DISORDERLY HOUSE RAIDED.

Eight Persons Rounded Up in a Lackawanna Avenue Res't. A disorderly house on Lackawanna avenue, next to the Delaware and Hudson station, was raided about 4 o'clock yesterday morning and eight men and women rounded up after quite an exciting time. Lieutenant Davis and Patrolmen Day, Noyes and Phillips were the officers who made the raid. When they had entered the house they found that two of the men had escaped. One of these, Jack Jones, the proprietor, ran past the officers down the stairs, but was finally retaken in the Delaware and Hudson yard. The other man had taken to the roof and Patrolman Lona Day started valiantly after him with a kerosene lamp in his hand. The fellow was hiding and Lona started in pursuit. He happened to let his eyes fall to the roof and found that one of his feet was stepping into the empty air over the passageway between the depot and the building. He quickly stepped back, and soon captured his prisoner. There is a sheer drop of over thirty feet here and he had taken the misstep there might have been a military funeral for the pride of Company D. In police court yesterday morning Jack Jones, the proprietor, was sent to the county jail for thirty days in default of the $50 fine imposed. His wife, Emma Jones, and Daisy Richardson, Mary McBride and Sadie Ellis, inmates, could not pay the $5 demanded and went up for ten days. Charles White, one of the men, paid a $10 fine, but the other two, William Smith and W. H. Daltor, had no money and will spend the next twenty days in the "county."

HE PULLED A REVOLVER.

Barber Got Excited and Was Going to Shoot His Employee. Fred Brauer, who keeps a barber shop on Spruce street, was before Alderman Millar on a charge of pointing a revolver and threatening to shoot preferred by D. C. Evans, employed by him as a barber. Mr. Evans is having all kinds of exciting experiences these days as he is the man who was sandbagged on lower Lackawanna avenue Sunday morning. He says that Brauer paid him off and that he objected to the amount received. He was showing a man when he demonstrated with Brauer and that the latter rushed to a drawer, pulled a revolver therefrom and threatened to shoot him if he did not leave the shop. The alderman thought that Mr. Brauer was a little too premature and held him in $300 bail for appearance at court.

Beautiful Scenery.

The Lake Shore Railroad passes through the most beautiful scenery in the State. The trip from New York to Buffalo is made over the tracks of the New York Central Railroad, for a long distance along the banks of the "Historic Hudson," and through the most beautiful portion of the State. The route is one of the finest in the world. It is one of the most fertile vineyards and fields of New York and Pennsylvania. From Cleveland to Chicago are also to be found points of great interest and from Air Line Junction in Butler is one of the longest stretches of perfectly straight tracks in the world, a distance of 69 miles, through which the Lake Shore family flies. An interesting book describing the route in detail may be had on application to the General Passenger Agent at Cleveland, Ohio.

AS ARCHITECTS SEE THE SITUATION

ALL AGREE THERE IS A GREAT DEPRESSION.

They Do Not Agree as to the Cause, However—Some Allege That It Is Due to the Strike While Others Are of the Opinion That the Depression Would Have Materialized Strike or No Strike—No Change is Expected This Year—Some Interesting Interviews.

For the purpose of ascertaining the exact condition of the building trades in this city at the present time, a Tribune man interviewed several of the leading architects of the city yesterday afternoon. What they had to say on the subject and their opinions as to the future outlook are given below. John Davey, of Davey & Gross, said: "There is no doubt but that the building trade in this city at the present time is in a very depressed condition. It is in all probability due to the carpenters' strike, and I am of the opinion that if a compromise were effected that there would be quite a boom before winter. While we have a large amount of work on hand at the present time outside the strike, there is only one job being done under our supervision in the city at the present time. That is being done by a member of the Builders' Exchange."

DANGEROUS WORK.

Linden Street Sewer Is Being Given a Cleaning.

Street Commissioner O'Boyle yesterday set a gang of men at work cleaning out the big Linden street sewer from Adams avenue to Millin avenue. It is the first time, as far as the commissioner knows, that the sewer has ever been cleaned. Clusters, sticks, stones and other debris have been deposited on the bottom to a depth of a foot in some places and if not removed would in time clog the sewer. This work is not only difficult, but hazardous. The bottom had to be shoveled into buckets, carried to a manhole and lifted to the surface. Six men working in three shifts do the work inside the sewer. The two who load the buckets have to work in water up to their knees. The flow is very swift and should they be overcome by gas or otherwise lose their footing, would be carried away, possibly to the river. To guard against this each man has a stout rope secured about his waist, the other end of which is held by a companion located at the bottom of the manhole. The shifts are changed every hour, the heat, foul air and stooping position which the four-foot sewer requires the men to maintain makes it very trying work. It will probably take a week to complete the job.

YOUNG PEOPLE RUN DOWN

Accident on the Erie and Wyoming Valley Railroad at the Dunmores Borough Line.

Hubert Fitzpatrick, a young man residing at 411 Monroe avenue, was run down, and perhaps fatally injured, about 9:30 o'clock Tuesday night by an Erie and Wyoming Valley passenger train. Fitzpatrick and Miss Margaret Barrett, a young woman to whom he is engaged to marry, were strolling along the tracks near their homes. Near a bridge that spans a stream at Monroe avenue, they sat down. When the train came along, bound for the Washington avenue station, they arose, and when it passed resumed their seats on the track. The train returned in a short time, but neither of them noticed it. The engine crashed into them. Fitzpatrick was dragged across the bridge, and Miss Barrett was sent tumbling down the embankment. After crossing the bridge the young man was released from his awful position. The train was stopped, and he was removed to his home. Dr. Thompson was called, and upon examination learned that Fitzpatrick was dangerously hurt. He was removed to the Scranton Private hospital for treatment. His condition last night was serious. Two ribs are broken, and one of them has penetrated a lung. Miss Barrett escaped with slight bruises, but is confined to her room, suffering from nervous prostration.

FOR PASSING COUNTERFEITS.

Nanticoke Man Arrested by Deputy Marshall Lowry. Deputy United States Marshall Clark Lowry on Monday arrested Joe Barnowski, of Nanticoke, for passing two counterfeit silver dollars. They were given in payment on a watch Barnowski bought of Charles H. Kulp. The prisoner says he received the spurious coin from a fellow countryman. They are a very poor counterfeit. Commissioner Hahn committed Barnowski to jail.

BURGLARS AT WAVERLY.

They Entered the Store of A. B. Cowles & Co. The general store of A. B. Cowles & Company at Waverly was burglarized Tuesday night. Entrance was gained to the store by removing a pane of glass. The safe was blown open and a dollar of good currency was taken, likewise a counterfeit $5 bill and two silver dollars. Dry goods and other merchandise were also taken. There is not any clue to the burglars.

INJURED IN THE MINE.

A "Feather Edge" Fell on Barney Ravnskey in the Manville Mine. Barney Ravnskey, employed in the Manville mine as a laborer, was injured while at work yesterday. A piece of coal from a portion of the roof termed the "feather edge" fell on him. The man was removed to the Lackawanna hospital, where it was ascertained that his injuries consisted of slight bruises.

FIREMEN'S CONVENTION NOTES

The souvenir book, to be published by the executive committee of the state firemen's convention, will probably be the most comprehensive and complete publication ever issued by the firemen of this or any other state. It will embody a full history up to date of both the National and State Firemen's associations—together with biographical sketches of the lives of representative firemen throughout the state. The proceedings of the convention will also be given in full and to furnish a full and correct and authoritative of the city of Scranton, its industries and the leading business and professional men will be given. Such being the fact, it behooves our merchants and citizens generally to aid the executive committee in every way they can to make this souvenir book a grand success, for it will not only be typical of the Electric City and its fire department, but probably also the voluminousness of the last firemen's convention to be held in the city of Scranton. It will be retained by all as a lasting memento of the occasion.

REUNION AT NAY AUG PARK.

It Will Be Held There on August 29. The annual reunion of the One Hundred and forty-third regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, will be held Aug. 29 in this city. Owing to the illness of Mrs. Gilbert Kelley, of Wyoming and her advanced age, the one hundred and forty-third meeting at her home has been abandoned and the association of the One Hundred and forty-third regiment and friends will meet at Nay Aug Park at 10 a. m., where the thirty-third annual reunion will be held in the main pavilion. All comrades and the public are cordially invited to attend. The annual address will be delivered in the afternoon by the orator of the day, John R. Jones, district attorney of Lackawanna county. The poet, C. H. Chamberlin of the Wilkes-Barre Leader, will deliver an original poem. The program will be an interesting one. Many prominent comrades and citizens will make street addresses and there will be camp songs.

DIDN'T CALL NAMES OF SAUL AND DYER

BOTH PATROLMEN GO ON THEIR BEATS NEVERTHELESS.

They Intend That if the Mayor Is to Dismiss Them for Political Reasons That the Public Shall Know It—If They Resigned at the Mere Request of the Mayor It Would Give the Inference, They Feel, That They Are Conscious of Some Wrong-Doing. Patrolmen James Saul and Stephen Dyer do not propose to "resign" without a struggle. Both of them reported for duty last night and went out on their respective beats, although the intentions of their squads did not read their names at roll call. After taking counsel with their friends yesterday they decided that it would not be just to themselves to hand in their resignations. "We do not want to leave the force," one of them said to a Tribune reporter yesterday, "and it could hardly be expected that we would resign for the mere purpose of suiting somebody's convenience. Then, again, if we resigned without a protest the public would have reason to think we are under some cloud and that we would prefer to meekly submit to dismissal than court the preferring charges and an investigation. If the mayor wants to get rid of us he will have to take some other methods. If he has any charges against us he should make temporary appointments for a period not exceeding thirty days without the approval of council.

ACTING PATROLMEN.

Whether or not the mayor will take advantage of this provision to appoint and re-appoint his nominees as acting patrolmen until such time as council confirms them remains to be seen. For other patrolmen are said to be booked for dismissal as soon as Saul and Dyer are disposed of.

DYER FELL IN LINE.

When the night force assembled at headquarters last evening at 7:15 o'clock Patrolman Dyer was present in full uniform and with badge, club and dinner ticket. Lieutenant Davis called the roll and as each man's name was announced he took his place in the line. Patrolman Dyer's name was not read, but he took his place with the others, nevertheless, and when they formed to march to their several beats fell in behind and followed them to their respective beats. Patrolman Dyer was still patrolling there. The mayor will likely send to select council tonight notice of their having been removed for cause and nominations of two men to succeed them. What the outcome will be cannot be safely guessed. The recent decision in the Harrisburg case seems to give the mayor power to remove officers without consulting select council. He cannot, however, appoint successors without the advice and consent of the council, but there is a proviso in the law permitting him to make temporary appointments for a period not exceeding thirty days without the approval of council.

PLANS FOR THE Y. M. C. A.

A Number of City Architects Are Working on Them. The prime contest for the best set of plans offered for the new Y. M. C. A. building has stimulated a number of local architects with enthusiasm and seven of them are working on the plans. Those who have entered the contest are: Messrs. Duckworth, Davis, Blackwood, Williams, Morris, Lacey and Snyder. Several of these are of the opinion that if the stipulations which the board of directors demand are all included in the building that it will cost nearly $300,000 instead of $150,000.
