

MONS. LABORI WILL LIVE

The Lawyer's Physicians Believe That He Is Out of Danger.

OPINIONS ARE OPTIMISTIC

Hope to See Him on His Feet Again Before the Dreyfus Court-Martial Is Ended—Would-Be Murderer Still at Large—The Wounded Man Reported to Have Announced the Discovery of Another Forgery in the Dossier—Indications That His Death Was Plotted—He Tells How the Pockets of His Coat Were Rifled as He Lay on the Ground—Attempt to Steal Wallet.

Rennes, France, Aug. 15.—The condition of Maitre Labori of counsel for Captain Alfred Dreyfus who was shot in the back of the neck from ambush here yesterday while on his way from his residence to attend to the case, has improved so much that the physicians in attendance consider him to be out of danger. He lies on his back, unable to move, but life is returning to the leg which it was believed yesterday was paralyzed, and he has no fever. He continues to discuss the trial. His wife has remained at his bedside practically ever since he was brought home. Naturally she is much relieved at the optimistic reports of the medical men, who hope to see the lawyer on his feet again before the trial is ended.

M. Labori's assailant has not yet been arrested. The Matin today makes the announcement that Maitre Labori, after he was shot yesterday, declared, as the outcome of his inquiry appeared doubtful, that he wished to make known the fact that M. Chamoin, who has charge of the secret documents in the Dreyfus case, has discovered a new forgery in the dossier.

The anarchist organ, Le Journal du Peuple, says that, in retaliation for the outrage on M. Labori, the anarchists will hold General Mercier and M.M. Drumont, Rochefort and Judet as hostages and personally responsible for anything done against the anarchists.

Pockets Were Rifled. Corroboration of the statement called yesterday that the pockets of M. Labori's coat were rifled while he was lying on the ground was obtained today. Not only were the pockets of the wounded man's coat emptied, but an attempt was made to steal the wallet in which were important papers referring to the court-martial including his notes for the cross-examination of General Mercier. M. Labori himself related the incident. He had just fallen and saw one of two men run to his side. One of them said: "His coat must be taken off. He will be too hot."

The speaker then took off the wounded lawyer's coat, and another man seized the wallet. M. Labori, however, retained his presence of mind and refused to allow the wallet to be taken out of his hands, putting it under his head for a pillow, and holding it with one hand. The coat was soon afterward put on him again. On arriving at his residence M. Labori asked his wife to look into his pockets and see if their contents were safe. M. Labori found the pockets empty. Luckily, no papers of importance were in them. They contained only personal documents, including menacing letters received on the previous day.

The rifling of the lawyer's pockets of the papers and the attempt to steal his wallet, while no effort was made to appropriate his watch or money, is regarded as evidence of a plot in which several men were implicated.

The man who fired the shot, it appears, was only a tool. His impression is gaining ground that he is being hidden by anti-Dreyfus country people. The physicians in attendance upon M. Labori have sent to Paris for an X-ray apparatus in order to locate the bullet in the lawyer's body.

Dreyfus has written two letters to M. Labori. The first, on hearing the news of the attempt to murder the lawyer, is a spontaneous expression of his shocked feelings. The second is a touching epistle expressing the keenest regrets at the disaster, and a profound gratitude to M. Labori for his heroic championship, and heartfelt wishes for his happy recovery.

At 8 o'clock this evening M. Labori was removed in an ambulance to the residence of Prof. Binsch, in a suburb of Rennes. He found the journey well, although naturally fatigued. The doctors are extremely hopeful of a speedy recovery, but consider it would be unwise for him to return to court until there is absolutely no danger of a relapse.

M. Demange has decided to ask for an adjournment which has necessitated a written application by both M. Demange and Captain Dreyfus, who have already sent letters to the president of the court in this regard. Captain Dreyfus will undoubtedly accede to the request, but he cannot grant an adjournment for more than two days, when the application must be renewed.

DEATH FROM GASOLINE.

Terrible Fate of Mrs. Miller—Several Buildings Burned.

Lebanon, Pa., Aug. 15.—By an explosion of gasoline in the cottage of Charles Rettew, of Harrisburg, on the United Street car meeting grounds at Mt. Gretna, at 5 o'clock this evening, Mrs. William Miller, of Harrisburg, was so badly burned that death followed shortly after she had been carried into a neighbor's cottage. Mrs. Miller's daughter, Gertrude, was slightly burned.

Mrs. Miller, whose husband is a passenger engineer on the Pennsylvania railroad, was a visitor at the Rettew cottage. It is supposed that she picked up a bucket filled with gasoline, thinking it was water, and placed it on the stove. The explosion followed, setting fire to her clothing and the cottage. She was dragged out of the building by two young men who were passing at the time, while the others in the house made their escape out of the front door. The Rettew cottage is situated on Sixth street. In a short time it was in a blaze and the flames quickly communicated to adjoining cottages, fourteen of which were totally destroyed, while from ten to fifteen others were badly scorched. Those destroyed and scorched are on Fifth and Sixth streets, between Glassboro and Otterbein avenues. A message was sent to this city for fire engine, chief engineer ordered Persinger steam engine and hose cart to arrive at once. The Curran and Lebanon railroad had a special train waiting and forty minutes after receiving the message the engine was on the ground at Mt. Gretna doing effective work. Most of the destroyed cottages were owned by residents of Harrisburg, Steelton and this city. Mr. Rettew is a conductor on the Pennsylvania railroad. The loss on the cottages is fully $20,000.

PECK'S POND TRAGEDY.

Coroner's Jury Hears Testimony.

Bridgeport, Conn., Aug. 15.—At today's session of the coroner's jury that is investigating the Pecks Mill pond trolley car accident which killed twenty-nine persons, William Kelly, a young man who testified before the jury, was brought into the court room under arrest charged with perjury. In his testimony last week Kelly testified that he was a passenger on the car at the time of the accident and described in detail the scene just before the car fell into the water. He testified that he saw the effort of the motorman to stop the car and also his sensations when he fell from the car into the mud in the bed of the pond. His testimony was highly favorable to the company, being to the effect that the car was running slowly.

Patrick J. Clark, the next day testified that Kelly was not on the car at all and in court today Mr. Clark and his son told substantially the same story, to the effect that Kelly was sitting in a carriage on the highway at the time of the accident.

WRECK OF A BRIDGE.

Structure on the Milwaukee Destroyed by Dynamite.

Iron Mountain, Mich., Aug. 15.—The Milwaukee railroad bridge was wrecked by dynamite. Men hunting for the bodies of M. Swanson and Carl Rylander, who were drowned on Sunday, decided to use dynamite to bring them to the surface. One charge of sixty sticks of the explosive was placed in the water directly under the bridge, which is of iron and eighty feet high. The explosion shot a stream of water 150 feet high through the iron structure, tearing loose the rails on both sides of the track, a distance of twenty feet. The bridge split and shattered and one was broken in two. Two lengths of steel rails were twisted into a shapeless mass. Just before the explosion occurred the passenger train from Milwaukee crossed the bridge.

PRESIDENT ADDRESSES CATHOLIC STUDENTS

PATRIOTIC SPEECH MADE TO PUPILS AT CLIFF HAVEN.

Mr. McKinley Pleased by the Welcome Given by Father Lavelle's Pupils—He Acknowledges Their Courtesy and Pays Tribute to the Nation's Flag—Enthusiastic Applause.

Plattsburgh, N. Y., Aug. 15.—President McKinley, accompanied by Private Secretary Cortelyou, left Hotel Champlain this morning at 11 o'clock and was driven down to the auditorium on the grounds of the summer school at Cliff Haven, on Lake Champlain. A triumphal arch of evergreens interlaced with American flags had been erected at the entrance to the grounds and the auditorium and many of the stages on the grounds had been gaily decorated with flags and bunting in honor of the president's visit. The road from the hotel to the summer school grounds was lined with people anxious to get a glimpse of the president. As the president entered the auditorium the spectators arose and sang a song composed for the occasion and set to the music of Donizetti's "El Puritain." Rev. M. J. Lavelle, president of the Catholic summer school, introduced President McKinley. Father Lavelle's speech was frequently interrupted by hearty applause and when during the course of his remarks he predicted that "many millions of people recently brought under our protection would make American citizens as loyal, as sturdy and as true as those that are here today," the audience cheered enthusiastically.

As President McKinley rose the audience applauded, cheered, waved flags, sang hymns, and passed articles till he made a motion for them to be quiet. He had not intended to speak. In fact this is the first invitation to appear in public that he has accepted since he arrived at the hotel. But the warmth of the greeting which was accorded him excited him to change his mind, he said.

President's Speech.

Father Lavelle, members of the Catholic Summer School, Ladies and Gentlemen: I had not intended to say a word but I cannot sit in silence. We have witnessed this splendid demonstration of your good will and appreciation. I cannot forbear to give expression to my very high appreciation of our nation's youth. You have given me here today, and the more than grateful words of commendation uttered by your president. Whatever the government of the United States has accomplished since I last met you here has been because the hearts of the people have been with the government of the United States. Our patriotic and sectional nor sectarian. We may differ in our political and religious beliefs, but we are united for country. Loyalty to the government is our national duty. We follow, all of us, one flag. It symbolizes our purposes and our aspirations; it represents what we believe, and what we mean to do. The flag of our nation is the flag of the free, the hope of the oppressed, and wherever it is assailed at any sacrifice, it will be carried to a triumphant end. We have our flags here in this hall. We have our flags here in our hearts. I saw them carried by the little ones of your own age, and I saw them carried by the men of your own age. I saw them carried by the men of your own age. I saw them carried by the men of your own age. I saw them carried by the men of your own age.

Enthusiastic Applause.

The cheering which interrupted his speech at this point fairly shook the roof, and he was unable to make himself heard for nearly a minute. At the close of the president's speech the audience joined in singing "The Star Spangled Banner," and they sang it with a will. The audience then formed in line and filed across the stage and shook hands with Mr. McKinley. The president and Father Lavelle then left the building and walked around the grounds, the president and Mr. Cortelyou re-entered their carriage and were driven back to the hotel.

The horse was killed, carriage wrecked and all three instantly killed. The bodies were terribly mangled, being dragged for some distance. Hassler was hard of hearing.

HARRITY IS MUM.

Not Prepared to Talk on Politics at Present.

Philadelphia, Aug. 15.—Former Democratic National Committee member William F. Harney, of this city, who has just returned from Saratoga Springs, N. Y., where he had been attending a reported political conference of leading Democrats now at that place, said: "I went with my family to Saratoga simply for the purpose of spending a brief vacation there. While there I attended no political conferences whatsoever in fact, no such conferences were held. Not immaterially there were some informal talks whenever two or three Democrats happened to meet at the same time, but in so far as I have knowledge of the subject, there was at no time any discussion as to candidates. The uppermost thought in the minds of those whom I casually met there was the hope that the Democratic national convention in 1900 would pursue such a conservative course that all the Democratic and anti-Republican political tendencies might cordially and enthusiastically support the platform and the candidate. This disposition was manifested by those who believed in free coinage of silver as well as those who oppose it."
