That Is the Charge Made Against George Brock by A. M. Killberg, a Jeweler.

George Brock, a young man of good connections, was arrested yesterday orning and given a hearing before Alderman Howe on a charge of lar-ceny preferred by A. M. Kilberg, a jeweler for whom he has been em-

Mr. Kilberg's place of business in ocated on the second floor of the old post office building, on the corner of Penn avenue and Spruce street. When e returned to his shop on Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock he discovered that the door had been forced open and that the place had been ransacked. Upon examination he discovered that three $20 gold pieces a $20 bill, two dozen gold rings, a gold watch and a dozen pens were gone. He suspected Brock, who worked for him as a soliciand had him arrested yesterday.

At the hearing yesterday the defendant was represented by Attorney George S. Horn and Mr. Kilberg by Attorney Vidaver. The young man protested his innocence, his defense being that he was in the house all that night. Several witnesses testified to having men two $20 gold pieces in his possession and another said that he hal seen him in the hallway of the building on Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock.

The alderman held him in $1,000 bail Horn becoming his bondsman. He was later arrested by Detective lifford on a warrant charging him with stealing $7 from the barber shop of Charles W. Moyle, on Adams avenue, a few weeks ago. He will be given a hearing on this charge some time next week.

REDEEM REVENUE STAMPS.

An Important Interpretation of the War Revenue Bill.

Internal Revenue Collector McClain, Philadelphia, received from Washington on Tuesday one of the most important rulings upon the interpretation the war revenue bill ever made. It touches on a question which interests many persons in different walks of business life and it decides, in brief, that the commissioner of internal revenue has authority to redeem unused revenue stamps. The case arose out of the purchase by a New York firm of thirty-one stamps, each valued at $1,000, firm subsequently learned that but thirty stamps were necessary, but when it attempted to have redeemed the other stamp money was refused.

STOLE FROM EMPLOYER. SCRANTON SOLDIERS IN THE PHILIPPINES

DESCRIPTION OF BATTLE WITH THE INSURGENTS.

Graphically Told by Benjamin J. Evans, of This City, a Member of Company D. Fourth Illinois Infantry, Who Was in the Midst of the Firing-Estimated That 10,000 Soldiers Are Sick on the Islands. Treachery of the Filipinos Toward Benjamin J. Evans, a member of Company D, Fourth Illinois infantry. who left here in March, 1898, for South America, and afterwards joined the United States army, has written several interesting letters to his sister, Mrs. P. W. Tague, of West Scranton, describing the life of the soldier in the Philippine islands.

Mr. Evans is a son of Mine Foreman James A. Evans, of the Diamond, and is well-known throughout the city, having been connected with the Young Men's Christian association while here. His latest letter, received a few days ago, is descriptive of the hardships endured by the Americans in Manila, and is as follows:

Imus, P. I., June 18, 1899. Dear Sister: Since writing your last we have had a good taste of army life. Some of our soldiers are nearly heart broken, and we are all very anxious to get back o the states again. When I came here expected we would encounter some pardships, but it has been tougher than I ever expected. We have just returned from making one of the hardest marches the American army has made. I have the word of old soldiers to that effect

HEAT WAS INTENSE.

We started out June 2 and returned There were three thousand soldiers in the murch but the heat was so intense that they started to drop out the first day. Some of the companies had half of their number fall out on the way. I was very forturate in making the trip, but wouldn't care to make another like it. One march like that is sufficient in a man's life time. We started out to ut the castern mountain range where the insurgents supposed they had a regular Gibraltar, and had to climb up mountains so steep that we had to just pull ourselves up by the roots of trees and vines, and the enemy was on top firing at us, but we routed them out of cuffed though he was, made a dash out of the car and jumped from the relatform. to the valley below. There we were terlatform. them and round them up.

The fat mules that hauled our provisions when we started were as thin as rails when we returned and a great num-ber were in such bad shape they had to be shot. After returning to the lines all worn out from marching and loss of sleep, we expected to have a rest and recuperate before we started out again; but next morning we had orders to start on another trip. I presume the com-manders thought that inasmuch as we had them located they could capture them, so we started on our march to as-sist the other regiments. After traveling all day in the hot sun and men were dropping out right and left, overcome by the heat, we halted at a place by the name of Bacoor which we captured with very little fighting. After arriving here a heavy rain storm set in, so the Fourth regiment took possession of a large church and convent which there is no scarcity of on these islands. They are the first thing noticeable on entering a village. They are built of

FOR A FORTIFICATION.

They are made with the expectation of using them as a fortification, if nec-essary; but they have learned by this time that it is certain death to look for protection in them any more. I wish you could see some of their churches where they sought refuge. After our ar-tillery got through with them they looked like a sieve. Now they play a different game by retiring into the most difficult country for our artillery to go

After a few more days' rest four companies from the Fourth infantry were ordered out again to do some scouting through the enemy's country to find where they were located, so the whole brigade could make a charge on them the next day. Company D, which I belong which is decreasing very rapidly. There were forty-nine men off duty from sickness and the other companies are in about the same condition.

It is reported that there are 10,000 sick soldlers here. So to have men soldlering in this country the companies ought to have double their force. In starting on this march we had only half the numl of men our companies should have had. After marching about eight miles we were fired upon from both sides of the road. As soon as the first volley came, every man of his own accord dropped flat in the road. I never before witnessed body of men drop so quickly without The enemy were concealed in two creeks about 200 rards on both sides of the road on which we were marching.

The creeks run in the same direction as FOOLED THE AMERICANS.

They generally have pickets around their comping places the same as our army, but this time they fooled us (they must have been informed of a body of soldiers coming in their direction), by eaving us march right into their camp before they fire on us. We were com-pletely surrounded and had no way of es-ape, only to fight it out. We formed a skirmish line across the road, each man about five feet apart. and had to shoot as fast as possible. We were fighting in this locality six hours. Both sides of the road was swampy, marshy land, and were nearly up to our necks in mud and water, so you can just imagine what a nice looking lot of soldiers we were when we got through. My rifle got so hot from firing so long that my hands were one com-

If it hadn't been for one of our men riding back for reinforcements, as soon as the first shot was fired, I believe we would have all been massacred, for our ammunition was about run out when re-inforcements came to our assistance. We couldn't retreat on account of having so many wounded to take care of. The enemy even chopped off the ears and cut ut the tongues of some of our wounded We held our post until the next morn a when we made a charge on their village. There was very little trouble in capturing the place. After destroying their powder mill we started to Imus. where we have been for the past few days. This last battle was the worst position we have been in. It was such a small body holding so large a number (ten thousand) from advancing on them and only lost two killed and six wounded. DEAD INSURGENTS.

We counted phicty-two dead insurgents, out how many more there was we could not tell, that was uncared for. Myself and a companion captured two rifles and one prisoner. There were quite a number of prisoners captured, but its no use capturing them, for they are left loose and go right back fighting again. some of them have been taken prisoners wo and three times.
You mentioned in your last letter that you thought peace would soon be declared. You wouldn't think so if you were out here. I can see no end to it, the way this war is carried on. They come out and tight, then hide their guns and come back to their homes and pretend to be our friends. They will be along the roads getting a pail of water and will hand our men a drink, then when we puss will get their guns and fire on us, so we are thoroughly disgusted with them. Now when they come with water for us to drink, sometimes our soldiers forget themselves and haul off with their fists and strike them in the Spain never sent her collectors here, I am told, so the people had no taxes to pay, and had everything their own way. So I suppose they think they will have to pay the United States a heavy tax we conquer them and are fighting all he harder on that account.

I only wish this thing was over so w could get in decent quarters and quit killing. There is no pleasure in it for us. I feel sorry for the old people that are left homeless and the little children that are compelled to carry loads as large as themselves along the road. It is no exception here to, other countries. The poor have the most children so some one will have to care for them.

This is the Sabbath day and while I am writing, the bells are ringing on a church that is 200 years old. There are eight large bells on it, and they seem to be trying to make more noise than the other. Trusting that all the folks at home are well, I will close, with love to all, and kind remembrance to all inquiring friends. Your affectionate brother,

Mrs. Tague expects another letter from Mr. Evans in a few days and the readers of The Tribune will have the pleasure of reading it.

JOYCE UNDER ARREST.

He Is Charged with Stabbing Abe | Cinaba, Neb. Cokely During a Row in a New York Hotel.

William Joyce, of South Scranton, is in prison in New York city for stabbing "Abe" Cokely early Wednesday morning. Cokely is a reputed partner of "Jimmy" Hope of the Manhattan bank robbery fame.

Joyce met Peter McCann, Johnny Hope and Cokely, who were drinking at the Garden hotel at Twenty-seventh street and Third avenue. He invited the gang to have a drink with him, which invitation was readily accepted. Later a tramp entered and asked for some whiskey. Cokely told him that if to, was one of the unfortunate com-pany's that had to go. The result was we lost eight men out of our company— tramp performed his part of the contramp performed his part of the contract, but Cokely refused to keep his promise, and beat the tramp in an unmerciful manner. Joyce took offense at this and quarrelled with his new acquaintances. A fight ensued, and Joyce, combatting with the three men, drew a knife and plunged it into Cokely's left breast. He promptly surrendered himself to the police, and is being held to await the result of Cokely's injuries. He was reported to be dying yesterday. There is much regret entertained in South Scranton over the affair. Joyce, who is a porter at the Putnam House in New York, was a most excellent fellow when a resident nere. He went to the metropolis about eighteen months ago, and was home on a visit a few months ago. He has several brothers and sisters living in the Twentieth ward.

The advance guard of the host of elegates to the Letter Carriers' National convention arrived in the city yesterday and commencing today the nain guard will begin to arrive. The delegates coming first are from various points in the country situated at great distances from this city, necessitating an early start for the scene of the convention in order that any obstacles in the journey might be overcome without a costly delay. The work of preparation is now in its final stages and is being rapidly pushed to completion. The block on Washington avenue between Spruce and Linden streets was a perfect bee hive of industry and activity yesterday. This block will, of course, be the centrai point of interest during next week, as the main work of decoration is centralized there.

The illuminations are now nearly complete and the lights will be turned on for the first time tomorrow night, continuing from then during all next

The usual inundation of crooks and others criminals that are always in evidence at a large convention is, of course, expected, and extra efforts will be made by the police to prevent them from indulging in their profession.

DELEGATES WHO ARRIVED.

The delegates to the convention who arrived yesterday and who are regis ered at the Jermyn are: S. E. Graham. of Kansas City, Miss., chairman of the Mutual Benefit association; Wilmot Dunn, Nashville, Tenn., chief collecter of the Mutal Benefit association; F. W. Campbell, of Minneapolis, Mira., one of the trustees of the association, and B. W. Tillotson, a delegate from himself. .

National Secretary Edward J. Cant. well will arrive in the city today and will establish his headquarters at Hotel Jermyn. The other national officers, except President Parsons, will arrive either today or tomorrow. President Parsons will not reach the city until Monday at noon. He will address the labor meeting in Laurel Hill park at 1 o'clock, afterwards participating in the parade.

SEATS ON THE LAWN. The seats which are to be erected on the court house lawn in front o the reviewing stand will be put in place Monday morning and taken down that night. They will be of the tent circus variety and will be under control of the general committee. Eighteen hundred people may be accommodated on them and tickets will be placed on sale tomorrow morning at Reynolds Brothers and several other stores not yet decided on. The reserved seats will be 50 cents and the others 25 cents.

The finance committee met last evening in the office of Major W. S. Millar and prepared its final report, which will be submitted this evening to the chairmen of the various sub-committees, who will meet in Colonel Ripple's office in the Connell building.

The Nay Aug Drum corps, which has een engaged to lead a battalion of the New York letter carriers, will muster twenty men and wear handsome new full dress infantry uniforms. The local end of the transportation department of the Lackawanna road yesterday received word from the New York department that arrangement: have been made for carrying 2,200 people from the borough of Manhattan, instead of 1,700, the number for which arrangements were first made.

The advices received also stated hat the section of the train leaving Hoboken at 10 o'clock on Monday will have a combination baggage and paruse of Governor Roosevelt and staff and Postmaster Van Cott, of New York. This is taken as very good
