

HAPPENINGS IN NORTH SCRANTON

PRESENT WRETCHED CONDITION OF N. MAIN AVENUE.

Bicyclists Who Cannot Ride in the Street Are Frequently Arrested for Riding on the Sidewalk—Mrs. Grady Sent to the County Jail. Young Boy Injured—Dr. Bower Kicked by a Horse—Other News Items and Personal Notes.

As a result of the failure to pave North Main avenue, that thoroughfare is now in an abominable condition. No one suffers from this wretched condition of affairs more than do wheelmen. Oftentimes to escape the mud puddles, stones and other obstructions, they have ridden upon the sidewalks. In accordance with their instructions, the police have frequently arrested these violators of the city ordinance and taken them before the alderman to be fined.

The wheelmen have enlisted the sympathies of many of the residents of Main avenue who fail to see the justice in the city calling for a rigid enforcement of this ordinance while the street is in such a condition, owing to the failure of a paving company to fill its contract other than to distribute curbstones in the gutters of the street, although the time for the completion of the pave is now past.

A COMMON SCOLD. At last the neighbors of Mrs. Ellen Grady, of Parker street, have been successful in placing her in jail on the charge of being a common scold. Within the past year she has been arrested on this charge several times but each time the case was settled during or immediately after the trial.

Yesterday Alderman Fidler sent her to jail in default of $300 bail on the information of Mrs. Sarah McGuire.

YOUNG LAD INJURED. An eight-year-old son of Thomas Carding, of Willow street, had his foot badly lacerated yesterday afternoon. He was playing around the cars running on the Marine branch of the Delaware and Hudson railroad, when he fell and had his right foot run over before the train could be stopped.

Dr. Sullivan was called and dressed the injury, but it is thought that it will be necessary to amputate the toes today.

NEWS ITEMS. Dr. E. Z. Bower received a painful cut on his leg last night by a kick from his horse. He was driving near his home on Church avenue, when the horse kicked, destroying the dashboard of the carriage and hitting the doctor. Breaking away from the carriage, the horse ran a couple of blocks.

EVENTS OF DAY IN WEST SCRANTON

PROF. AND MRS. PROTHEROE VISITING RELATIVES HERE.

Marrriage of Miss Jennie Evans, of Hampton Street, to Thomas J. Davis, of South Main Avenue. Death of Mrs. Anna Saunders. Meeting of Woman's Missionary Society—Boys Placed Under Arrest for Despoiling Fruit Trees. Two Exciting Runaways in This Part of the City.

Prof. Daniel Protheroe and wife, of Milwaukee, Wis., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Harris, of Elyon street, Mrs. Protheroe's parents.

Prof. Protheroe left here some years ago for Milwaukee and since he has taken up his residence in that city has been rapidly forging ahead. Recent advices from the western city tell of Prof. Protheroe's success. He has lately been elected leader of the Arion club, one of the best musical organizations in the west. Mr. Protheroe after establishing himself in Milwaukee organized the famous Lyric Glee club.

The Milwaukee Sentinel of July 19 has the following to say: "At a meeting of the Arion's last evening Daniel Protheroe was unanimously elected conductor, and so far as the public is concerned, the Lyric club, of which Mr. Protheroe has been conductor, and the Arion are consolidated into one musical society. Each organization, however, will be maintained for other purposes than for giving public musical entertainments. This arrangement has been endorsed by both the Arion and the members of the Lyric club.

Daniel Protheroe, who has been elected conductor of the Arion, has been a resident of Milwaukee since October 1894, when he came here from Scranton, Pa. He was born at Ystradgynlais, South Wales, and early developed a talent for music. In his native land as a child of 5 years of age he won several prizes at the Welsh singing festivals. Later he studied vocal music and piano playing with Dr. Joseph Parry, Dyfud Lewis and Carson Price, and composition and orchestration with Dudley Buck. He has a senior honor certificate from Trinity college, London, England, associate of the Society of Science, Letters and Art, London, and a musical bachelor of Toronto university, Toronto, Canada. He came to the United States in 1896 and located in Scranton, Pa., where he taught singing and conducted the Cymrodorion Choral society for eight years, coming thence to this city. He is the conductor of the Lyric society of Sheboygan, Wisconsin. He is not only an excellent conductor, singer and teacher, but a successful composer, his works including cantatas for solo, chorus and orchestra, a mass, chorus and songs."

DEATHS AND FUNERALS. Mrs. Anna Saunders, wife of the late George Saunders, died yesterday morning at the home of her mother, Mrs. D. I. Williams, of 1621 Price street. Deceased was born in Wales. For a number of years she was head clerk in the store of J. D. Williams & company on South Main avenue. The deceased was a devoted member of the Tabernacle Congregational church. The funeral services will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from her mother's residence. Interment will be made in Washburn street cemetery.

CAUGHT STEALING FRUIT. For some time past Doctor Hermann, of Scranton street, has been annoyed by a gang of young boys whose ages range from 9 to 12 years. These boys were in the habit of stealing into the doctor's yard in his absence and steal pears. Mrs. Williams, a neighbor residing on the opposite side of the street, was also troubled in a like manner. Yesterday they decided to put an end to it and hired Constable Davis, of Alderman John's court, to secret himself in the yard of Mrs. Williams for a few hours and capture the young thieves. Constable Davis had not been in the yard more than five minutes when he espied the gang of youths bent upon another raid. Davis watched until they came in reach of him and then sprung upon them. They were escorted to the West Main station house.

Last evening Mrs. Williams appeared before Alderman Johns and swore out a warrant for their arrest. Constable Davis made the arrests. Edward Ford, one of the number was given a hearing and held in $200 bail. The others will be given a hearing this evening.

EXCITING RUNAWAY. Two exciting runaways occurred on this side last evening. Luckily, no one was seriously injured.

Philip Schroeder, a clerk employed by Moore, the butcher, was delivering orders last evening in the vicinity of No. 32 school, when the "hold backs" on the buggy broke, frightening the horse. The horse dashed down Main avenue until it came to Rock street, where it collided with a telegraph pole. In company with Mr. Schroeder was his wife and infant child. None were injured, although badly scared. The wagon was badly damaged.

A runaway occurred near the corner of Rock street and Main avenue. A man whose name could not be ascertained was driving along Main avenue in the direction of Taylor and in crossing the track the wheel of his buggy became fastened between the rail and a plank that runs alongside the rail. The horse made one leap, upsetting the buggy and throwing both occupants out. The boy was thrown under the horses feet and the wheels passed over his chest. The boy was slightly injured and removed to his home nearby. The horse was stopped a few blocks away.
