FOR CONTROLLERS

SCRANTON IS NOTHING IF NOT UP TO DATE.

Members of the Scranton Board Are to Meet and Get Ideas Concerning the Best Manner of Managing the Buildings in Their Wards-J. F. Hammis Entered a Protest Against the Board Awarding Contracts to Contractors Who Do Not Employ Union Labor.

A school for school controllers is Mr. Jennings' novel idea. It was projected by him at last night's meeting of the board of control and instantly sprang into general favor.

The first session will be held Monday, Sept. 25.

It all came about through a startling statement from Mr. Evans, of the Fifteenth ward, to the effect that the coal bills for last year showed that it cost $126 to heat a two-room building and only $122 to heat an eleven-room building, both buildings using the same neating system. He coyly admitted that the latter building was in his own ward. Mr. Roche called Mr. Evans' attention to the fact that the construction of buildings had quite as much to do with the cost of heating as did the management of the furnaces and the like

He suggested that the controllers ook into this matter of heating in their respective districts and endeavor to bring down the cost to the lowest possible figure.

Then Mr. Jennings sprang his school or school controllers idea. It was because of the fact that controllers were ignorant of the best ways and means of practicing economy, he said, that these exhorbitant bills were contracted. Some schools, he pointed out, were conducted at a comparatively small expense in the matter of heating, but would be costly in some other regard. Other schools would be saving in text books, but prodigal of stationery, and so on. The controllers ought to be instructed and the only way for them to learn the best means of conducting their respective schools was to have an interchange of ideas.

SUGGESTION MEETING.

Then he made a motion that at the next meeting of the board, as much time as could be spared should be de-voted to "school." The controllers should come prepared to offer suggestions for the betterment of their work and the superintendents of repairs, engineering and the like should be on hand to contribute their knowledge on the subjects that may be for discus-

The board assented to the idea and the motion prevailed unanimously. Some enlightenment in another direction was furnished the controller by J. F. Hammis of the executive committee of the building trades council. He asked for the privilege of the floor through Mr. Casey and it being grantprogressiveness would never convey the ed him he proceeded to enter a protest

Mr. Hammis concluded by telling builders' exchange are in such dire for the board's next meeting. straits that they hire any old kind of a mechanic that comes along and as pany held its annual meeting yester a consequence are unfitted to do a day and re-elected its former directorgood job. Secretary Fellows stated after the meeting that as far as he knows, there has been no hindrance to any contractor figuring on the board's work.

TEACHER RESIGNED.

The resignation of Miss Cora Preston, teacher in No. 21 annex was received and referred to the teachers' mmittee.

Forty taxpayers of the Nineteenth ward petitioned for the reinstatement of Miss Regina Killali as janitress of No. 39 alleging that she was competent and needy while the man appointed as her successor is a man of means, having an independent income of over $100 a month The communication was ordered filed.

On motion of Mr. Gibbons the galary of Miss Frances Connor of the high school faculty was advanced from $75 to 390 per month. President Jayne who

No report was received from the special committee on kindergartens. When President Jayne reminded Mr. Leon ard, chairman of the committee, that report was promised for this meeting, Mr. Leonard explained that the ommittee was waiting the return of Miss Underwood, the chief kindergart-

On motion of Mr. Walsh, the hids for erecting No. 2 building were taken from the hands of the building committee and the contract awarded to John Benore & Son, the lowest bidders. Mr. Roche explained that the building committee had not awarded the con-tract because it was not satisfied that the side was desirable. After the contract was awarded Mr. Walsh extended an invitation to the board to visit the locality and look at the site, with a view of judging whether or not it would be advisable to secure a

SOME RECOMMENDATIONS. The following recommendations of the building committee were adopted: That, as certain important items were left out of the specifications for heating and ventilating No. 9 school building, the bids received at last meeting be rejected and the secretary instructed to advertise for new bids, based on the specifications as revised by Superintendent Harris: that F. J. Johnson be awarded the contract to paint No. 13 building for $99; that the wages of John A. Winters and Selden Notz be placed at $2.50 and $2 respec-

Permission was granted Roswell Mc-Mullen, a high school graduate of this year, to take the post-graduate course. Mr. Casey called attention to the over-crowded condition of No. 29 school and moved that the building committee be instructed to secure an annex to accommodate the overflow.

His motion prevailed. An offer from the Moledia company to furnish their song books for beginners at 30 cents apiece was referred to the text book committee.

A communication was received from Marvin Tuttle, of Dunmore, asking for the use of the High School auditorium for the memorial service in connection with the state convention of the Junior Order United American Mechanics on Sept. 21. The matter was referred to the high and training school committee with power to act.

BANNER INDUSTRIAL YEAR

So Secretary D. B. Atherton, of the Board of Trade, Announces the Present Year to Be.

Notices for the first post-vacation meeting of the board of trade will be sent out today by Secretary D. B. Atherton. The meeting will take place next Monday night and will be an unusually important one. Secretary Atherton will make a report on the industrial progress of the city for the last nine months and the prospects for the coming quarter.

He declares in the notices that this has been the banner year in the city's dea of what an impression your city against the school board's manner of industrial growth and proceeds to prove the declaration by calling attenhas made on us.

to this city on a caboose and removed to Cusick's undertaking establishment to be prepared for burial.

A thorough investigation of each nan's injuries was made by Coroner Roberts. Mullen's body was almost completely cut in two a little above the waist line. The left arm was completely severed, and the left leg terribly crushed. The right leg was broken at the knee joint and there vere severe lacerations on the face and trunk.

Parry was found to have sustained a mpound fracture of the skull through | Hill cemetery. the right orbit, portions of the bone penetrating deeply into the brain. All the ribs were fractured, penetrating into the lungs. The pelvis was also fractured on the right side. The coroner stated that either of the first two injuries would have caused death. While there will be an inquest, he has not as yet decided upon a time, nor has he empanelled a jury.

THE DEAD MEN.

Mullen was 35 years of age, and resided at the Highworks, and is sur-vived by a wife and two children, also by three sisters, Mary A. Mullen, Mrs. John J. Martin and Mrs. Patrick Lynch, all of this city. The remains were taken early this morning to the home of Mrs. Martin, 2727 North Main avenue. A membership card in the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen was found in his pocket.

Parry's home was in Hamilton, Wayne ounty, but he had been boarding in Nay Aug. The railroad officials notified his relatives shortly after the wreck, but up to an early hour this morning no answer had been received. It is thought that he is unmarried.
