CRIPPEN CLAIMS PART OF STREET

HAS BROUGHT AN ACTION IN EJECTMENT AGAINST CITY.

First Hearing in the Case Was Had Yesterday Before Referee C. E. Oliver.—The Title to the Land from the Commonwealth Down to Crippen Was Shown.—An Action Against the City to Recover Damages for Injury Done to a Property in Green Ridge.

There was a hearing before Referee C. E. Oliver yesterday in the ejectment case of Randolph Crippen against the city of Scranton. Mr. Crippen owns the Bristol house property at Providence square and he also claims to own a strip of land about 30x70 feet in size in front of the hotel which is now used as a roadway.

Years ago, when this valley was almost a wilderness, a tavern was built at the intersection of the Carbonade and Wilkes-Barre and the Philadelphia and Green roads. As was the custom at that time, the tavern was set back some distance from the turnpikes to give sufficient room for teams to stand and turn around.

The tavern by various processes of evolution became the Bristol house as it stands today and the space in front of it has continued to be used by the public. For years there has not been the same need to leave horses and wagons stand in front of the building that existed when the tavern was built and as a result the space has been used for general highway purposes.

Several years ago Mr. Crippen began the erection of a fence out on the line of the old turnpike, but was restrained from doing so and subsequently began an action in ejectment to determine the question of ownership of the land in question. It was this suit that was heard before Referee Oliver yesterday. Only record testimony on the part of the plaintiff was offered in evidence yesterday. Title from the commonwealth down to Randolph Crippen for the land in question was established. At the further hearings to be held evidence will be offered to show that the width of the turnpike was originally only fifty feet from what is now the south curb line of West Market street.

The city's position is that the land in question has been used as a public road for over a quarter of a century and that it is closed to the property of the public. The answer of the plaintiff to this is that the possession of the city was not exclusive or adverse. It was merely a permissive use of the land for the advantage of the owner as well as the public. The plaintiff is represented by Attorneys I. H. Burns and H. M. Hannah and the defendant by City Solicitor Vosburg.

Heard Before Arbitrators. The case of William Dunn against Jurish & Company was heard yesterday before Arbitrators Clarence Ballentine, R. E. Frinkham and George L. Peck. The plaintiff claimed damages for the taking of his bicycle from him, which he had previously purchased from the defendants. The defendants contended that they had a right to take the bicycle, because the plaintiff was in default in his payments under a contract, as a bicycle is not a necessity in the eyes of the law. This view of the case was adopted by the arbitrators, who found an award of $50 in favor of the plaintiff.

An Action in Trespass. Michael Faust and Caroline Faust, executors of the estate of Michael Faust, deceased, yesterday began an action in trespass to recover damages for injury to a property on Money avenue, Green Ridge, which they allege has been greatly impaired in value because the city changed the grade of Money avenue.

The plaintiffs are represented by Attorneys M. J. Martin and I. H. Burns.

Contest Postponed. To enable Attorneys R. H. Holgate and J. J. H. Hamilton to go to the Republican state convention, no witness were examined yesterday in the Langstaff election contest.

The commissioners will not meet again until Monday.

NEIGHBORING MUNICIPALITY OFFERS TO REPAIR A SCRANTON STREET. Despairing of the city ever doing the work in question, the farmers of Newton have come forward with a proposition to repair Jackson street between the Keyser Valley tracks and the toll road, providing the city will contribute $250 to buy the material. This will come up with their teams and hewn and put the road in first-class condition. At present it is barely passable.

Mayor Moir will recommend to council that the offer be accepted.

O. & W. Niagara Falls and Toronto Excursion. Have you seen the excursion bills gotten out by the New York, Ontario and Western Railway company, covering their excursion to Niagara Falls and Toronto, where the far-famed Toronto Exposition will be in progress, in early September? If you have not, you would recommend that you see one, peruse it, and see what low rates are offered for the trip to the "World's Greatest Wonder" and the great Canadian event. The rate is one fare for the round trip and tickets will be sold at this rate, leaving September 1, 2 or 3, good to return leaving the Falls any time up to and including September 7. This is an excellent opportunity to avail yourself of the low rates offered. If there is anything relating to this excursion that you would like to know, communicate with the nearest O. & W. agent, or address J. C. Anderson, General Passenger Agent, 56 Beaver St., New York.

MET A SHOCKING DEATH.

Harry Lanning Pinned Under a Horse and Is Burned to Death.

A shocking death occurred by last Monday evening's storm occurred in Ross township, four miles from Shick-shiny, when Harry Lanning, a young farmer, was burned to death in his father's barn. The young man was 23 years old, a son of Augustus Lanning, a well known and prosperous farmer of Ross township.

The young man was working when a team of horses on the farm and when the storm came up he drove to the barn and began to unharness the horses. While engaged in that work a terrific bolt of lightning struck the barn, setting the structure on fire and killing both horses. It is reported that young Lanning was injured by the lightning, but one of the horses fell on him, pinning him to the ground. He was unable to escape and the barn burned about him like a huge funeral pyre, burning him to a crisp.

The young man's father and other farm hands rushed to the barn when they saw it in flames, but they were unable to rescue the unfortunate young man, who could be seen in the fire for some minutes before he died. The large barn, filled with the season's crops, hay, etc., vehicles and farming tools and three horses were burned. The affair has caused considerable excitement and the farmers in that region are considerably agitated over the burning—Wilkes-Barre Times.

Aside from the loss of his son the fire was a severe blow to Farmer Lanning. The large barn, filled with the season's crops, hay, etc., vehicles and farming tools and three horses were burned. PAVEMENT A POSSIBILITY. Girard Construction Company About Ready to Begin Work.

There now appears to be a faint possibility that the North Main avenue and Providence road paving will be commenced in the course of a few weeks. The street car company and the paving contractor, the Girard Construction company, are conferring in regard to the paving between the tracks, and when they reach a satisfactory agreement the paving company will call upon the city engineer for the signal to begin operations.

The street car company wanted to do its own paving, but the city engineer opposed this on the grounds that it would cause too much inconvenience to travel to have two parties working on the street at the same time, and again, that if the paving of the work there would be two seams in the concrete, all of which could be avoided if one party did the work.

DEAD FOR SEVERAL DAYS. Body of an Aged Lady Was Found in Carbonade.

The body of an aged lady named Mrs. Swartz, who occupied the upper floor of a house on Belmont street, Carbonade, was found yesterday afternoon by some of the neighbors.

From the appearance of the remains it is very probable that life had been extinct for several days.

The old lady lived alone and it is thought that she was taken suddenly ill and as there was no one to render her any assistance, died. The remains were taken in charge by Undertaker McHugh. Coroner Eberhart has been notified and will make an investigation.

SPENCER CHANGED HIS MIND. Wants to Be County Auditor Instead of Commissioner.

Winford Scott Palmer, of Dalton, a lawyer of Hon. H. W. Palmer, of Wilkes-Barre, yesterday registered with Secretary J. E. Watkins of the Republican county committee as a candidate for county commissioner.

W. D. Spencer, of Waverly, who has registered as a candidate for commissioner yesterday withdrew his registration for that office and registered for county auditor.

Up to date nine candidates for commissioner and seven for auditor have been registered.

CONFERENCE WAS ADJOURNED. Engineers Await the Arrival in the City of Chief Arthur.

The conference between the engineers of the Lackawanna road and Superintendent Russell was adjourned yesterday at noon until today. No reason was given as to the cause of the adjournment, it is supposed that the engineers want to have Chief Arthur here before coming to a final agreement with the company. Mr. Arthur is expected to arrive in this city today.

The conductors and trainmen will have their conference with Superintendent Russell on Monday.

STATE OFFICERS OF THE P. O. S. OF A.

PORTION OF THEM ELECTED YESTERDAY.

Balloting Will Be Resumed This Morning for the Offices Not Yet Filled.—Annual Address of the State President, A. J. Colborn, of This City—When the Convention Opened the Delegates Were Welcomed to the City of Wilkes-Barre by Mayor Nichols.

The state convention of the Patriotic Order Sons of America opened yesterday morning in the Nesbitt theater, in Wilkes-Barre. The large auditorium was crowded by the delegates, who numbered considerably over a thousand.

The session was opened by Attorney E. F. Cook, of Wilkes-Barre, a candidate for vice-presidency, who delivered a brief address on the principles of the organization and then introduced Mayor Nichols. The mayor welcomed the delegates to the city in a characteristic address and extended the freedom of the town.

The response to the mayor's address was given by State President A. J. Colborn, esp. of this city. It was couched in that gentleman's most eloquent phrases and was received with great applause. After Mr. Colborn had concluded, William Weand, of Philadelphia, stepped forward and presented him with a handsome gavel made from wood from the house of William Penn and ornamented with brass taken from the battleships Maine and Iowa.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS. At this point the secret session began the first order of business, being the reading of State President Colborn's annual address. It was in part as follows:

Once again I am permitted to present to you, as required of the state president by the state camp constitution, an address on the condition and progress of the order in the state during the past year. The record of the year just ended has been a glorious one for our beloved order. It has reached the high point in membership in its history, and should stimulate us to renewed activity in the coming year. The past year has been a glorious one for our beloved order. It has reached the high point in membership in its history, and should stimulate us to renewed activity in the coming year.

Our country has moved forward, and the year just ended has been a glorious one for our beloved order. It has reached the high point in membership in its history, and should stimulate us to renewed activity in the coming year. The past year has been a glorious one for our beloved order. It has reached the high point in membership in its history, and should stimulate us to renewed activity in the coming year.

It has emerged triumphant from a short but glorious and momentous year which has carried forward history and unveiled destiny. The halo has shined on American arms, and the glory which has marked the world, and drawn us all to the supreme mandate of humanity and justice, that war was a family wrong, but one which the unfurling vigor of its arm, the unflinching vigor of its direction, and the unbroken sweep of its march, stand unchallenged on all the myriad pages of history. The American people face a new epoch in the history of the republic. We have come to a new era of history, and we must be prepared to meet it with the same vigor and courage that we have shown in the past.

During the past year our order has been a strong, healthy, and vigorous life. Great work has been done, but not all has been accomplished that was desired for which we labor so earnestly. Our own desires and the desires of our country are one and the same. We must be prepared to meet it with the same vigor and courage that we have shown in the past.

Many New Camps. A great many new camps have been organized during the year. We have hopefully anticipated organizing a new camp in every district in the state, but only a few have been accomplished. We must be prepared to meet it with the same vigor and courage that we have shown in the past.

Looking Into the Future. Standing on the threshold of a new year, we look into the future with confidence and hope. With firmer faith we build the coming year with joyful anticipation. We are confident that the work of our order will be a success in every way. We must be prepared to meet it with the same vigor and courage that we have shown in the past.

Let us then press on with renewed zeal! Glorifying in the past, with fond hope and faith, work for the future, vowing a deeper consecration to the principles we cherish, let us move forward ready for service to God and to our country. No nation has ever been called upon so earnestly as this to show the power of itself as man. We must be vigilant and active and alive to every patriotic duty, if we would help our country share the great responsibility which Providence seems to have assigned it. It is heaven inspired the task before us, and it is heaven inspired that we should do it.

Must Expend Money. Organization work to be effective must be constant and continuous, and if success is to be attained it must be done sparingly and in a timely manner. It is essential that we should be able to meet our obligations in a timely manner, and that we should be able to meet our obligations in a timely manner.

to pass judgment upon them because of the absence of material facts, or citations from the local laws of the camps from whence they were adopted, upon which a just decision could be rendered. So many and so varied have been these citations that it has become almost a necessity for the state camp to adopt a uniform law for all subordinate camps in relation to sick and funeral benefits and to establish a general form for appealing to the state executive committee.

This is imperative and to the consideration of it I invite the state camp, in the first place, to select a committee to form and proper shape to be acted upon by the executive committee. Every member of the committee has labored at every meeting and chambered the duties of his respective office. Perfect concord and harmony has prevailed at every meeting and chambered every endeavor of the committee in their deliberations, and in their united effort to strengthen, build up and promote the general welfare of the order. To each and every member I desire to express my full appreciation and thanks for the uniform courtesies and manifold kindnesses ever extended to me, and the hearty manner in which each one has united with me in laboring for the advancement of the cause so dear to every heart.

In the name of the order, I desire to thank those district presidents who labored in their respective camps for the advancement of the cause in their respective districts. All have not worked nor shown the zeal for the welfare of the order which I have expected. Those of whom I regret to state, have done absolutely nothing. Most all, however, have labored constantly and continuously with most commendable earnestness and zeal. The efforts of all have not been crowned with the same results, as some have been able to make a better showing in their respective camps than others, but the most conscientious work is not always attended with success.

ORATORICAL CONTEST. Since its institution this contest has been one of the most enjoyable features of the state camp, and has attracted a large number of entries and character of productions for the contest of this evening. I am pleased to announce that a greater interest has been awakened over among the brethren than usual. Contests of this kind should be more generally encouraged in every district throughout the state, and the protection of the order should be a similar contest among its members during the year and thus encourage them to greater effort and enthusiasm in studying the objects of patriotic and historic value so that the characters that have moulded our institutions, the faith that has sustained them, and the heroism that has preserved them may ever be kept before us.

By thus cherishing and perpetuating a tradition of our American citizenship, great good may be accomplished that will inure to the benefit of the entire order. There are eight entries for the contest, and all are of a high order of merit. All are patriotic in sentiment and character, and give evidence of much thought and careful preparation. The prizes are beautiful, gold and silver and gold medals, handsomely wrought, and especially designed for the occasion. They will be awarded to the authors of the best essays. I respectfully submit the following recommendations for your consideration:

First—That the appropriation for organization work be increased in order that the state executive committee may be enabled to carry out more vigorously and, as occasion demands, to employ laborers specially qualified for the work to labor in those sections of the state where our order has not as yet gained a foothold.

Second—That the state executive committee for the next year be directed to cause to be printed and distributed to all local laws for subordinate camps which shall be printed and a copy of the same sent to every subordinate camp so that all amendments to the different local laws now in force may be made to conform to this general form, and that all local laws heretofore in force for subordinate camps shall conform to this general form in order that there may be uniformity in all local laws of subordinate camps.

Third—That the delegates this year elected to the national camp by this state camp be instructed to vote for and to honor the members of their respective camps in the national camp, the various amendments to the general laws of the order heretofore recommended by the state camp of Pennsylvania, and to vote to reduce the per capita tax to the national camp.

Fourth—That a delinquent committee be appointed to every subordinate camp to look after delinquent members of their respective camps and use every effort to prevent the dropping of members from the rolls of the camps. The payment of dues, and thereby avert this constant menace to the growth of our order.

Fifth—That the Camp News be continued the official organ of our order, and that a suitable appropriation be made for that purpose.

Sixth—That the subordinate camps unite with the camps in their respective districts in holding a series of public meetings so that the general public may become acquainted with the objects, ends and aims of the order, and public sentiment thereby created in its favor, and the brethren be awakened to a deeper interest in its welfare.

Seventh—That the principles of our government and the duties of citizenship be made the subjects of discussions in the meetings of the subordinate camps, and that every member be fully instructed in the rights, privileges and duties of that citizenship, and at all times discharge those duties as becomes an American citizen.
