A GREAT GAIN.

Even if unity were to be accomplished only among the non-Catholic bodies, it would be a great gain. The ministers and their families would be better housed, better fed, better clothed and better provided for in every way, and besides all this the community not having exhausted their

DEATH OF MRS. THOMAS.

Mother of Postmaster John Thomas, of Carbondale.

Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas, better known as Mrs. Betsey Thomas, died at her home in Carbondale Sunday evening at 6 o'clock, aged 85 years. She had enjoyed good health nearly all of her long life, but this summer the weight of years began to bear heavy on her, and her wonderful constitution and constant good nature were compelled to give way to the hand of dissolution. and she had to give up her gentle spirit to the God who gave it. was born at Llangranog, Cardigan-shire, South Wales, Aug. 24, 1814. She emigrated to this country in 1836 and lived at Long Island for some years, after which she moved to Dundaff. Susquehanna county, and settled in Carbondale in 1842. She was, therefore, e of the every oldest residents of Carbondale and has been prominent in very much good work and in deeds of charity the last fifty-seven years. She was a member of the Welsh Congregational church of Carbondale for upward of fifty years, but for the last few years was a member of the Welsh Calvinistic Methodist church, as the Congregational church had given up the Welsh language and are conducting their services in English.

She enjoyed her mother tongue to the very last, and was most constant in her attendance at divine services until she became feeble, and even afterwards was faithful, for she had services brought to her own home and ommunion frequently atministered; She was always most liberal in her contributions to the church and to all charitable objects, and as a matter of actual fact gave away nearly all she had to objects of this kind. She was ever ready to go to the help of any one in trouble. She was well known for these things all the days of her life, and any one in any kind of trouble in Carbondale always knew where to go to get help and that was to Betsy Thomas. She was the mother of a very large family of children, four of whom survive her. They are John H. MOUNT LOOKOUT AGAIN.

Big Breaker of Temple Iron Company at Wyoming Entirely Destroyed by Fire Yesterday Morning.

The Temple Iron company's Mount Lookout breaker at Wyoming was igain totally destroyed by fire yestersay morning. It was one of the largest and best equipped breakers in the whole anthracite region and was valued at $125,000. Insurance to the amount of $95,000 was carried in varous companies.

The origin of the fire is not known. The flames were discovered at 6:30 In screen room. The watchman had the alarm sounded and the fire companies of Wyoming, Pittston and West Pittston responded, but they could do nothing except defend other collicry dings, which they did successfully. The hoisting plane leading from the shaft to the breaker was also destroyed and the iron portion of it over the P., L. & W. tracks fell and blocked traffic until late in the afternoon. Passengers were transferred until the debris was cleared away and the rails

No one was at work about the breaker at the time as the day shift had not come on. There were men in the mines but the shaft being located several hundred feet from the breaker they were not in any danger.

The burned breaker was creeted three years ago to replace the one destroyed by fire on the evening of Jan. 6, 1896. It was a double structure being a breaker and culm washery combined. Both were equipped with the best modern machinery and was looks ed upon by coal men as one of the show places of the anthracite region.

There were between 1,000 and 1,200 men on the pay roll of the colliery and nearly all of these will be thrown idle by the destruction of the breaker. The company will rebuild just as soon as the insurance is adjusted. The company will accommodate as many of its men as possible at its six other co-l lieries while the breaker is being re-

AN ADDRESS ON CHRISTIAN UNITY

DELIVERED BY A. D. HOLLAND AT WAVERLY.

He Took the Layman's Point of View in Discussing the Subject-It Would Be a Great Gain if Christian Unity Could Be Brought About. Ministers Would Be Better Cared for and There Would Be More Money to Expend for Charity and the Spread of the Gospel.

Christian Unity from the Standwas the topic of oint of a Layman, ' very interesting address given by A. Holland, of this city, in the Waverly Methodist Episcopal church, Sunday Below we give the main points which it contained:

I do not pretend to know any mor about Christian unity than any man might know, and perhaps I do no ago God more fully revealed himself to man by taking our nature into the Godhead. The blessed Christ was born Mother of Cod, because her Son is God. This Divine Child was brought up in the Jewish church and was obe ent unto its laws,

At the age of thirty years He tered upon His holy ministry. He founded a church which was to embrace all, as He died for all, It was to last until the consummation of all things, and He has promised it His presence until the end of the world. Instead of the bloody sacrifice of the old law, the Christian church was to continually offer the unbloody sacriice of the new, which we know as the "Lord's Supper," or "Holy Com-munion," or "Holy Eucharist," o nunion." or "Holy Eucharist." or The Mass." which latter has been the common name for hundreds of years and is more inclusive than any of the others. He gave the church a ministry in three orders known as bishops priests and deacons. The first of these might be called superintendents of overseers, or angels just as well. No

for the order, This church we may say had its birth on the day of Pentecost, which Is now celebrated throughout the English speaking part of the Christian world as "Whitsun Day." A large number were initiated into the church on this day, "and they all continued steadfastly in the Apostles' doctrine," which is the creed and the Apostles' fellowship, which is the church, and in the "breaking of bread and prayers," which is the Holy Eucharist. It will be seen from this outline that the rection of the blessed Lord, and that after His resurrection and before His ascension. He gave directions concerning it. Ten days after His asdown from heaven to abide with the church and today we live under his dispensation

THE VOICE OF GOD. The united voice of the church has always been believed to be the voice of God. In proof of this, look at its creed; no considerable number of per think of changing it. Although the hurch has three creeds, we speak of them as one, because they all speak the same thing. They do not contra-dict each other. They represent the united voice of the church and were proclaimed at different times to meet the rising heresies of the day which threatened to corrupt the faith of the faith are merely human inventions, and may be changed, and have been from time to time, but the faith of the church must be like God, its Author, the same yesterday, today and forever. It may be restated, as it has

It is estimated that there are now more than two hundred so-called Christian denominations in the world; more than one hundred of which exist in our own country. For the most part they were established to gratify the vanity or ambition of some man or woman. They are for the most part also the result of division and subdivision of bodies already existing apart from the historic church. There are six distinct hodies of Adventists, thirteen of Baptists, seventeen of of Methodists, twenty of Lutherans and twelve of Presbyterians. besides many others too numerous to of course, no one would pretend that any necessary or important truth caused these bodies to so divide and subdivide. Comparatively few living were concerned in establishing any of these bodies, and we may well thank God that we had no part or bot in the matter, but we shall not be entirely blameless before God if we do not do what lies in our power to bring back that lost unity for which the Savior of the world prayed so earn-estly. Let us emphasize the importance of the old maxim. "In essentials unity, in non-essentials liberty, and in all things charity."

MEETING OF IMPORTANCE. These separate bodies have nothing of their own in the way of doctrine which even they themselves consider important or necessary truth. Happily many of them hold a large part of the fundamental truth of Christianity They do not credit the historic church with having preserved and handed down, from generation to generation, this truth which they hold so precious. They say they have learned it from the Word of God. Now this same Word of God declares that the church is its "witness and keeper" and that church is "the pillar and ground the church should be out of harmony with the Word of God. The doctrines now contained in the creed she taught everywhere before the new testament was written, and you will observe that the greater part of the new Testament was written to the church, or is a record of its work. The church is now unhappily divided, but its united voice is still heard in the world: I believe in one God, the Father Al-nighty," and "I believe in one Catholic and Apostolic Church," and we may not refuse to listen without assuming grave responsibility therefor.

Every man is accountable to God oly, and by him alone may we be judged. We are not to be saved by the church or by a church or sect, but by the offering once made upon the cross and then only when we comply with the conditions attached thereto. Every man who lives up to the light which he possesses and is a diligent seeker after the truth of God belongs the true church and is in the ack safety, but let not this thought lul us to sleep, but rather cause us to keep the windows of our souls pen towards heaven lest God might have something to say to us.

In respect to churches, Waverly is better off than many other towns of same size in our own and adjoining ANNUAL MEETING states, not because she has more, but because she has less. You have but three churches two of the Methodist family and one of the Baptist. I think we are all agreed that for a town OF THE STATE CAMP
