Alderman Kelly's part of the bill was therefore disallowed and an exception was filed to the order of the court.

CANDIDATES NUMEROUS.

Men Who Are Mentioned for the Various Offices to Be Fuled in The Thirteenth.

An order was issued yesterday by Colonel Watres detailing Captain Kambeck, of Company B, to conduct the unfinished election of a second licutenant of Company H, and fixing tomorrow night as the time for holding the election. This vacancy in the line being filled the election of regimental officers will follow. It is expected the order will be issued this week.

No one is spoken of for commander of the regiment excepting Colonel Watres, now holding the office under temporary appointment. He will without doubt be unanimously chosen. Two excellent candidates are offered for the lieutenant-colonelcy, Major W. S. Millar, now serving as brigade inspector, and F. W. Stillwell, who succeeded Lieutenant Colonel C. C. Mattes when the Thirteenth was afield.

It is a disputed question as yet as to whether the new formation will allow of two or three majors in a three battalion regiment. Should there be but two named the choice will probably fall upon B. Rush Field, of Easton who was a battallon major in the Eleventh, and Captain Frank Robling, jr., the popular and efficient commander of Company C. Captain Fremont Stokes and Captain Kambeck are prominently mentioned for the third majorship. The positions of adjutant, quartermaster, inspector of rifle practice, the other minor staff officers appointed or nominated by the colonel, have any number of seekers. Colonel Watres has decided not to make any temporary appointments except in the case of inspector of rifle practice to which position Lieutenant Reese Watkins has been assigned.

Captain D. B. Atherton, who was adjutant of the Eleventh, will, in all likelihood succeed to the adjutancy of the Thirteenth, as Adjutant Matter is said to be desirous of being retired. Captain F. M. Vandling, former quartermaster of the Eleventh, is the only one spoken of for quartermaster of the Thirteenth

Colonel Watres declined to discuss the probable makeup of the staff, when seen by a Tribune reporter yesterday saying he was only temporary in command and had no assurance that he would continue permanently.

WILL NOT ACCEPT

HIS DECLINATION READ AT LAST NIGHT'S MEETING.

Foregoes the Satisfaction of a Personal Vindication-It Might Tend to Stir Up Differences and Strife Which Would Be Detrimental to the Cause of Education in the City. Row Over the Selection of Text Books-Recommendations of Committee Ignored.

Last night's meeting, of the school board developed the usual surprise party, scandal and acrimonious debate. The unexpected happening was th refusal of Dr. George W. Phillips to accept a re-election to the principalship of the high school. The scandal was in connection with the adoption of text books. The tilts were on a variety of subjects but principally of the theme of text books.

Dr. Phillips' declination was trans mitted in a letter forwarded to Secretary Fellows. It read as follows:

Scranton, Pa., Aug. 14, 1896.

fo the Members of the Board of Control, Gentlemen. I hereby respectfully dethree to accept re-election as principal of he Scranton high school. In thus sever ng my connection with the public schools of Scrapton, which has extended in different capacities over a period of nearly fif. teen years. I might perhaps be warrant d, under the circumstances attending my e-election by the board, in making a per-onal statement in justification of my methods and work together with the re-sults accomplished in the high school, and in answer to certain criticisms relating to the management of the high school which have been spread before the pub-lic in an irregular and unfair manner without an opportunity being given to meet and answer them in a proper investigation instituted by the board where both sides might appear and be heard. The loyal and unsolicited support of the pupils of the high school and the numer ous expressions of confidence and appro-ciation of my efforts in building up school worthy of our city, which have re-cently come to me from people of a classes, make me the more willing to forego the satisfaction of a personal vin dication, and inasmuch as it might tento stir up differences and strife which would be detrimental to the cause of education in our city, I therefore simply desire to state that my action in declin ing the re-election is due, primarily, to the belief that without cordial relations and an earnest spirit of co-operation, in which personal interests are entirely ubordinated, among all those entrusted with our public schools, the best result cannot be obtained, nor the grave prob lems affecting the efficiency and disciplin of the schools be met and rightly solved, and to my further conviction that these essential conditions, unfortunately, not now exist. Very respectfully yours, George W. Phillips

RESIGNATION REFERRED.

The communication was referred to the high and training school committee on motion of Mr. Jennings without debate or discussion. Mr. Jayne, chairman of that committee, stated after the meeting that the committee anticipated Dr. Phillips' action and has its eye on a western college professor as the new head of the high school. He is highly recommended by Superintendent Howell.

Nine book agents who have spent anywhere from a week to two months. Teachers have been making use of Mr. In this city for the purpose of assisting. Joyce to frighten refractory pupils into surgeon major and two assistants and law which authorizes a change of text from wearing a uniform at the sugbooks every three years, were the most conspicuous of the occupants of the spectators' seats at the rear of the room and there was a general cranning of necks and cocking of ears among them when Chairman Leonard of the text book committee arose to auxounce the result of the committee's labors The announcement proved a big disappointment to most of them. All day long a committee of nine teachers, who under the law are the change is made, labored assiduously on a lengthy report recommending wholesale changes in the style of books and even going so far as to rec ommend the adoption of a complete new style of copy books.

The text book committee's report as read by Chairman Leonard, was as follows:

The text book committee recommends that all the text books now in use in the schools of Scranton be readopted, the grammars to be revised edition conditioned upon the publishing house replac-ing the grammars, both old and new, with said revised edition without any extra expense to the board. We also recommend the adoption of 'Raub's Stepping Stones to Literature. We also recommend that the secretary e instructed to order one hundred nor mal music charts, first series, and 6,00 normal music readers, standard edition or so many of said charts and readers as may be considered necessary by the su perintendent.

E. J. Leonard, B. T. Jayne, E. E. Evans O. B. Schriefer, George H. Shires

WANTED THE OTHER REPORT Mr. Jayne moved the adoption of the Mr. Leonard asked that no action be taken on the report until the recommendations of the advisory committee of teachers be read. Mr. Jayne insisted upon his motion being put President Davis ruled the Jayne mo ion out of order because he made it while Mr. Leonard had the floor and vithout first receiving recognition from the chair. Mr. Leonard moved that the report of the advisory committee be read and a roll call was taken. It esulted as follows:

Ayes-Messrs, Roche, Zeidler, Leonard, Davis—4.
Nays—Messrs, Shires, Francois, O'Mat-ley, Phillips, Casey, May, Schaeler, Neuls, Walsh, Jayne, Jennings, Evans, Schrief-er, Barker, Schwass, Gibbons—16.

Absent-Mr. Langan. Mr. Leonard then moved to adopt the committee's report, saying he was willing to stand by the judgment of tne majority of the committee, al-though he did not favor the report. 'Good boy," said Mr. Jayne, enthusiastically.

The vote was sixteen to four in favor of the motion, Mr. Gibbons changing over to the minority. In explaining his vote he said that he voted with the opposite side on the previous motion for the purpose of being in a position to move to reconsider. He did not think it good taste to ignore the report of the advisory committee of teachers

"We have had seven or eight of the most intelligent teachers in the disrict at work for two months selecting books which in their opinion would best meet the needs of our schools," he went on to say, "and now we throw all their abor to the winds and completely ignore them. It doesn't look right. The people will say there is something rotten in the state of Denmark. The law prescribes that the books adopted by the board shall be recommended by the committee of teachers. We do not know that the committee recommended any of the books that it is proposed to adopt. If only out of decency and ommon courtesy we should hear their recommendations.

Mr. Roche interjected the remark that the books could not legally be dopted without the approval of the ommittee of teachers.

Mr. Jayne explained that the reason he advisory committee's recommendations were not accepted was that they contemplated a wholesale change the style of books and the expenditure of thousands of dollars and all of this without the superintendent being onsulted for a moment.

DAVIS ON THE FLOOR.

President Davis called Mr. Francol to the chair and taking the floor proceeded to score a "certain member or circulating the "false" report that the changes recommended by the teachers would entail the expenditure of $17,000. It was a statement which the member knew to be false, he said, and was made solely for the purpose of vrongfully influencing votes.

The committee of teachers which made the recommendations in question was composed of Prof. David Owens, Miss Josie D. Lees, Prof. Henry Kemmerling, Miss Clark, Miss Elizabeth Stevenson, Miss Nellie Richards, Prof. John O'Malley and Prof. H. L. Burdick. The last named did not sign the It was discovered after the meeting that there is no such book as "Raub's Stepping Stones to Literature." supposition is that the committee got we books confused, the "Raub Nornal Reader" and the "Stepping Stones to Literature." As foreshadowed in yesterday's Tribune, Mrs. Anna Barnes was elected supervisor of music at a salary of $1,000 per annum. C. B. Derman was reelected instructor of music in the High school. The nominations were made by Mr. Phillips and all the members voted in the affirmative with the exception of Mr. Shires, who did not vote.

The contract for supplying 464 school desks was equally divided between Kane & Co. and Hill & Connell. The building committee, through Chairman Shires, recommended that the contract be awarded to Kane & Co. and P. E. Flood, but Mr. Evans and Mr. Jayne, wo members of the committee who had signed the report, changed their minds just before the meeting and succeeded in having Hill & Connell substituted for P. E. Flood.

The following recommendations of the High and Training school committee were adopted: All requisitions for text books for the high school shall be signed by the superntendent before they are presented to Pupils not of the public schools having passed a satisfactory examination by the principal of the high school in the branches prescribed by rule of the board, hall file their certificate of examination, ontaining their averages in each branch, with the secretary of the board, and their xamination papers shall be kept on fil-or one year. That the present study room at the high chool be divided into three class rooms nder the direction of the superintendent

'The teachers' committee presented a report exonerating Truant Officer Martin Joyce from the charge of assaulting and threatening to kill the young son of Edward Gleason, of Luzerne street, but followed this with a recommendation that the truant officer hereafter confine himself to the duties prescribed by the law and bear in mind that, his responsibility ends when he delivers a boy at the school room door the board in taking advantage of the obedience. Philip Vetter Died in the Klondike and Is Buried There. All doubts are now removed as to Philip Vetter's death in the Klondike. which was reported about three weeks Attorney George M. Watson who went to Scattle to obtain definite information regarding the fate of Veter's party, returned to the city Saturday with abundant proof of Mr. Vetter's death.

When Mr. Watson reached Scattle with the intention of interviewing Mrs. Bens, who is the only survivor of the party he ascertained that she had gono California. Reaching San Franelsco Mr. Watson was again too late, Mrs. Bens having left for Bay City Mich. While at Frisco a man named Davidson was met by the attorney. the told him he had met Vetter and his comrades last February.

Vetter died Feb. 15, Davidson sald, and he assisted in burying his renains on the bank of the Selawick river. Mrs. Bens, when seen at Bay Tity, confirmed the statements of the death of Vetter and eleven others of the party. When stricken with scurvy was preparing to return the party homeward. None of them had found gold.
