NEW SPEAKERS ARE HEARD.

The Christian Alliance convention ontinued yesterday with an almost entirely, new force of speakers. At the morning service Rev. Father Soviski gave a stirring and spiritual address, basing his thoughts on Ezeklel vision of the river from the temple. In the afternoon Mr. J. Hudson Ballard, of Elmira, N. Y., gave a Bible reading on "The Word of God." He showed very plainly that the basis of all true character and useful service is the knowledge of the Bible. There is too little love for the Bible. There is time for many other books, but none, not even the most spiritual writings of good men can take the place of God's word,

Miss Louise Shepard, of New York hen sang an appropriate selection nd followed with a talk applying what the previous speaker had said. She said we should see Christ in the Bible prove Christ through the Bible and let Christ prove us by the Bible. The meeting closed with a consecration ser-

Miss Shepard then sang "Saved by Grace." The next speaker was Mr. Robert Freeman, of Buffalo, who gave an earnest gospel address and appeal. He said that the prevailing characteristic of this age and generation seems a be unbelief, indecision and procras-

Rev. Mr. Haendiges, pastor of the German M. .. church, conducted the losing exercises.

Today is expected to be one of the best days of the convention, as Rev. A. B. Simpson, of New York, the presilent of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, will speak both this afternoon and this evening. Miss Shepard will speak in the forenoon.

Thirty-five Men at Cliff Works Quit Work Because Laborers Were Set Doing Mechanics' Work.

Thirty-five journeymen boiler-makers, employed at the Cliff works of the Dickson Manufacturing company, went out on strike on Tuesday morning and they say they will not return to swork until their grievances are adjusted. It seems that a new foreman named

Andrew Brown, from Paterson, N. J., was put in charge of the boiler-makers some three or four months ago. There s a certain rough kind of work known as "chipping" connected with the trade and the foreman has been employing laborers or helpers to do this work. While the journeymen do not wish o do the work themselves they think that the apprentices should do it, as they in time will become journeymen, They also contend that after a time the laborers will go to other places and palm themselves off as journeymen, thereby jeopardizing the positions of other members of the craft. They had made several protests and each time the laborers were removed but they have been placed back at work again with such recurring frequency that the men decided that stringent measures would have to be taken and they accordingly quit work. They say they will not return until DOSHIVE ASSUTATIONS that there will be no more troublemin this direction.

W. Callender was elected trustee of Keystone academy. The history of the First German church, Scranton, was read by Brothe Fred Shuman, and the report was or dered printed in the minutes. Treas. urer Richards Nichols then read his report, which showed the total reccipts for the year $147.16; expenditures $93.58; balance on hand, widows' and orphans' fund, $45.64; incidentals, $7.94 total, $53.58. The report was received and ordered placed on file. The auditors' report was also received and filed. The report of the committee benevolences showed the contributions for the past year, $1,615.01, which is decrease in the amount received in the previous year. A representative of The Commonwealth, a Baptist publication, spoke in behalf of the paper. Dr. D. A. Capwell, of Keystone acad-emy, reported for the committee on the institution, and the report showed an increase in the number of students en-tolled. He spoke of the academy in glowing terms and was followed by Dr. James W. Putnam, of New York, who opened the eyes of the assembly by making the statement that the work at the institution cannot continue uness the endowment is raised, Putnam called the attention of the association to the needs of Keystone academy, and urged upon them the necessity of keeping up the magnifi-cent work which has been done during he past thirty years at Keystone.

Mrs. Harriet M. Jones, of Philadel phia, a representative of the Woman's Work for Foreign Miss ovs, was the next sheaver and prescried the ingent nee s'y i contributing funds toward missionary wors. The talk was along missionary lines and received the undivided attention of the audienc.

The ommittee suggested that the letter in regard to the Dudley Street church be placed in the hands of the missionary ommittee for their advice and action.

The motion to adopt the report of the ommittee as read brought forth considerable discussion, owing to the desire of the association to have the letters from the churches read. An nent was made to have the letters read, and an amendment to the amendment was offered to refer the matter back to the committee for further action and report. The mover of the first accept accepted the second amendment and the result of the vote as announced was favorable to the matter being referred back to the committee for further report this morning. Some one moved to adjourn with singing of "Blessed Be the Tie That Binds," but many thought it a farce to induige in the song in view f the existing controversy, but it was sung nevertheless. Henediction was pronounced by Mr. Pierce.

EVENING SESSION. Last evening the time was devoted o the annual rally of the Baptist Young People's union. The meeting was opened at 7.30 o'clock with a praise and song service, led by Dr. B. G.
