Held Up as He Was Homeward Bound from His Shop at 12.30 Yesterday Morning-Forced to Ac-Alleyway and Submit to Being Searched-Only a Few Dollars Secured - Another Robbery on Lackawanna Avenue.

Two highwaymen, each with a pis tol, held up and robbed Barber Louis Bauschman at 12.30 o'clock yesterday norning as he was proceeding along Willow street, near Stone avenue, or his way home from his shop, which is located at 201 Washington avenue. The thiever emerged suddenly from Hertz court, and, confronting him with their guns, coolly told him to step into the alleyway and turn over his money, at the same time threatening him with death if he offered resistance made an outery. The thieves merged suddenly from before leaving the shop and in conse puence had very little money with him. He is quite sure It was not more than three or four dollars. He protested that he was penniless, but the thieves efused to take his word for it and pro ceded to thoroughly search his cloth-

They expressed disappointment at the small returns and one of them made the remark: "I guess we got he wrong fellow," After searching nim a second time in hope of finding watch or some other valuables the owered the revolvers which all the time had rested against his head and breast respectively, and bade him go. Mr. Bauschman went to his home at 716 Willow street, and when his heart had assumed its natural position he hastened to notify the police. Lieutenant Zang accompanied him in a tour of the neighborhood that continued until daybreak, but no trace of the footpads could be found. The men did not wear masks, Mr. Bauschman says, but the spot where the robbery occurred was very dark and he is doubtful as to whether or not he would recognize them if he saw them again. One was tall and slim, he says, and the other was medium-sized and wore a dark mustache. He is quite sure he could recognize their

Lieutenant Zang is of the opinion that the footpads were lying in wait for Tailor Joseph Albrecht, who usually works late on Saturday night and who, on account of being tax collector, frequently has good sized sums of money about him.

The man robbed, D. I. Evans, of Decker's court, was returning home about 2.30 a. m. and while near the end of Lackawanna avenue near the bridge two men sprang at him. One of them dealt him a heavy blow or the head with his weapon, rendering him unconscious When he came to his senses he found that $5 had been taken from his pocket. He saw one of the men walking up the avenue. He notified Lieutenant Davis and the latter, in company with Patrolman 1. F. Jones, placed the man under arrest. He was taken to the Centre street station, where the money was found in his possession. The name he gave was Timothy A. Murphy. TO LAY A THIRD TRACK.

Lackawanna Company Proposes to Take an Important Step-Grade Crossings Policy.

In an interview Saturday Superinendent Raymond Du Puy, of the Morris and Essex division of the Lackawanna, made the statement to the Newark Advertiser that the company has decided to construct a third track from Hoboken to Summit, N. J., in order to give the local patrons of the road an express train service. He said: "We have closely studied this question, and find that the patrons of the road are in favor of such a service during the rush hours, and we now mean to supply their wants. All of the plans have not been definitely settled, but it can be stated that third track between Hoboken and Summit will be constructed for an express-train service. We also propose to eliminate grade highway crossings along the road," continued Mr. Du Puy. "I cannot ray just at present when this will be done, but it will be in the near future. It takes time to do everything, and we cannot go at it haphagard. These grade crossings may be eliminated within a year, and perhaps it will take longer, but it will be done. The company does not favor grade crossings any more than do the people who live in the towns along the road where such crossings are located." "It will take some time before we can get the third track in operation. We will probably experience some difficulty in obtaining the right of way along the line. The thing that we want to do now is to get started. When we have a start why we can push the work until it is completed. The object of this express train serice is to make a fast run after we eave the last local station to this city. We intend that the time shall be reluced, which the commuters have ask-"The third track will be used exlusively by express trains, running ast between midnight and noon and trains running west between noon and

"In regard to the grade crossings along the road. I will say that it is the intention of the company to climinate as many of these crossings as We have already begun such work at Morristown, Summit and Dover, and intend to push it as rapidly is possible. In some places it will be mpossible to abolish these grade rossings."

The company, it is said, has made an offer to the town of Dover to build a $59,000 station there if the town will construct viaducts over two grade crossings in the center of the town.

TRAFFIC MANAGER CALDWELL OF LACKAWANNA ROAD.

Says the Claims of That Line to Consideration Are to Be Kept Prominently Before the Public-F. W. Zizleman Mentioned for Fire Marshal in the Event of That Ordinance Becoming a Law-Mr. Foote's Latest Achievement in a Literary

D. B. Caldwell, of New York city, general traffic marager of the Lacka wanna company, who was in the city for a few hours Friday, is one of th best known of the new officials of his ompany. As is quite well known-he omes from the west, and is agreeably stonished with the progressiveness of be eastern states. To a Tribune man who met him on his recent trip to the ity, Mr. Caldwell stated that in the west there is a very poor and limited enception of the greatness and almost innumerable advantages the Lacka-vanna company possesses. "When in New York city," said Mr. aldwell. "we are crowded almost into blivion by our larger neighbors, This not due, however, to any lack of abllity on the part of the men who have built our road, but I attribute it to their modesty in presenting to the country the many and just reasons why the Lackawanna road is equal to my run throughout the breadth of our land. One point the new managemen will devote much energy to is that of letting every one know what we are, This will be done through the newspapers who are the greatest friends a allroad can call its own." Among other matters Mr. Caldwell spoke of in an informal manner, was the duties every large corporation owes to the newspapers of standing. It is the intention of Mr. Caldwell to come to Scranton frequently The ordinance before councils creating the office of fire marshal has brought forward the name of F. W. Zizleman very prominently. He is ooked upon as almost certain to be nominated by Mayor Moir for the position in the event of the ordinance becoming law. At a recent meeting of the mmon council the ordinance creating the office was indefinitely postponed, but at the meeting of last Thursday night action was reconsidered and the ordinance referred to the ity solicitor for consideration. There is some question as to whether or not the ordinance is legal, for the reason that it legislates out of office the present assistant chiefs of the fire epartment. City Solicitor Vesburg is of the opinion that there is no merit In the contention that the assistant hiefs of the fire department cannot be legislated out of office. He says Judge Simonton's recent decision in Dauphin county is that a mayor can remove any of his appointers at will A man cannot be legislated out of an lective office during the term for which he was chosen, but Mr. Vosburg is of the opinion that the man who is appointed to an office is not similarly protected. He will furnish an opinion on the subject to common council at its next meeting and on his opinion, to some extent, will hang the fate of

John A. Foote of Archbald continues for the excellence of the literary matter that flows from his gifted pen during his leisure hours. Though Mr. Foote attained his majority only a few years ago he is one of Archbald's substantial business men conducting the largest drug store in that borough. He s recognized among druggists as one of the best compounders of medicines in this part of the state and besides winning great distinction for a man of his years in that exacting profession he has found time to dabble in literature and cultivate his proncunced musical talent. Valentine Abt, the mando lin virtuoso, during his visit to this ity last winter highly complimented

Mr. Foote's mandolin playing. Mr. Foote has written a number of short stories that prove his undoubted talent for that most difficult form of literary effort and he frequently contri butes book reviews to the columns of the Archbald Citizen which are read with much interest. Mr. Foote's pen last week had a tribute paid it by the national convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America, which met in Chicao. He was awarded the prize for the best essay on "Total Abstinence,"

Guernsey Hall.

The beautiful and extensive building known as Guernsey hall is continually being brought more prominently be fore the public. Although it is hardly completed at the present time and has been occupied in part only since last October. It is already the permanent home of over thirty social, literary and beneficial societies and organizations. and is most admirably adapted to their onvenience and comfort. The Y. M. A. is at present located in one of its suite of rooms and J. W. Guernsey ecupies the greater part of the first toor for his extensive and widely known plano and organ business. Today Mr. Guernsey opens another department to his music ware room, that will be known bereafter as his Bargain Annex, where he proposes to offer for sale organs and planes that have been slightly used at prices so low that competition will simply be mpossible. We predict for Mr. Guerny a marked degree of success, as we lieve this move to be a good one and would advise the people generally who are looking for musical instruments to give him a call. The new Bargain Annex will be at 318 Washington avenue next to the main store.

BOARD OF CONTROL TO AWARD CONTRACTS TONIGHT

Committee of Eight Teachers, with the Assistance of Nine Book Agents Will Make the Selections This Morning-Subject to the Approval of the Text Book Committee-The Position of Director of Music to Be Established and an Incumbent to Be Named.

Two interesting events are on the bills for tonight's school board meet-One is the awarding of the con tracts for a three years supply of text books, and the other the election of a director of musical instruction, a nev office the board has been thinking of establishing for some time. The selection of the books is being made by a committee of eight teachers appointed by the text book commit tee and the chairman of the board, each appointing one committeemar These are Prof. David Owens, principal of No. 13; Miss Josie D. Lees principal of No. 19; Prof. Henry Kenmerling, principal of No. 25; Miss Clark, of No. 14; Miss Elizabeth Stev nson, principal of No. 36; Miss Nelli Richards, of No. 13; Prof. John O'Mal ley, principal of No. 15; Prof. H. I Burdick, principal of No. 28. The text book law prescribes that the selection shall be made by a committee of teach ers. The text book committee, ha it to say whether or not these selections shall be approved. As the committee of teachers is the creature of the text book committee, it is not likely that the approval of the teachers' work will be wanting. The law provides that the board car change its text books or any portion of them once in every three years. It is for this committee of teachers to say whether or not any or all of the books at present in use ought to be changed The committee will meet at 10 o'clock this morning to finally pass upon the matter. Samples of books from every big publishing house in the country have been in the hands of the committee for over a month and nine of the most persuasive book agents that the big concerns have under engagement are in the city, so it is safe to presume that there will be some new books or-

The selection of a director of music will be made without the assistance of any committee, unless unexpected opposition develops. The office will ! created, the salary fixed and the director chosen all in one breath, so to speak. Prof. Derman, Mrs. Barnes, R. J. Bauer, John T. Watkins and Alfred Wooler are among those mentioned for the position. The choice is likely to fall on Mrs. Barnes.
