Superintendent De Puy of the Morris & Essex Division of the Lackawanna Road Talks About the Policy of the Company—His Remarks Are Endorsed by President Truesdale—White Oak Mine at Archbald About to Resume Operations—Conference Will Be Resumed Today.

"There is one thing that we would like the public to understand, and that is this: There is absolutely no foundation for the idle talk and rumors which are prevalent that the new management contemplates another shake-up among the employees of the road," says Superintendent De Puy of the Morris & Essex division of the Lackawanna road.

"I don't know where such rumors originated, but I can authoritatively say that there is absolutely no foundation for such reports.

"The new management did not take charge of the Lackawanna road for the purpose of making a clean sweep of all its employees, or to remove men because they have grown old and gray in the service of the company, or because we thought that they had outlived their usefulness by reason of having been connected with the company for so many years. I know that in many quarters there is a feeling that the many changes which have been made since the new management assumed control, but it is a decidedly false impression.

"The new management does not expect anything further from the employees than that they shall attend strictly to the work assigned to them, and then they can feel reasonably safe and secure in retaining their jobs.

"The sooner the employees understand that the better it will be for themselves and for all concerned. If they would do that and stop conjecturing whether or not the 'decapitation axe will be wielded again,' as stated by one of the newspapers, these employees will have no reason to fear about losing their jobs.

NEED HAVE NO FEAR.

"Therefore, I say the best thing that these men can do is to get right down to work and attend to business, and they need fear nothing. The new management will show them that we are their friends and not enemies; that we did not take charge of the road for the purpose of dispensing with their services and placing Western men in their places, as has also been stated in the newspapers. It may be true that many railroad men who gained their experience in the West have been placed at the head of some of the departments. The new management perhaps had a reason for that, but it does not justify the action that has been taken in the newspapers. We are making a clean sweep and appointing none but Western men along the road.

"It must be remembered that there are several thousand men employed on the Lackawanna road and it would be a nice condition of affairs if it should fill all their places with Western men. Under such circumstances the employees would have good grounds for complaint, but at present we have not given them any cause to complain about their treatment.

"We have striven to treat our employees fairly, justly and in a manner that would not give them the slightest ground for complaint. We will receive any explanation that they may present, and if it is possible or practicable we will strive to modify their complaints. I have seen it stated in the newspapers that the new management was held responsible for issuing a circular asking the employees to send a record of their services with the company. It has been stated that this was done to enable the new management to compare with the services of old employees.

FAR FROM THE TRUTH.

"Nothing in the world was farther from the truth," continued the superintendent, somewhat emphatically. "Such charges are utterly without foundation. The truth of the matter is that such a circular was sent out by former Superintendent Andrew J. Housner before he went out of office, and we have been receiving replies ever since. The new management did not seek or ask for these replies.

"I understand that it was done by Mr. Housner for the purpose of getting a complete record of all the employees, so that promotions could be made in line with their seniority. We know nothing further about these circulars or why they were issued.

"In regard to the employees along the road, such as station masters, gate-men, flagmen, etc., we do not propose to make any further changes except for cause, or where we find that the services of such men are not needed.

"It cannot be expected that a railroad will keep a man whom his services are not needed simply because it is a railroad. We conduct our business like any other corporation. When we don't need men we are compelled to discharge them."

"President Truesdale endorses all that is said by Superintendent De Puy in the above. He says it is the intention of the new management not to make any more changes unless it is absolutely necessary. President Truesdale also confirms the story published last week in this column that the Lackawanna company would construct a third track on the Morris and Essex division between Hoboken and Summit. He does not know when work will be commenced, but plans are now being prepared to establish an express train service and he thinks the third track will be constructed and in operation within a year.

White Oak to Resume Today.

Work will be resumed at the White Oak mine this morning. This will be about ten days earlier than it was expected the mine would be in operation, because it had been announced heretofore that work would not begin before September 1.

All the mines of the company will be in operation on Monday except the slope and the Klondike mines. The slope will, however, soon be working as it was before the breaker was burned. A sheave wheel for hoisting the coal from the mine must yet be fixed in position and when it is work will be started.

The mules have been taken from Carbondale to the company barn here. They were brought here on Tuesday. It is announced positively that the pockets and the building for the preparation of small sizes of coal, now being built on the site of burned White Oak breaker are to be used only temporarily. A new breaker will be built near the Sharpless land in the lower end of the borough. Work may not be begun until next spring. When the breaker is completed it will probably be one of the finest in the valley. The company has so much coal here that it can afford to put up a first-class breaker and it is likely to do so.—Archbald Citizen.

There was another conference Saturday between the engineers of the Lackawanna road and Superintendent Russell at which substantial progress was made in the consideration of the matters at issue.

The conference will be resumed this morning.

Want Foreman Removed.

The employees of the Babylon colliery have gone on strike again and say that they will positively not return until their latest demand is needed. This is that the company remove Mine Foreman McCarthy, who, they claim, has broken the agreement since they returned to work on Tuesday last. The contention is made that McCarthy objected to the removal of extra tipping from a car by one of the men appointed to see that none of the cars contained more than six inches of top coal. It is also alleged that McCarthy struck the men.

Rate War Probable.

A dispatch from Chicago announces that the Erie railroad has announced a rate of $18.45 for the round trip between Chicago and New York. There is at present no round trip between the two cities, the standard one way rate being $20. At the same time corresponding rates will be made from all other points to New York. A rate of $18.35 for the round trip between Cleveland and New York will be made, the one way rate being $18. Between Cleveland and New York a round trip rate of $14 will be made, against a one way rate of $12.

A Fire Which Had Every Appearance of Being of Incendiary Origin, Quickly Extinguished.

Firebugs made an unsuccessful attempt to destroy a barn on Tripp avenue early yesterday morning, but were foiled in their nefarious scheme. The arrival of the fire department, who did effective work and had the blaze under control in ten minutes and quenched in twenty minutes. The barn is situated in the rear of the lot of Mr. and Mrs. Jones Pinnell, of West Drinker street, and formerly was used by the Barton livery stables, and lately occupied by Anthony McDonough. A short time ago, however, the most of the stables were torn down, this part being left standing.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Woodward, of Tripp avenue, whose yard adjoins the one the barn is situated on. She was aroused from her slumbers about 4.15 o'clock by a crackling noise and was listening for the cause when clouds of smoke filled the air and made breathing difficult. An alarm was quickly sounded from Box 21, at the corner of Blakely and Drinker streets, and before the gong had repeated the alarm the third time, Permanent man George Seese, of the Neptune Chemical company, had his team at the scene of the fire, followed a few seconds later by Permanent man John Van Horn, of the Independents. The chemical was brought into use and given a good test as to its usefulness. Twenty-five gallons of chemical compound was used to place the fire under control. No water was used, as it was seen that it was not required.

There is no clue to the guilty party. Shavings and bags were the articles used in starting the blaze in a corner of the barn, near several other sheds in the yard.
