PITTSTON NEWS.

The Councilmen Are Now on a Strike.-The Board of Health Meets. Other Crisp Locals About the City.

Last eight the city clark was in his place in the council chamber at the accustomed hour and patiently waiting for the members that never came, which would have constituted a quorum for the transaction of business, and very much of it, as this is the third time since the serving of the injunctions that this same thing happened. There were plenty of members in the vicinity, but they could not be induced to occupy their accustomed seats, and one of them, when questioned about this unusual procedure, cooly remarked that he was advised to Chairman McDonough, who worked tooth and nail for the William street sewer, has landed himself into a neat, easy job and is now boss of the gang that is doing the work upon it. Last night he came up to the council chamber, and, baring his head, scanned over the scattered members who were here, there and nowhere, and addressing the clerk, requested him to ascertain if there was a quorum present. There was no opportunity for him to declare an adjournment from the fact that they had not been legally called

The board of health held an adfourned meeting last evening at the office of Dr. Hill. There were several complaints entered by citizens in regard to nuisances about their properties. Samuel Williams was one of them, and he stated about the unsanitary condition of the sewer opening at the corner of Main and Butler streets. Abel Beynon, who owns property on Lambert street, was given five days to remove the accumulated water upon his property. There were thirty-one deaths last month; twenty-one nuisances reported and twenty-eight abated, and $26,25 collected. The health officer's monthly report was read and filed.

Even After a Camera Had Been Used to Catch the Thief.

"Tulk about your Lady and the Tiger enigmas!" exclaimed a young actuary of this city. "I struck something in that line when I first started in bustness that has bothered me ever since. I had gone up to a country town to straighten out a set of books for a merchant, and, as a matter of amusement, took along a 4x5 hand camera. The merchant was a deacon in church and strait-leced. I put up at his house and after I'd been there a day or two I noticed that the contents of a bottle of whiskey which I had hidden in a little closet had mysteriously servant, and, without, saving anything, I set a trap by so arranging my camera in the close that the open ing of the door would snap the shut-ter. The light was first rate and I went away purposely in the afternoon to give the pilferer a chance. When came back the trap had sprung and the whiskey half gone. . carried the camera in high giee to the deacon, being careful to explain, in connection with my story, that I had the liquor for medicinal purposes only. The old man looked grave. 'You haven't seen the plate yet?" he asked. 'No, sir,' I replied. Til have to develop it first. 'Weil, I'd rather you wouldn't,' he said, after a long pause. There are a num-ber of people in this household and you can't tell what complications it might lead to-if the darkey took the stuff it don't amount to much, and If it was somebody else I'd prefer not to know. I wish you'd give me the plate and let me destroy it.' Of course, I had to comply, but I played rather a him the plate just exposed I handed him one from the rear of the camera's magazine and he immediately smashed it to pieces on the hearth. I could hardly control my curiosity during the rest of my stay and as soon as 1 reached home I rushed at once to my dark room and out the glass into the developer. What do you think I found? The shy old deacon You'll have to guess again. I had an excellent picture of the deacon's sister, who was a lovely, refined, old maiden lady, with the sweetest disposition in the world. In my surprise I almost dropped the plate, and I have been nonplussed ever since, Did she open the door by chance, and did the negro come along afterward? Or was she geeting the liquor for some one else? Or was there-possibly a -but, pshaw, there are too many intricate questions involved. I have been sorry a hundred times I didn't follow the deacon's suggestion."

HOW WORRY KILLS.

The Process Not Yet Understood, But It Works Upon the Heart, Arteries and Kidneys.

From Youths' Companion. We often hear of men who are said to have died of overwork, but it is safe to assume that in nine out of ten of such cases there had been no overwork at all. That too much work has killed some people is not to be doubted, but this does not alter the fact that work pure and simple is one of the rarest causes of death. The mischief often is done with the worry that goes with the work and is mistaken

We do not yet understand the process by which worry undermines the gen-eral health, induces disease of the heart, of the arteries and of the kidneys, or kills a man before his time; but thatit does do such things is a fact only too well established.

It is true that worry often leads a person to practices which are in themselves injurious, such as overindulgence in alcohol or tobacco, or perhaps the use of opium or cocaine or chloral; pay today, while the Newton Coal com- and disease and death are often atworry. But these will not explain the disaster in all cases.

It may be objected despairingly that, if worry is slow suicide, then almost none of us can escape. Very few men with moving pictures was a clean cut can be found who have no unfilled deentertainment, and the audience was sires which they are striving to gratify, or who are absolutely secure of the future in that they may give literal peated tenight. The young lad who heed to the Biblion command to take

But this forethought is not worrymerely incertitude, prudent care for the fotre, or even slight anxiety. Harass-Owen Keenley, of Wilkes-Barre, was ing anxiety, impatient expectation, disin the city yesterday furthering the proportionate fear of the unknown; this is worry, and this is what causes the heart to struggle, the kidneys to contract, the arteries to weaken and the mind to fail.

No one who is not given to worry can conceive of the power which the will freely admit the excellence of the advice not to worry, but he will add that it is impossible to follow it. This is true only in a measure and in a few cases. Barring instances of exceptional trouble, of extraordinary "hard luck," almost every one can by resolute determination reduce his worry within living limits.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review. New York, Aug. 16.—The violent raid made upon the values in securities by the bear element yesterday furnished material for its own remedy in the shape of uncovered contracts on the short side. There was a flerce contest in the early dealings to break up prices further, the bears continuing to center their attack on Brooklyn Transit and the local tractions stocks. Other members of the group proved more vulnerable than Brooklyn Transit, in which powerful support by inside interest was forthcoming, while Metropolitan Street railway and Manhattan lead easily. The best efforts of the bears only carried Brooklyn Transit a shade below yesterday's figure and friends of the stock were apparently ready to take all that was offered. The continuance of the aggressive bull movement in low-down trick. Instead of giving American tobacco and strength in United States leather helped to the discomfiture of the early bear movement. When appearances began to indicate that the bear campaign was short lived there was a movement to cover. The strength embraced a very limited portion of the general list and the high priced stocks continued neglected and rather heavy. Railroads in the southern region were generally strong on the general good business conditions and industrials expansion in that region. Louisville lead, on account of the reports of large current earnings for that road and rose an extreme 1%. The declaration of a 1 per cent. dividend on C. & O. stock, and first in the history of the present company, helped the movement. Atchison preferred was strong on the reports of continued large cutting down of operating expenses. The condition of the money market here showed an easier tendency again and some New York banks were reported to be bidding for commercial paper for the first time in several weeks. Sterling exchange rose in sympathy in spite of the continued hardening tendency in London. The late raids by the bears today came with the appearance of realizing sales in the tobacco stocks. They attacked those stocks, wiping out the earlier gains and forced sugar down to 157% and other industrials a less amount. Meantime Southern Pacific continued its advance to 37. This made the close active and very irregular, the railroad stocks which have advanced yielding only a small fraction. The majority of stocks, however, are lower. Total sales, 568,- Changes in bonds are small and irregular. Total sales par value, $2,159,000. United States new 4s advanced 1/4 and the old 4s registered 14 in the bid price. Quetations furnished by CARRINGTON CUSACK, stock and bond brokers,

A Klondike Cure.

A Sullivan man whose young son had had symptoms of Klondike fever effered him the necessary thousand with which to start if he could transport 2,000 pounds of paving blocks overland to Hardwood Hill, on the airline road, between Feb. 18 and March 30, without the aid of herses, giving him the privilege of all the hand sleds he desired and three square meals, State-of-Maine and woman-cooked, every day. The young man looked at the blocks, then to the east, shook his head and de-cided to go to school.—Lewiston Journal.
