Paris, Aug. 20.—Paris was today the pictures than can never be replaced cene of one of the most serious disturbances, recalling some aspects of the Commune. In response to an appeal of the Journal La Peuple and sacrament and replaced them in the La Petite Republique, groups of anarchists and socialists gathered about 3 o'clock in the afternoon in the Place La Republicque. The police had taken precautions and there seemed no danger of disorders.

Schastion Faure and Faberot, well known revolutionary anarchists, were the ringleaders. Faure standing on the pedestal of the statue which rises in the center of the Place De La Republicque addressed the crowd. Among other things he said that the anarchists should be masters of the streets.

The police then interfered and dislodged Faure and Faberot, making three arrests. The crowd at this point dispersed, but a column of demonstrators, headed by Faure and Henric D'Horr, made for the Place De La Na-and a struggle for the mastery followed. Shots were fired and M. Gullier, commissary of the police, was twice stabbed with a knife. This threw the police into momentary confusion. The mob re-assembled and ran toward the Place De La Nation. The police, reinforced by a squad that had been held in reserve, made an other attempt to stem the current, and a fresh, fierce light occurred, three constables being wounded. Faure and D'Horr jumped into a passing police car that was going to the Place De La Republicque, and the car driver or arriving there gave a signal to the police, who immediately arrested them both together with two other anarcrists, Joseph Jerrier and Jean Perrin. All were conveyed to the Chateau D'Elau barracks. Only D'Horr was and in possession of firearms.

In the meantime the anarchist mob retraced its course to the Place De La Republicane, smashing the windows of religious ediffees on the way. Suddenly, either at the word of command, or in obedience to impulse the command made a loop and curve toward the church of St. Ambroise, where the rioters smashed windows. Proceeding thence toward the Faubore Du Temple, which they reached at the corner of the Rue Darboy and the Rue St. Mour Popincourt, they formed into n compact body. Hatchets were sudnly produced with long knives stolon from the counters of shops and a concerted rush was made upon the

According to the first account the wild horde burst into the church which instantly became a scene of pillage and sacrilege. Altars and statues hurled to the floor and smashed; pietures were tent, candlesticks, ornaents and hosts from high altars were thrown down and trampled under foot The crucifix above was made the tarfor missiles and the figure of the Savior was fractured in several places Then while rancous vbices sang the "Carmagnolet" the chairs were carried outside, piled up and set on fire in the center of the square fronting the

When this stage was reached the crucifix was pulled down and thrown into the flames. Suddenly the cry was raised that the statue of the Virgin had been forgotten and the crowd returned and tore this down also.

Meanwhile the sacristan, who had been captured the anarchists, escaped, and called the police and Republican guards, who promptly arrived, with many constables. were compelled a fall back in order to form up into line of defense, as the anarchists attacked them fearfully with knives. At length the officers began to gain the mastery. Others entrenched themselves in the belfry and fiercely defended themselves by showering missiles on the Republican guards, but finally these were dislodged. GENERAL MERCIER WILL NOT TALK

Rennes, Aug. 20,-General Mercler, who was minister of war when Captain Dreyfus was condemned and who In the present trial is the virtual proseutor, was called upon this afternoon by the correspondent of the Associated Press, who invited him to make a state ment of the position of the anti-Drey-

Although unable to receive the corespondent in person, General Mercier ture of police gives the following statsent his o'dest son to convey the folowing expression of his views:

"General Mercier considers it useless to attempt to convert foreign opinion regarding the Dreyfus question, in which, moreover, foreigners have no right to intervene. Foreign people have een misled by their press, which is violently Dreyfusard, for the very good reason that a majority of the foreign newspapers have been bribed by the Jewish people. General Mercier considers anything he might say explaining his position, which is that of a majority of the French people, would be useless. The best reply to Dreyfusards ents abroad will be the con demnation of Dreyfus. This condemnation is only a matter of ten days or a fortnight, so coneigners will then see that their Journals have deceived them, for they will recognize that the mass of the French nation who will receive the news of the conviction of Dreyfus as joyful tidings s not composed of fools and that if the majority of the French applaud the condemnation, it will be because it is lust and merited." The Associated Press correspondent hen called upon Matire Labori, who lives with two hundred yards of General Mercier, the house of both being guarded by gendarmes and detectives who sit in chairs in the roadway in about the middle of September. front of the houses.

In view of his condition his medical advisers oppose his going to court tomorrow, as he had desired.

They predict that exertion would so overtax his strength as to compel him to take his bed, while he probably would not leave in that event for a month.

Tuesday or Wednesday, therefore, vill probably see his re-appearance in ourt. He will be provided with a specially constructed chair that will enable him to conduct the cross-examination at the outset without rising from his seat.

M. Labort is intensely anxious to return to court, even if he has to be carried there in an ambulance. He dissatisfied with M. Demange's conduct of the case thus far and on his return he intends to have General Merder and the other generals back upon the witness stand. FOUR MEN DEAD.

Fatal Result of a Duel at Shreveport.

Shreveport, La., Aug. 20.-News has just reached here from Lake End. Hatchitoches parish, of a desperate fight between Caille Brown, Robert Lee Brown and Dr. W. H. Glover on one side, and B. G. Freeman on the other Freeman shot to kill and with his first shot Callie Brown and Dr. Glover fell dead upon the floor. The duel occurred in Freeman's store. The third shot from Freeman's revolver felled Robert Lee Brown, who pleaded with Free-man to spare his life. The latter allowed Brown to leave the front door. Brown stepped to the door, firing at Freeman as he went. The latter though wounded, sent a bullet through Brown's breast and both died, leaving our dead men on the floor of the store

All the participants in the duel were nen of high standing. Freeman was a elative of Sheriff Freeman, of Hatchitoches parish. Dr. Glover enjoyed a large practice in the community, and the Brown brothers were men of means and respected. The trouble grew out of an old grudge between Callie Brown ind Freeman. About an hour before the tragedy occurred. Freeman and Callie Brown had a difficulty in which several shots were exchanged, but neither was burt. The men summoned their friends and the fight was renewed with, as stated, fatal results to all of the participants.

Arrest of the Revolutionary Leader Due to General Gomez.

Havana, Aug. 20.-It is asserted that he arrest of General Juan Islder Jiminex, the aspirant to the presidency of San Domingo, who was captured on board a steamer at Cienfuegos yesterday, just as the steamer was about leaving that port, was not caused by orders from Havana, but was effected brough the orders of General James H. Wilson, governor of the consolidated departments of Matanzas and Santa 'lara. Immediately upon learning of the arrest Major General Brooke, gov-ernor general of Cuba, gave orders for the release of the prisoner. The present plans of Jiminez are not known Having missed the steamer on which he had taken passage, he will probably return to Havana. Commenting on the arrest, Diario de la Marina" says that the mayor and police of Cienfuegos refused to carry out the orders given them for the arrest of Jiminez, as they claimed to do so would be to violate a law of the country, and the arrest was made by a customs official. The "Diario" expresses the optnion that the detention of Jiminez was the re sult of a request made to the government at Washington by President Pf guero of San Domingo that suspected filibusters be prevented from leaving Cuba for San Domingo until after the elections in the republic had been held.

The friends of General Jiminez claim have informed the authorities about his departure. It is said that about four months ago Gomez promised Jiminez he would do all to his power help the latter become precident of San Domingo, but that the relations between the two men have since cooled, because of the former's jeulousy. It is now asserted that General Wilson did not give the order of arrest, but merely informed General Brooks that the arrest had been made. body seems to know exactly by what authority Jiminez was taken into cus-
