiful residences are springing up in Aiken. Thomasville and such points in he interior, while all along the coasts of Florida and the Gulf, at far west is New Orleans, splendid and luxurous hotels are to be found in great numbers. But for the heated period the tide of travel turns ever northward, with its concurrent stream of money, notwithstanding the fact that n western North Carolina there are eftier mountains, more gracious valeys, greater opportunities for fishing. hunting and open-air recreations, and the most bracing and beautiful elicate in the world. This can be accounted for upon only one hypothesis that the people generally know nothing of the unparalleled beauties and esources of North Carolina. Virginia has fared much better in espect of having her attractions made notorious. For generations past such resorts as the Old Sweet. Greenbrier White Sulphur, Capon, Orkney, Rock Enon and others of like fame and character have enjoyed a national reputation, while of later years such magnificent, sanitariums as the Bath County Hot Springs have taken rank with Carlsbad and Aix-les-For more than half a century Bains. the Greenbrier White Sulphur establishment has been a center and a common meeting ground for the old Southern aristocracy, and there the hest sockety of that section has been always typified and represented. The mayor and the other city authorities are indignant and threaten to take legal action against the contractor. There is a state law gainst the importation of alien labor. The principal objection to the new privats is that they come from the vellow fever stricken district in Virginia and citizens are alarmed lest the germs of the disease should be spread here. The negroes are huddled together like cattle in two small shantles. The health officials say this state of affairs will not be allowed to continue.
