INQUEST IN O'BOYLE CASE

Great Mass of Testimony Was Heard Last Night—Verdict Rendered by the Jury.

An inquest was held in the court house last night in the case of William O'Boyle, of Lafayette street, son of Select Councilman Thomas O'Boyle, who was killed on Tuesday, Aug. 22, by falling from an electric light pole at Capouse avenue and Poplar street.

The witnesses examined were Dr. W. G. Fulton, Albert Traub, John McGuire, Henry Kingsley, line foreman for the Scranton Electric Light company, Harry May, an electrician, E. E. Parrish, superintendent of the Scranton Illuminating Heat and Power company and assistant superintendent of the Suburban Electric Light company, John Duffy, line foreman for the Suburban company, Thomas O'Boyle, father of the young man who was killed, and Henry N. Webster, who has general charge of the plant of the Scranton Electric Light company.

The testimony, in brief, was that on Monday evening, Aug. 21, there was an unusually severe wind and rain storm which disarranged wires to a greater or less extent all over the city. On either side of the pole at Capouse avenue and Poplar street on which the Scranton company's wire is strung, the wire insulated wires of the Suburban company were about eighteen inches from the pole.

The heavy wind blew the outside wire against the pole and it caught on the spike placed in the pole for the benefit of the lamp trimmer. Friction against the spike with the assistance of the rain water, the insulation of the wire to some extent and it is supposed that this wire in some way responsible for O'Boyle's death. After the accident the wire was still caught on the spike.

The testimony of the electricians, on last night was to the effect that O'Boyle might have received a slight shock which would frighten him to the extent of causing him to loosen his hold on his pole, but that he could not have received such a shock as would have thrown him from the pole. The fact was brought out that the Suburban wires were properly constructed and a proper distance from the pole.

The verdict of the jury is as follows: We, the undersigned jurors, after hearing the testimony of several witnesses, find that William O'Boyle came to his death from the fracture of his skull caused by a fall from a pole belonging to the Scranton Gas and Water company, on Tuesday, August 22, 1899, that the storm of the day before caused the wires of the Suburban Electric Light and Heat company to be suspended on a spike in said pole and that the contact with said wire gave him the shock which caused his fall; that the evidence does not attach neglect on the part of any one, but we believe it due to the absence of mind of said O'Boyle, that we recommend that such legislation be enacted by our city as will compel electric companies to supply qualified men only.

COUNCILS ORDER HIM TO HALT OPERATIONS ON THE LOOP.

At Joint Session Held in Response to a Call by Mayor, a Resolution Was Adopted Directing Mayor to Prevent the Laying of Tracks on Arthur Avenue and Mulberry Street, and if the Tracks Are Laid to Prevent the Running of Cars.

Unless the Scranton Railway company procures the intervention of court running of cars on Mulberry street from Prescott avenue to the park entrance, which was begun only yesterday morning, will be stopped today by the council.

The council, in special joint session last night, adopted a resolution directing the mayor to prevent the laying of tracks on Mulberry street between Prescott and Arthur avenues and on Arthur avenue from Mulberry street to Olive street—the route of the loop which the trolley company proposes to operate—and if the tracks are laid to prevent the running of cars thereon.

The tracks are laid on both streets, but are not connected at the intersection. The company had worked its construction gang all night to get the loop ready for yesterday, when the Veterans' reunion and Christian Endeavor rally were held at the park.

A vote on the motion was then taken and it prevailed by a big majority, twenty to six. The division was as follows: Select Council—Ayres, Messrs. Ross, Thomas, James, Roche, Melvin, Schindler, Schroeder, Frable, Coyne, Williams—10. Nays—Messrs. Chittenden, Wagner, McAndrew—2. Common Council—Ayres, Messrs. Reese, M. V. THE MAYOR'S POSITION.

I held them as I hold now, that I stood for the city's rights, but I agreed that if the company would go into contracts and secure by ordinance the right to lay the tracks on the tracks, I would throw no obstacles in the way.

An ordinance has been introduced in council for the purpose of granting the city the right to lay the tracks on the same as far as the work of track-laying is in progress and will be settled before the laying of your honorable bodies, by vote of council.

The matter is now before you to take such special action as your honorable bodies may deem best.
