CLAIMS IT IS PRIVATE LAND.

Answer in the Equity Case of the City Against Breck and Others. The other side of the controversy over the possession of the alley connecting Breck and Forest courts is given in the answer filed to the equity case of the city against Charles duP. Breck, Edward Swift, Charles duP. Swift and others. The suit, it will be remembered, was instituted by City Solicitor Vosburg to restrain the defendants from seizing the alley for building purposes. Court refused a permanent injunction on the preliminary hearing, holding that there was doubt in the case that only an extended hearing would remove, and then the matter was referred to argument court.

The contentions of the city is that the alley has been open to public use for over twenty-five years. In the answer made by Attorney C. Comerys for the defendants, it is averred that the alleged alley is simply a strip of land that was left unenclosed by the conveyance of its owner, William Breck, who also owned the adjoining property. It is positively denied that the alley was ever thrown open to public use and that if any one other than the owner used it, he did so in the grace of the owner. As an indication that the city never considered the strip of land in question a public thoroughfare, it is pointed out that it was never incorporated in the city's system of streets.

TO MEET IN LANCASTER.

Street Railway Magnates Convene There in October. At a recent meeting held by the executive committee of the Pennsylvania Street Railway association it was decided to postpone the eighth annual meeting of the association from the first week of September to October 4 and 5. It will be held at the Stevens house, Lancaster, when papers and addresses of an interesting character to railway men will be the order of the first day's sessions. The second day will be given over to enjoyment, when the visitors will be shown as much of our city and county as they can get over in a day.

The following are the officers of the association: President, Frank Silliman, Jr., Scranton; first vice-president, William B. Given, Columbia; second vice-president, Dallas Sanders, Girardville; secretary, S. P. Light, Lebanon; treasurer, W. H. Lamb, York; executive committee, the officers named and E. C. O'DONNELL WANTS DAMAGES.

Claims the City Injured his Property $1,000 Worth. Testimony in the trespass case of John O'Donnell against the city of Scranton was taken before Referee John J. Murphy in the city solicitor's office Tuesday. Hon. J. C. Vaughan appeared for the plaintiff and City Solicitor Vosburg for the city. The plaintiff claims that his property was damaged to the extent of $1,000 by an overflow resulting from the inability of the Cherry street pipe drain to carry the water the city has turned into it. The city alleges that the overflow was caused by water diverted upon the plaintiff's property by the action of his neighbors in raising the grade of their lots.

CONVENTION IS THE MAIN TOPIC

ALL ARRANGEMENTS NOW BEING RAPIDLY PERFECTED.

Major Penman, Chairman of the Reception Committee, Announces His Assistants—First Delegates Likely to Arrive Tomorrow—National Secretary Will Probably Reach Here Today—Large Column Now in Place on Court House Square. Work of Decoration Progressing.

The entire city is rapidly becoming imbued with the convention spirit and on all sides it is the main topic of conversation. This popular feeling of enthusiasm and local pride will contribute in no small degree towards making next week one of the greatest epochs in the history of the city. Major T. F. Penman, chairman of the reception committee, has appointed the following assistants:

Dolph B. Atherton, A. P. Bedford, Timothy Burke, E. L. Buck, R. G. Brooks, James F. Best, C. G. Boland, P. A. Parrott, E. J. Campbell, A. J. Casey, A. J. Colborn, Jr., D. J. Davis, J. H. Davis, A. E. Duffy, George Frable, Hon. John R. Farr, E. J. Fitzsimmons, P. W. Flitz, William Garton, John A. Green, C. Green, George Gunster, John E. Gaffney, Prof. George Howell, Andrew Hooley, Harry Hopewell, Frank Hummel, Robert J. Johnson, Hon. John E. Johnson, George W. Jenkins, J. J. Jordan, Charles Kist, M. J. Kelly, J. E. Kern, A. E. Lay, J. A. Lansing, Joseph Lee, R. B. Logares, Major W. S. Miller, J. J. Mitchell, M. E. O'Malley, James O'Connor, M. J. O'Toole, D. W. Powell, Joseph P. Phillips, Colonel E. H. Rippe, Philip Robinson, Charles R. Sines, J. J. Roche, E. E. Robathan, W. D. Roche, Dr. P. E. Struppel, A. B. Stevens, Hon. John Schour, Samuel Sauter, Stephen Sprake, George B. Sines, J. J. Snyder, Louis Schantz, E. T. Sweet, Alfred Twining, H. W. Taylor, Hon. J. C. Vaughan, A. A. Vosburg, P. M. Vandenberg, Colonel E. W. Warner, F. L. Wornser and Fred Wagner.

TO MEET AT JERMYN.

Major Penman requests that the members of the committee assemble at Hotel Jermy n not later than 9 o'clock on the morning of Sept. 4, to receive badges and instructions. The duty of this committee is merely to receive the prominent guests and visiting postmasters. It is understood that Congressman Connell will entertain Governors Stone and Roosevelt and Postmaster General Smith.

The delegates to the convention will be looked after on their arrival by the executive committee of the local carriers' association, comprising J. H. Phillips, chairman, and Joseph Fidiain, George Geher, Joseph Schiel, M. O'Malley, Edward Jones, Armit Thomas, David W. Reese and T. O. Williams. Any of the carriers who will be off duty will assist the above committee.

The first of the delegates are expected to arrive in the city tomorrow, and it is very probable that National Secretary Cantwell will arrive today. Sunday, however, will be the day on which the major portion will arrive. President Phillips received word yesterday from the secretary of the Philadelphia branch stating that they would possibly send 700 men, accompanied by their families of forty pieces. The carriers from Elmira, Norwich, Ithaca, Waverly, Cortland and Binghamton will journey to the latter city, where they will board two special coaches for this city.

The Binghamton delegation will carry with them 2,000 bronze badges furnished by the Bundy Manufacturing company, whose time register is used in all the postoffices throughout the country. These badges will be distributed among the delegates. It consists of a Bundy time key hung horizontally and pendant from it is an oval piece of metal on which is a picture of the Bundy time register. The background is a heliotype ribbon, upon which will be pinned a button bearing a picture of Postmaster Roberts, of Binghamton.

Newark, N. J., will have only one delivery on Monday, in order that the carriers of that city may come here to participate in the parade.

THE REVIEWING STAND.

The work on the reviewing stand in front of the postoffice was begun yesterday morning and the work was nearly completed by evening. Some of the principal leaders in the present carpenters' strike are doing active work on the job.

The column, which is being erected by Richards Brothers, was placed in position yesterday. It stands directly on the corner of Linden street and Washington avenue, instead of between the arch and the corner, as at first planned. It is forty feet in height, with a massive Corinthian capital, and presents a very artistic appearance. It is made in imitation of stone and this limitation is nearly perfect.

There are to be six or seven long strings of red, white and blue incandescent lights running from the eagle's claws on the top of the column to various points on all sides. These strings are to be fifty or sixty feet in length and will undoubtedly show up remarkably well at night.

The central city is already assuming a gala aspect as the result of the decorations being placed on the various buildings. The following buildings are elaborately decorated so far: Jonas Long's Sons' Cornet building, Board of Trade, Scranton House, Griffin &

$5,000 REWARD

Collins, Megargel & Connell, the Elk, Hirtshunder Bros., St. Thomas college, St. Charles hotel, Conway building, Hotel Jermy n and Finn & Phillips. The electrical decorations on the various buildings are also being placed in position. A number of firms are using red, white and blue incandescent lights of high candle power which, while not producing quite such a handsome appearance as incandescent lights, will still add greatly to the general effect.

The letter carriers' committee have set out a remarkably neat and attractive souvenir book, a copy of which will be presented to each of the visiting delegates. It contains excellent half-tone pictures of President McKinley, Postmaster General Smith, Governors Stone and Roosevelt, the national office of the association, Colonel Rippe, the local carriers and views in and around Scranton. It is daintily bound and will serve as a reminder, to those who procure a copy, of Scranton and its many attractions. The book was compiled by E. W. Snyder and reflects great credit on his good taste and enterprise.

EXCITING RUNAWAY.

Mrs. Amelia Smith, of Dunmore, Painfully Injured on the Pine Street Hill.

Mrs. Amelia Smith, who resides with her father, David Smith, of Dunmore, was seriously injured on Pine street yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Smith was out driving with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Allen, of Dunmore, and Mrs. Smith's son, a boy of fifteen. The latter was driving.

When the carriage turned from Clay avenue into Pine street it is thought that part of the harness broke, causing the carriage to run into the horses, which became frightened and started down the hill on a gallop, dragging the carriage along at a frightful rate of speed.

The women, thoroughly frightened, screamed at the top of their voices, which seemed to further excite the frightened animal. On the hill between Quincy and Monroe avenues the horse started toward the sidewalk. When the carriage jolted against the curb the two women and the boy were thrown out. The latter and Mrs. Allen escaped with a few bruises.

Mrs. Smith landed on her face, which was frightfully cut and bruised. She was taken into the home of ex-Judge W. H. Stanton, nearby, and Dr. D. B. Hand summoned. He found Mrs. Smith's face so cut and swollen that he was unable to ascertain whether or not any bones in the face were broken. He had the injured woman removed to her home, after making her as comfortable as possible under the circumstances. Besides the injuries to the face, she has many severe cuts and bruises.

DIED VERY SUDDENLY.

Mrs. Richard Moggs, of Taylor Flats, Expired Yesterday.

Mrs. Richard Moggs, of Taylor flats, died suddenly at her home at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. The woman had been attending a sick child and while reaching out for a bottle of medicine on the table, fell from her chair to the floor and died within a few minutes. Dr. Griffiths, the family physician, was called and found that death was due to natural causes. The family buried the child and another one is now in bed. The child had been suffering for several months from injuries received in the mines.

BIG REWARD IS OFFERED.

Temple Iron Company Is After the Fire Bug. The officials of the Temple Iron company are satisfied that the fire which destroyed the Mt. Lookout breaker at Wyoming on Monday morning, Aug. 21, was caused by incendiaries.

They propose to make an earnest effort to find out who the culprits are and as will be soon by reference to the advertising columns of this paper, have offered a reward of $5,000 for information that would lead to the arrest and conviction of the guilty ones.

Saturday, September 2, is the last day for registering and paying the assessment. E. N. WILK, Chairman. J. E. WALKIN, Secretary.

TROLLEY COMPANY APPEALS TO COURT

PETITION FRAMED ASKING FOR AN INJUNCTION.

The Company Alleges That It Has Incontestable Rights on the Nay Aug Park Loop Route and That the City Is Unlawfully Interfering with Its Exercise of Them—Cars Continued to Run Yesterday, but a Police Officer Prevents Any Construction Work—Mr. Silliman's Statement.

Nothing was done by the mayor yesterday to carry out the councils' best in the Nay Aug park loop matter except to continue an officer on duty at the intersection of Mulberry street and Arthur avenue to prevent the company from connecting up the two sections of the extension.

Cars were run all day on the Mulberry portion of the loop, carrying passengers from Prescott avenue to the park entrance at Arthur avenue.

When asked why the cars were permitted to run when councils had directed him to stop them, the mayor replied: "We will attend to that in due time. There is no occasion for hasty action."

General Manager Silliman, of the trolley company, decided yesterday morning to proceed along the lines suggested by The Tribune's editorial. "If we have any rights on those streets," said Mr. Silliman, "and we are confident we have, it is our duty at this time, as The Tribune says, to assert them. It was our wish to have this matter settled without recourse to the courts, but that is now impossible."

"Our attorneys, Willard, Warren & Knapp, have been instructed to proceed to establish our rights on these streets. They are now working on a petition for an injunction to restrain the city from interfering with the work on these streets. This will bring the matter before the court and give us the opportunity we seek of proving our contention that we are not obliged to consult the city in entering upon those streets."

"We secured the right of way there from the Lackawanna Iron and Coal company in August, 1893, a month before the city purchased Nay Aug park and a couple of years before any improvements were made on the streets in question. Those rights were conditional upon our grading the streets and we have fulfilled that condition at an expense of $6,000. We bought that right of way through private property at a large expense and we propose to maintain our rights."

Mayor Moir declares himself not wholly in sympathy with the action of councils, but intends to sign the resolution and obey its mandate, nevertheless.
