WATRES' ADVENTURE.

Boat in Which He Was Riding Capsized on Moosic Lake.
 Laurence Watres, the 17-year-old son of Colonel and Mrs. L. A. Watres, gave a wonderful exhibition of nerve and courage at Moosic lake, Thursday afternoon. He was on the middle of the lake, about a quarter of a mile from the shore, in a sail boat, when a sudden gust of wind capsize the boat and three young Watres into the lake, the boat turning upside down on top of him.

He retained his presence of mind, freed himself from the boat and came to the surface and rested for a moment on the bottom of the boat. Then there was another movement of the boat and it partly righted itself, but was full of water.
 Young Watres is a strong, vigorous swimmer and he started for the shore, towing the water-logged boat after him. Several persons who saw the accident standing in boats to lend assistance, but their aid was not needed, for the youth and his boat arrived at the shore without further mishap. He swam about a quarter of a mile with the boat in tow.

WANT FULL CONTROL.

Legality of Appropriation for Kindergartens Is Questioned.
 There is a serious hitch in the plans to have the school board contribute to the support of the kindergartens. The board of control appropriated $3,000 to the kindergartens established and to establish another on the West Side. A special committee with Controller Leonard as chairman was appointed to supervise the expenditure of the appropriation and this committee, together with the committee of citizens furthering the kindergarten work, completed all arrangements for the coming year.
 Now several members of the board not on the special committee question the right of the board to make this appropriation, and at a meeting last night decided to halt all arrangements until an opinion is secured from the board's attorney as to whether or not such action is legal.

CONTESTS AT BELLEVUE.

Several Fast Fights There on Thursday Night.
 There was a boxing tournament held on Thursday evening in Golden's hall, Bellevue, which was witnessed by over 200 persons.
 The first bout was between Daniel Costello and Michael McGuire, who knew very little about the game. The decision was awarded to Costello.
 The star contest of the evening was the 15-round bout between "Whack" McLoughlin and Jack Henderson, colored, of Philadelphia. It was a fast fight and Henderson was knocked down four times in the fourth round, the last being a knock out. McLoughlin was greeted with loud cheers when the necessary ten seconds had been counted.

COL. L. A. WATRES

IS THE COMMANDER

RESULT OF THE ELECTION IN THIRTEENTH REGIMENT.

F. W. Stillwell Is Lieutenant Colonel and Frank Robling and B. Rush Field, of Easton, Majors.
 After the Election the Line Officers Were Entertained at a Banquet in the Scranton Club by Colonel Watres—Regiment Will Have a New Armory.

The line officers of the Thirteenth regiment met yesterday and elected Hon. L. A. Watres, colonel; F. W. Stillwell, lieutenant colonel, and Frank Robling, of this city, and B. Rush Field, of Easton, majors. All of the elections were unanimous with the exception of Major Rush, who was opposed by George H. Whitney, of Honesdale, who was a major of the Thirteenth regiment before it went into the volunteer army. Field received 19 and Whitney 11.
 The election was conducted by Colonel C. Bow Dougherty, of the Ninth regiment, who was assisted by Lieutenant Harold G. Frantz, also of the Ninth regiment, and D. B. Atherton, adjutant of the Eleventh regiment of the provisional guard.
 It was 12.30 when Colonel Dougherty announced that they were ready to proceed with the election. The officers present were:

 Company M, Tunkhannock—Captain Norval W. Reynolds, First Lieutenant Alvery R. Meluhsh, Second Lieutenant Harry L. Lackey.

DINED AT SCRANTON CLUB.

After the election, Colonel Watres entertained the line officers at a dinner in the Scranton club. Besides the line officers there were present Colonel Dougherty and Lieutenant Frantz, of Wilkes-Barre; Colonel Watres and Lieutenant Colonel F. W. Stillwell and Major W. S. Millar.
 After the dinner Colonel Dougherty formally announced the result of the election and called upon the officers chosen for their acceptance or refusal of the honors tendered them.
 Colonel Watres, in accepting the position of colonel, expressed his high appreciation of the honor and said he would do his utmost to keep the reorganized Thirteenth regiment in the prominent place in the National Guard it has held for years. He reviewed the past history of the regiment and spoke of the distinguished men who have commanded it. He then referred to the army and said the Thirteenth ought to and will have a new armory. Public sentiment, he said, is strongly in favor of a new armory.
 "No organization," continued the speaker, "can be efficient unless properly housed. It is absolutely necessary to have a properly equipped armory to have an efficient regiment. With a suitable armory in this city we can have a regiment second to none in the state. The Thirteenth has been a leader in the past and we purpose to keep it in the front rank."
 Speeches of acceptance were also made by Lieutenant Colonel Stillwell and Major Robbing. Major Field, of Easton, was not present. Lieutenant Colonel Stillwell was a major of the Thirteenth when it went into the volunteer army and was promoted to lieutenant colonel upon the retirement of Lieutenant Colonel Mattes.
 Major Robbing has been for a number of years captain of Company C. His promotion puts First Lieutenant Edward Burkhous in line for the office of captain. Major Field, of Easton, was a major of the Eleventh regiment, which has passed out of existence. A speech was also made by Major W. S. Millar.

ATHERTON APPOINTED.

The first official act of Colonel Watres was to issue an order appointing D. B. Atherton regimental adjutant with the rank of captain. He was adjutant of the Eleventh regiment.

CHIEF ARTHUR IS NOW IN SCRANTON

MEETS WITH ENGINEERS' CONFERENCE COMMITTEE.

After a Four-Hour Consultation the Committee Waits on Superintendent Russell and Resumes the Conference—They Are Together from 5 O'Clock to Nearly 9 O'Clock with No Halt for Supper, but Fall to Finish Business—Adjournment Made Until 9 O'Clock This Morning.
 As The Tribune exclusively announced he would, Grand Chief P. M. Arthur came here yesterday, to advise with the Lackawanna engineers on the matters in dispute at the conference.
 He arrived from Cincinnati at 10 o'clock and was met at the Delaware Lackawanna and Western station by Chairman Eli Tall and other members of the engineer's committee. He was escorted to the Jermyn and for an hour or so engaged in an informal talk with the committee. After luncheon he met the members of the committee in their rooms in Guernsey's hall and was in consultation with them until nearly 5 o'clock.
 At that hour the committee left Mr. Arthur and went to the Lackawanna section to resume the conference with Superintendent Russell. The latter was found ready to proceed and with no thought of meal time started in to bring the matter to a close.
FOUR HOUR SESSION.
 For nearly four hours the session continued without recess, but when the doors finally opened and the waiting reporters asked for the results the same answer was met: "We're not through yet and there is nothing to be given out until the conference is concluded."
 This and the fact that the conference is to be resumed at 9 o'clock this morning in all the engineer's committees would permit themselves to say.
 Superintendent Russell was a little more generous. "We have reached an agreement on everything, now, except the matter of the number of hours to constitute a day, he said. "The committee insists on having ten hours as the limit and the company wants it fixed at twelve hours." And then he added, "We can't grant the ten-hour day. It would be impossible to construct our business on that schedule."

EXPENSES OF PRIMARIES

Items That Have to Be Taken Into Consideration in Making a General Estimate.
 Secretary J. E. Watkins, of the Republican county committee, has at work arranging the details in connection with the primaries under the Crawford county rules, which will be held on Saturday, September 23.
 The expenses connected with the primaries will be considerable. There are 156 election districts in the county and each district will have a board consisting of three men, a return judge and two inspectors. The return judge will have to conduct the primary in his district and make return to the county committee to be held in the city on Tuesday, September 26. While no compensation has as yet been fixed for these officials, it is felt that the lowest possible amount that a board can be secured for is $6. Those who have made that estimate allow the inspectors $1 each and the return judge $4. Inasmuch as the latter must practically give up two days to the work and pay his expenses on the day of the convention, it is plain that the estimate is not very generous, especially for the return judge who comes from the remote parts of the county, who will have to pay in the neighborhood of $1 for car fare and buy their dinner and possibly their supper in this city. At $6 a board that item of expense for the 156 districts would total $936.
 The rules provide that twice as many ballots must be printed as were cast for the Republican candidate for president at the last preceding election. The vote received by McKinley was 15,634 and therefore 37,268 ballots must be printed. Other items of printing are return sheets, tally sheets, oaths of office and affidavits.
 A ballot box must be secured for each district, which will add an additional $156 to the bill of expense. The election officers have to be supplied with instructions and copies of the rules and men must be employed to deliver the papers, ballots and boxes to each return judge in the county, all of which will cost money, and there is a possibility that in some instances rent will have to be paid where the polls are in stores or private dwellings.
 In the light of all these items of expenses which must be met, it would appear that the estimate of the county committee that $1,500 will be required for the primaries was quite a liberal one. Any balance left after paying expenses will go into the campaign fund.

HANDSOME PIPE ORGAN.

It Has Been Placed in the New Masonic Temple.
 The Masonic temple on Spruce street has just been embellished with a handsome new pipe organ which was built by the Holley Manufacturing company, of Hagerstown, Maryland, and secured through Guernsey. It is a fine instrument of two manuals and fifty-four pipes and will be operated by electric power.
 In appearance it harmonizes most charmingly with the other tones of the vaulted ceiling and is tastefully relieved with gold. It is placed in a high loft at the entrance of the hall and its excellent tone has thus an effective scope.
 The organist will probably be Prof. C. B. Dorman.

HAS MADE NO PLANS.

Professor Phillips Will Not Go Into Insurance Business.
 Professor George W. Phillips has not as yet decided upon his plans for the coming year. While he has had many flattering inducements to re-enter the business of insurance, which he relinquished when he became principal in the new high school, he still feels that his profession as an educator is nearest his heart.
 In this connection Professor Phillips is urged by many prominent citizens to open a private school for college preparatory work and enough support is pledged him to far more than realize the salary paid at the high school. The old Home for the Friendless has been proposed for such an enterprise, which it is believed by those interested, would prove a permanent institution of the city.

THE MT. LOOKOUT COLLIERY TO BE REBUILT ONCE.

The adjusters are busy with the insurance of Mt. Lookout breaker. Owing to the recent changes in the company, and the absence from town of several members, the insurance had not reported the change. It is believed by thus the losses are greater than they would have been a few months ago.
 This is chiefly due to the fact that it will cost from $15,000 to $25,000 more to rebuild the breaker than it would have cost last summer, as the price of materials have so greatly advanced.
 It is proposed to begin building operations as soon as possible.

ARE SELLING FAST.
Lots in West Park Are in Great Demand.
 Since the opening of West Park more lots have been sold than the proprietors anticipated. The site is an ideal one and the prices asked are very moderate. The offices of the company in the central city and on the plot are crowded daily with people who are anxiously inquiring for rates, terms, etc. It was the policy of the West Park Land company at the start to plot only a few blocks into lots and to wait until these had been sold before making additional plots. So rapid have been the sales that it has become necessary already to plot an additional batch of blocks.
 For full particulars, map of lots, prices, etc., call at the office of Charles Schlager, Traders' Bank building; G. F. Reynolds, Connell building, or at the recently erected land office on the plot.
