

EVENTS OF DAY IN WEST SCRANTON WAY LABOR DAY WAS OBSERVED.

Miss Edna Saxe Entertained Friends in Honor of Her Guest, Miss Mattie Saxe, of Albany, N. Y.—Meeting of Miners—Members of the Electric City Wheelmen Are to Form a Foot Ball Club—Personals and Minor News Notes.

Labor Day on this side was one of unusual quietness. Nothing of any importance happened during the day. In the morning the various labor organizations on this side assembled at their respective quarters and marched in a body to the central city where they participated in the monster labor celebration. Hundreds of persons journeyed over to the central city to witness the same. All the stores were closed for the entire day, except drug stores which closed at 3 o'clock, but opened again at 6.

In the afternoon it seemed as if all of West Scranton had journeyed over to witness the mail carriers parade. No one was visible upon the avenues except the small boys who were patiently waiting for the afternoon edition of the Times and Truth. Every car going toward Scranton was overcrowded and yet hundreds walked, many of whom were unable to secure street car accommodation. After the parade the cars from the central city were again packed and contained such large loads that they were unable to climb the hill from the railroad track to Ninth street. Passengers not wishing to be left behind climbed upon the roof of the cars. No street car accidents were heard of during the day.

In the evening the streets were alive with people, many of whom journeyed over to the central city to see the electrical display. The police up to a late hour reported no arrests and the fire companies had responded to no alarms. The day on the whole was very quiet.

MISS SAXE ENTERTAINS. Miss Edna Saxe, of North Main avenue, delightfully entertained last evening in honor of her guest, Miss Mattie Saxe, of Albany, N. Y., who departs tomorrow after having spent a few pleasant weeks with Miss Saxe and other friends.

An enjoyable time was had by all. Diversions incident to such occasions being merrily indulged in. Dancing, however, formed the feature of the evening's pleasure. During the introduction of the dances Miss Saxe showed her guests through the commodious quarters of the Electric City Wheelmen. At a seasonable hour the guests did ample justice to a bountiful repast served by Mrs. Saxe.

BENARES ORDEAL BY FIRE.

Hindus Walk Unharmed Over a Bed of Live Coals Before Mrs. Besant and Others. From the Lahore Civil Military Gazette. A controversy having arisen in some of the papers about the recent performance of the Fire Ceremony at Benares, an account of what actually took place, by an English onlooker, may be of interest to the readers of the Civil and Military Gazette. It was during a recent convention of the Theosophical society that a good many of us who are interested in the life of India below the surface being present, some Hindu friends arranged with certain sect of Shivaite Hindus, who claim the power of rendering fire harmless, to give an exhibition of their powers. Accordingly a trench was dug in the grounds of the Tagore Villa about 15 feet long by 4, and this was filled with logs of wood, which were left to blaze all day. In the evening the trench was filled by a thick layer of glowing coals giving off tremendous heat. At 7 p. m. we repaired to the scene of action. Our party consisted of Mrs. Besant, Countess Wachtmeister, Dr. Richardson, late professor of chemistry at University College, Bristol; Dr. Pascal, a French doctor of medicine; Mr. Bertram Keightley, barrister-at-law; Miss Lillian Edger, M. A.; Col. Olett, and others. Chairs were arranged for us on a kind of dais formed of the earth thrown out of the trench and about eight feet from it. This was the nearest point to the big fire at which one could bear the scorching heat. At our back, and surrounding the trench, was a dense but orderly crowd of hundreds of Hindus. All waited with eager expectation. At last a hubbub approaching from the gates of the villa announced the arrival of the procession. It consisted of a chief priest, who presided, carrying a sword, two others who were going through the flames, and an image in a glass canopy borne along by others. The leader in-

Opening a Wife's Letters.

Jinks—Has a husband the right to open a wife's letters? Blinks (a lawyer)—Certainly, sir, certainly; open all you please.

Jinks—Well, here is a letter my wife has written to your wife, and she has handed it to me. I feel pretty sure there's something unpleasant in it about me. I wish you'd open it, and if there is, just burn it up.

Blinks—Humph! Does my wife know your wife is going to write to her? Jinks—Yes.

Blinks—And if my wife doesn't get this letter she'll find it out, won't she? Jinks—Of course.

Blinks—On second thoughts, I believe there is a real letter which makes it a criminal offense for a man to open his wife's letters. I couldn't take the risk, sir; indeed, I couldn't.

Costly Setting for a Tooth.

The solitary tooth of Buddha is to be contained in what will probably be the most valuable offer in the world. A Sikh chief has recently sent to Mauldieu, in Burma, an emerald worth, it is declared, two lakhs of rupees, in order that the Burmese Buddhists might include it among the jewels which they are going to send to Ceylon in order to adorn the tooth-holding casket. Jewelry worth 50,000 rupees had been already received from Bangkok and Mandalay, and the Mouleim Buddhists have themselves secured jewelry to the value of $5,000 rupees. Thus the total value of that jewelry adorning the casket will be about three and a half lakhs.

An Unwelcome Reminder.

Wife—I have about made up my mind John, that when I married you I married a fool. Husband—That reminds me of a remark you made just before we were married. You remember that you said it would be hard to find two people more alike than you and I.—Detroit Free Press.

A Liberal Education.

"Does your daughter speak any foreign language?" "Not to any extent. She can say 'yes,' though, in five of them, in case any foreign nobleman asks her to marry him."—Tit-Bits.
