FERZINNETTI'S

Simple Words of the Man of Heart. Lieut. Col. Brogniart Is Colonel day the admiral would have to leave Jounust's Right Hand Man-A Possible Change in Tactics-Con- ably be accommodated with a special ference Between Mercier and His Friends.

Rennes, Aug. 31 - Dreyfus bad the most trying day he has yet gone through. The strain proved too great for him and for the second time in the course of the trial he gave way to his feelings and sought relief in tears. The generals have branded him as a traitor before the court, their subordinates have pointed the finger of scorn at him. But he only once flinchedwhen the official report of his treatment on Devil's island was read before him and the pictures of his sufferings, mental and physical, was thrown vividly on the screen of his memory. Then He he hid his features and wept, passed through another such crisis today when after Captain Lebrun-Repault and witness after witness had brought up before him again that cold January morning which ushered in the scene of his degradation. Major Ferzinnetti, a man of heart, told in simple words and unaffected manner, the story of Dreyfus' struggle with the maddening temptation to end his life. and the intervention of his wife, as an angel, pointing out the road of duty. Then again the prisoner's breast heaved with emotion and tears trickled ers; down his cheeks. He rose and after a Clark, forced effort to remain calm as he spoke a few words concerning his denial to Colonel Du Paty de Clam that he wrote the bordereau he turned to Ferzinetti with a look of thanks for his convolation so needed. Dreyfus then uttered these words of heartfelt gratitude to his wife for the courage with which she inspired him: "It is due to her," he cried, "that "

am alive today." The prisoper could articulate no more but sat down abruptly to conceal his distress.

The proceedings concluded a few

PITTSEURG DEMOCRATS.

They Nominate a Full County Ticket.

Pittsburg, Aug. 21 .- The county Democratic convention met today and nominated a full county ticket. The majority yielded at all points and won out with hands down. The only contest was for county commissioner, as a nomination is equivalent to an election. The candidates were James A. Clark and P. Foley. The other nom-inations were made without opposttion and were conferred by the convention as honorable recognition of the services of these placed on the list. The platform was short, the principal features being the endorsement of Bryan and a peremptory demand for his renomination as a presidential candidate in 1900.

The list of nominations made follows: For judge, Hon, F. H. Col-lier: sheriff, Frank I. Rutledge; treasurer, D. O. Barr: controller, George H. Lysie; register, S. J. Graham; recorder, Jere Doherty; clerk of courts, Geo. Kochler: poor director, John Bow-А. ers: county commissioner, James A.

Evans Dosby, secretary of the peace section, London, presented the report of the ommittee of arbitration as follows: The conference accepts the report adopted by the executive council on July 18, 1899, of the special committee appointed at the London conference of 1893, which has, in accordance with the direction of the Brussels conference in 1895, presented a scheme for the formation of a court of international arbitration.

The Arbitration Scheme. This conference expresses its deep gratification at the adoption by The Hague peace conference of a scheme of international arbitration which car-ries out the main objects of the association. The conference recognizes as specially valuable the following leading features of the scheme: The nomination of a body of men of recognized competence; the creation of a permanent administration council composed of the diplomatic representative court of The Hague with the Netherlands minister of foreign affairs as its president.

The conference therefore urges the Captain Lebrun-Renault and the supportors of his assertion of the Dreyfus onfession had an inning lasting nearly the entire session, their depositions containing little but what has already been stated before the court of cas sation.

Captain Lebrun-Renault introduced the new assertion that the fact that he had not related the incident of the confession to President Casimir-Perier was because he overheard himself called "Canaille," "cur" and "traitor," while waiting at the Elysee. He, however, could not explain why he kept this to himself for so long a time instead of recounting the incident before the court | a fourth class man." of carsation. Nor did his explanation as to why he destroyed the page of his notebook containing the record of in June, 1897. Dreyfus' confession, sound very convincing.

A Significant Question.

The other witnesses were a repetition of Captain Lebrun-Renault. But a very significant question was put to Colonel Guerin by a member of the court. Lieutenant Colonel Brognlart who sits at Colonel Jouaust's right hand and always puts pointed quertions. He has thoroughly studied the Drevfus case, and is reputed to be one of the best authorities on the case. If relations can be raved between Dreyfus and Well, and Esterhazy admits obtaining freasonable information from Weil, then he could assume Dreyfus was a traitor. The generals, if sufficient evidence of Drevfus-Weil-Esterhazy connection can he produced, can abandon the contention that Drevfus wrote the bondercau and admit Esterhazy as the author of This is possibly the change of tacon the part of the generals, which | North Dakota and First Wyoming raghas been hinted at recently.

DREYFUS TRIAL STORY.

The Jewish Sentiment Will Publish a Narrative Bearing Directly on the Case-Identity of the Velled

Lady.

Atlanta, Aug. 31 .- The Jewish Sentiment in its regular weekly edition tomorrow afternoon will print a story waring with almost startling directness on the Dreyfus trial. It says dolls were used as the means of conveying the documents to Germany and that the papers were first taken to England and then to Germany. The story which the Sentiment will print comes from a man who was employed several years ago by the German government as a document translator and maker of rellef maps, and who, after quitting Ger-many, served in the United States army during the war with Spain. He shows his discharge papers, which denote that he was a staff officer. The Informer says he was born in Denver, Colo:

He says: "Dreyfus was unknown at the German secret service bureau in person or by name from 1890 to 1894 This I most solemnly affirm. The plans, specifications and details of gun 120 of the Robin shell and of the French war vessels Jaureguiberry, 'Charles Martel' and 'Lazar Carnot,' together with the plans for mobilization, were purchased through Germany's embassy in Paris, presided over by Prince Hans Heinerich Pless.

"I met Count Esterhazy several times in person at dinings given by Baronesa te Delden, who was Esterhazy's sweet. heart. He furnished most of the information. These documents were never received at the embassy-always at a church, a public function, or a private dinner party.
