ANARCHY IN LUZON

Conditions on the Island Are Reported as Indescribable.

OUR LIMITED TERRITORY

The Only Country Occupied by Americans Is Within a Radius of Fifteen Miles Around Manila, Nine Miles Around Iloilo and a Few Miles Around Cebu-Filipinos Hold the Remainder-Report That the Insurgents Murdered the Crew of the Steamship Saturnus-General Lawton's Scheme to Scatter Aguinaldo's Army-Opinion of Disinterested Foreigners.

London, Aug. 25 .- The Labuan correspondent of the Reuter Telegram company reports by cable that reliable news had been received there disrect from Manila, to the effect that an indescribable state of anarchy prevails in the island of Luzon. The Americans, according to the advices, occupy the territory for a radius of fifteen raties around Manila; around the town of Hollo they occupy a radius of nine miles, and around Cebu they orcopy a small radius. The remainder the country, it is added, is in the hands of the Filipines.

The correspondent adds that it is reported that the Filipinos have murderof the crew of the steamship Saturnus. A despatch to the Associated Press from Manifa, Aug. 5, said the steamrain Sarurnus, of the Campania Maricoasting under the American flag, had been beached under the in- perialism and hope that such a party surgent trenches at San Fernando, and had been burned Aug. 2, but that the erew had been taken off by a United States launch.

FILIPINOS ENCOURAGED.

Likely to Resume War with Fresh Spirit-Arms and Supplies Increased.

Manita, July 22, via San Francisco. Aug. 25.-In the city of Manila the persons who talk of the ending of the war deni no longer with weeks, but the difficulties of the country, the glances, with months and years. Among persome here, military men and foreign superior agility of the light-moving

The whole effort of the insurgents for three months was to hold off the army came together they have found Americans until the rains came. In that they have been as successful as they could have hoped. Unless affairs take some unforeseen turn the Filinthes will resume the war this fall with fresh spirit and a replenished stock of arms and ammunition. One shipload of arms, it is learned on good authority, has reached them within this week. Of money the leaders of the insucrection have no lack. They control the resources of a large and rich country, and even though no crops were harvested for several years they could obtain enough cash and supplies impressing the treasures of the church, the storehouses of farmers and manufacturers and the funds of private individuals-a system of levy which they have long enforced with considerable success. All the ships coming and going into the ports recently opened to trade pay heavy tribute to the insurgents. Much of the profits of that informal sort of government are supposed to go into the packets of the leaders, excepting Aguinaldo, who is not generally charged of enriching himself by the present war: but if the public treasmry becomes empty the politicians who are exploiting Aguinaldo may, if they see a possibility of success, consider the war a good private investment. Reports brought through the lines to Spaniards and Finipinos in this city are that the spirits of the insurrectionists are improving. Americans, like the Spaniards, must defer to nature and rest on their arms most of the time while the country is a mud wallow, and the generals of the insurgents are telling their followers that American inaction during the past month is due to discouragement and demoralization, The Filipino soldiers, according to those informants, are tolerably contented. Although the paymaster selfom appears, they are living as comfortably as they have been accustomed to live. They are clothed and receive rations. They can subsist on rice, with occasionally a little fish or meat. That would not be sufficient for an American soldier. They are fairly well housed, as they have taken possession of the dwellings and public and church buildings in the towns in which they are quartered.

The Secret Service.

Through the American secret service come reports that the Filipino army is being decimated by desertion; that it is fast losing heart, and that it is on the verge of disruption. Past experience with the secret service makes one suspicious that many of its employes, most of whom are natives or Spaniards, are deeply interested in holding their places by seeming to earn their pay, The refugees who come through the lines also have been disposed to give reports which they think please the authorities. Almost since the beginning of the war they have pictured th Filipino army as on its last legs and its collapse as but a question of days. General Otla caused the country to placarded with an offer of $30 for each nsurgent rifle voluntarily surrendered. If the Filipino soldiers were deserting by companies, tired of the war and converted to American rule, many of them might be expected to bring their guns into the American lines and receive the reward, but less than 100 guns have come in as a result of the offer.

There was a time when Aguinaldo's liggest army hung in the balance, when destruction appeared inevitable. That was when General MacArthur had captured San Fernando and General Lawton was marching upon San Isidor, scattering the Filipinos before him. General Lawton had made himself a terror to the insurgents because no obstacles stopped him. If the country was trackless his men cut roads and the general and his staff took off their coats and helped. When rations were not forthcoming they breakfasted on another inch of their belts and marched ahead. They always man-aged to attack from an unexpected

When General Lawton was at San Isidor, the rebels feared he might sweep around upon Tarlac, where they had installed their nomadic capital, and catch them between two armies. General Lawton asked to be allowed to do it with the men and rations he But orders came to withdraw had. his troops from San Isidor and return to Malolos, leaving small garrisons at some of the towns he had captured. The Filipinos construed his retirement into a retreat and from that day the inking hopes of the insurrection seemed to rise. Luna and Mascardo, who had retreated northward from San Fernando toward Tarlac, brought their ormies back and constructed a horse shoe line of entrenchments around San Fernando, where, according to reports, they led their followers to believe they had General MacArthur besieged.

Luna Affair.

The assassination of Luna was expected to bring the whole Filorganization toppling down ipino civil war, but, while the usual stories of dissensions are heard, its only result, so far as outward appearances go, was to leave Aguinaldo the undisputed leadership. The Filipinos are encouraged by the handleap the rain imposes on the Americans and the departure of the volunteers. They read the American newspaper and believe that the home sentiment against war is growing. Their policy after the rains is to be as it was before- a campaign for gaining time and wearing out their opponents. They profess to imagine that congress will declare against annexation. If congress fails them they will try to prolong the struggle until the presidential campaign is begun, with the expectation that one of the political parties will declare against im-

To whip them while they are pursuing such tactics an army is needed that an move rapidly and strike day after day, following up defeat without having to wait for rations, and thus giving the enemy time to reorganize. To capture the insurgent leaders most of the generals here believe that cavalry is necessary. Time after time the Amerians have carefully planned movements which seemed sure to result in the rounding up of two or three thousand rebels in a trap, but every time slowness of the wagons trains and the alives have frustrated those plans and when the several divisions of the a handful of obsequious brown men who announced themselves "amigos,"

EXPOSITION

Thirty-two Governments Accept Invitation-Germany Has Furnished a Large Number of New Delegates.

Philadelphia, Aug. 25.-Many new aceptances came in yesterday of the invitations sent out by the exposition management throughout the department of state to attend the international commercial congress which is to assemble here on October 10. Up to date thirty-two governments have ac cepted the invitation to send official envoys and more than 150 trades organizations throughout the world have named from one to five representatives It is noteworthy that during the past week Germany, which heretofore has been semi-opposed to the international congress and has been outspoken with reference to the American character of the national export exposition, furnished a large number of new delegates. From all parts of Germany there is apparently as desire to ac quiesce in the wish of the emperor, who has decreed by way of intimation that the exposition in this city is not entirely opposed to German industrial interests and that the prominent merchants and manufacturers of the empire should delegate responsible persons to represent them at the exposition and the congress.

From all over the world reports are received daily announcing the appointment by trades bodies and influential firms of representatives to the expo-

Ition Further details have been received of the intended wight to the national export exposition, September 28, of the old town Merchants' and Manufacturers' association of Baltimore. It is the desire of the association to attend the exposition in a body, and this visit is to take the place of its customary annual outing. The members will be accompanied by a number of ladies and will make the trip to Philadelphia through the Delaware canal on an Erriceson line steamer.

Then he theatrically cleared the desk attached to the witness bar, drew his chair nearer, deposited his high hat on the floor, and, sitting down, began copying the bordereau. The spectators watched him as he bent over the desk and drew the letters. The judges gazed at him for about ten minutes. Then they became reatless and Colonel Jouaust remarked that it was not necessary to copy the whole bordereau, but that a Commandant Viljoen Will Confiscate Property of Those Who Take Up Arms Against the Government-A New Transvaal Blue Book Has Been Issued-M. Chamberlain's Suggestion for a Joint Inquiry.

Pretoria, Aug. 25.—Commandand General P. J. Joubert issued today a circular to all field cornets cautioning them against any act tending to bring on a conflict with another power. He declares that not a single stranger who does not volunteer is to be coerced into bearing arms.

Commandant Vilioen has given notice in the Volksrand that he will ask the government if in case of war it is prepared to confiscate the property of inhabitants who take up arms against the government. In the course of an interview after the session Commandant Viljoen said that if war broke out military government would be es-tablished at Johannesburg and all British subjects would be compelled to leave.

*Sir Aifred Milner transmitted the Transvaal's proposal on June 14 and recommended its immediate rejection as it would raise more questions than it would solve. In defending his recemmendation Sir Alfred insisted that redress of the grievances of the Outlanders stood at the head of the programme and that nothing else could be considered until this point was
