SUESTANTIAL EVIDENCE OF ITS WELCOME PRESENCE.

1 Indications From Schuylkill County Which Point to a Period of Exceptional Activity in Business-New Industries and New Investments in All Sections.

Pottsville, Sept. 17 .- A summary of the industrial news of the past month, made by the Miners' Journal, shows that Schuylkill county is soon to experience one of the greatest booms n its history;

The Pottsville Iron and Steel Works are to resume operations. The Pioneer Furnaces are to put into blast. The Schuylkill Haven Rolling mi" resumes work

The employes of the P. & R. shops at Palo Alto are put on twelve hours time per dav

The Marion colliery at St. Clair is to resume work.

Two of Shenandoah's most import ant collieries resume work after a long period of ideness.

The Orwigsburg shoe factories are overcrowded with orders. The productions of these factories goes to all parts of the civilized world, including sections of Africa and Asia.

The P. &. R. collieries in this section are working six days per week. All of the county banks, the best possible barometer of business, are in a highly prosperous condition. The wages of the miners under the fluctuating basis are the best in years. The railroads throughout the county are gorged with traffic

The Franklin Iron Works at Port Carbon and the Vulcan Iron Works at Tamaqua are in a prosperous condition.

The Reading railway is increasing Its facilities for handling its great coal traffic, notably at Tamaqua and Port Clinton Tamaqua's boom is the greatest in its history. Over one hundred houses were erected there this year, and plans are already being laid for the erection of as many more next year.

The Philadelphia and Reading railway finds it difficult to secure enough mechanics to handle all their work. Six machinists can find work by applying at the engine house at Palo Alto this morning.

Fifteen substantial houses were crected in Port Carbon this year and at least a score more will be built next vear.

The Pottsville board of trade expects to add half a dozen different industries to the county sent during the next Vent

The P. & R. railway added a number of new employes to its pay roll at Cresona during the week. Pottsville building boom next year will give employment to 400 mechanics

The underwear factories at Schuylduring the summer. cill Haven Several local capitalists are selling their investments in bonds and stocks In order to obtain each to build new tenement houses in Pottsville next year. The large new P. & R. shops at Schuylkill Haven are not large enough for the amount of work to be done. Some of the men are obliged to work outside. The new Wadesville colliery, which Wall Stret Review.

New York, Sept. 16 .- The appearance of the bank statement effectually dispersed all the encouraging illusions that speculative holders of securities have been indulging for several days past and threw the market into demoralization. Prices were offered down by plugs and very heavy blocks were liquidated apparently for whatever
