NEW $2 BILL—The Traders' National bank yesterday received the new $2 bill which this city is the only one issued by the treasury department. It is a very handsome bill with a white back and the $2 mark in blue on the face. It will replace the old silver certificates which are to be called in.

KEMMERER INJURED—Willis Kemmerer, the well known bicycle dealer, was seriously injured Sunday afternoon, by being thrown from his bicycle on the Elmhurst boulevard. The handle bars of his wheel turned, which caused him to run into a tank. Mr. Kemmerer's face was lacerated and his side was badly bruised.

GRAND CHANCELLOR—Grand Chancellor Scott Doherty, of the Knights of Pythias, will be in this city on an official visit this week. He will be the guest of Lodge 371 tonight, and Lodge 219 tomorrow night, and on both occasions Mr. Doherty will confer the degree of past chancellor to several candidates. Every Knight of Pythias in this district is requested to attend the sessions of the lodges above noted.

PRINCIPALS' MEETING—The Principals' Meeting of the State Council of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics was held last night at the Hotel Hamilton. The meeting was held in the High school auditorium yesterday afternoon and elected the following officers: President, Henry Kemmerling; vice president, Mrs. Martha Jones; recording secretary, William Williams; corresponding secretary, Miss Josephine D. Lees. A programme committee was appointed, comprising D. R. Graves, William Fitzgerald and Professor Grant.

SERIES OF ART LECTURES—Arrangements have now been completed with Professor A. Van Laer, of New York, for a course of four illustrated lectures on "Biblical Architecture," "The Madonna in Art," "Borliza School" and "American Painters." The course promises to be one of the most attractive lectures of the coming season. They will be held on the four Mondays of November, at the hall of St. Luke's parish house, Wyoming avenue.

THEY DID NOT FIGHT—The Gaiety was opened up at 7 o'clock last night for the Judge-Gordon fight, when Sheriff Fryor, in person, served notice on manager Austin Walsh that the Christian Endeavor officers had again protested against the fight and it consequently could not be permitted to take place. Mr. Walsh said he was thoroughly satisfied to close and had only opened up because of his contract with the managers of the fight. The fighters did not put in any objection; in fact they dropped all arrangements upon learning in the afternoon that the sheriff agreed with the Endeavorers' attorney, C. E. Daniels, that the sparring match scheduled for the Gaiety was nothing less than the prize fight that had been billed for Muscle hall.

Candidates for the former office are Z. T. Wobensmith and James M. Crawford, both of Philadelphia. John W. Culver, the present treasurer, who has filled the position for thirty-five years will be re-elected.

Following the nomination of officers, the reports of the present state officials will be made. These will include Secretary Deemer's report, Councilor Bowers' annual address and other statements of the work accomplished during the past year. The place for holding the next meeting will then be decided upon, and in all probability Philadelphia will be selected. Thus far the Quaker City is the only city mentioned, and the Daughters of America close it yesterday as their place of meeting next year. The Philadelphia delegates have issued an open circular to the subordinate councils as follows:

To the Members of Subordinate Councils and State Council of Pennsylvania: Brothers: Recognizing that there has been for several years a widespread desire to visit the city of Philadelphia, by the representatives from all sections of our country, we are desirous of making the city better fitted to entertain the representatives in annual session.

Therefore, we, the undersigned representative of the council of Pennsylvania, representing the desires of our councils, do cordially invite the State Council of Pennsylvania to meet in our historic city in 1900.

We do earnestly solicit the support of your council and representative in accomplishing this object. We feel that we are justly entitled to the session next year, as fifteen years have passed since Philadelphia has had the pleasure of entertaining the annual session of the national council. The attractions of the City of Brotherly Love are almost too numerous to mention.

Our Independence Hall containing the Liberty Bell and many other sacred relics, Carpenters Hall, the Betsey Ross Flag House, and the Old Concord School House, which was the birthplace of our order, and the battlefield of Germantown are places which should be visited by every patriotic member of our order. Our educational and charitable institutions are many and should also be visited. Our Fairmount Park is the finest in our land, and the place of annual convention should be surpassed by none through American city and you will be welcomed by a thorough American mayor, our well known Brother Samuel H. Ashbridge. We have many first class hotels and ample accommodation for all those who desire to visit us.

We, the members throughout the state who have so generously entertained us in the years past, to give us a chance to reciprocate next year. Philadelphia is a city of hospitality, and we know all over the world. Come to us in 1900 and you will find that the Juniors know how to sustain that reputation.

Our membership of Philadelphia will welcome you gladly. We remain, Fraternally yours, Stanley L. Large, No. 86; Andrew G. Wirth, No. 25; H. C. Brown, No. 53; W. H. Moon, No. 30; M. J. Engle, No. 28; Z. T. Wobensmith, No. 13; John H. Alby, No. 30; Floyd Reed, No. 3; Thomas Kelly, No. 60; H. C. Brown, No. 78; F. W. Leuderer, No. 81; George C. Schneider, No. 7; F. J. Baug, No. 15; S. A. Bates, No. 20.

Action on the officers report will follow the selection of a place of meeting and approval of miscellaneous business will be introduced. Under this order of business, the action of the national council in session at Minneapolis last June, regarding the changing of the name of the organization, will come up for concurrence. The national body's decision to have a woman's auxiliary will also be acted upon, and may be ratified, as the Daughters of America and the Daughters of Liberty, while they are at present affiliated, are not auxiliary.

The matter of changing the name will not be concurred in, as the national council has recently suggested that no action be taken. The change suggested was to be the name "United Americans," but in view of the fact that the "Order of United Americans" was instituted in Philadelphia on Feb. 15, 1895, and incorporated the following December, the change is an impossibility. The order referred to has over 5,000 members and twenty-six temples in Pennsylvania and nine in New Jersey.

SIX APPLICATIONS FOR DIVORCE

THEY WERE FILED WITH PROTHONOTARY COPELAND.

One of the Petitioners is William Reid Whose Domestic Troubles Have Been Repeatedly Aired in the Papers During the Last Few Months—Opening Day of the September Term of Common Pleas Court—Two Actions in Ejectment Begun—Langstaff Contest.

Six applications for divorces were filed with Prothonotary Cope land yesterday. One of the petitioners is William Reid, the Dunmore mine boss, whose troubles with his wife and her boarder, Robert Neismith, during the early summer, are still fresh in the minds of newspaper readers.

The Reids were married Feb. 18, 1891, and lived together till June, 22, 1893. Everything went well with them until Neismith, who was Reid's playmate in boyhood days in Scotland, came along and was taken into the household as a boarder. He was not in the house very long before Mrs. Reid evidenced so strong a liking for him that her husband grew suspicious and spoke to her about it. According to the husband's story, she not only did not deny having a fond feeling for the boarder, but openly admitted that he was her ideal man.

Thereupon Reid ordered Neismith from the house. He said he would go if Mrs. Reid desired it. Mrs. Reid not only did not want him to go, but averred that if the boarder went she would go, too. The boarder went and true to her word she also left.

This all occurred in the latter part of June. A few weeks later Reid had Neismith arrested for alienating his wife's affections. The warrant was served July 13, and Neismith, in default of $1,000, was committed to jail. He remained in jail for nearly a month, receiving visits from Mrs. Reid. The incarceration, however, was decidedly to his unliking and he sued for a compromise. Reid relented and agreed to withdraw the charges if Neismith would return to Scotland and leave him to the uninterrupted enjoyment of his wife's affections.

Neismith got out of jail and left the city, ostensibly to return to Scotland. It appears, however, that he did not go, but instead remained in this country and continued communication with Mrs. Reid. At least, so the husband believes, and hence the divorce proceedings. John F. Scragg is his attorney.

Mr. Scragg also filed two other bills in divorce. One is against a woman, separation from her 29-year-old husband, Harry Finn, of the Sixteenth ward, because of alleged cruel and barbarous treatment. They were married Oct. 21, 1897, in Portland, and lived together until July 12 of this year.

Frank Schauer, a barber of the South Side, alleged desertion against his wife, Elizabeth Rosen Schauer, and asks to be divorced. They were married July 7, 1888, and she left him, it is claimed, in July, 1899.

Mr. Moore and John E. Quinn, yesterday began proceedings to secure a divorce from Susan Miranda Wood, to whom he was married on Aug. 17, 1872, at White Haven. After residing there for a time they moved to Allentown, where Wood alleges she left and deserted him on Dec. 22, 1892. She has not lived with him since. Wood now resides at 733 Monroe avenue in this city and Mrs. Wood lives at Waukegan, Ill.

Mrs. Margaret McGowan, of Carbondale, seeks a divorce from John J. McGowan, who is now serving a six years term of imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary. Mrs. McGowan is represented by Attorney John F. Reynolds, of Carbondale.

Mrs. Margaret McGowan was married in October, 1886, and lived together until April 15, 1897, when Mrs. McGowan says, she was compelled to leave her husband because of his conduct toward her. On April 16, 1897, she deserted him because of his desertion. She has not lived with him since. Wood now resides at 733 Monroe avenue in this city and Mrs. Wood lives at Waukegan, Ill.

Attorneys Voshare and Dawson filed a bill in the case of Miles Price, who is now serving a term of six months in the Eastern Penitentiary, to whom he was married in December, 1894. They lived together until September 7, 1897, when Price alleges that his wife deserted him and has since resided in her desertion.

Common Pleas Court. The September term of Common Pleas court opened yesterday morning. Judge R. W. Archbald is presiding in the main court room and Judge F. W. Gunster in No. 2.

When the trial list was taken up in the morning after a recess of ten days, the following cases were continued for trial: John Shinko against Mrs. Mors, judgment opened; A. D. Dean, trustee, against Joseph Church, et al.; Winton Coal company, limited, against Hancock Coal company, limited; and the case of Peter Rake against the city of Scranton by which the plaintiff was allowed $75 and interest from the time of the filing of the award of the arbitrators in the case. Before the noon recess the case of the Pittsburg Terra Cotta Lumber company against John A. Mears was called for trial in the main court room and occupied the attention of Judge Archbald until 4 o'clock of the day.

The plaintiff company is represented by Attorneys J. W. Carpenter, F. W. Fleitz and E. C. Newcombe, of this city, and Mr. Lineaweaver, of Pittsburg, and the defendant by Attorneys Joseph O'Brien and I. H. Burns, Mr. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Has been used for over FIFTY YEARS by MILLIONS of MOTHERS for their CHILDREN. It is the only PERFECT SUCCESS. IT SOOTHES THE CHILD, SOFTENS THE GUMS, ALLAYS ALL PAIN, CURES WIND COLIC, BRUISES, and is the best remedy for DIARRHOEA. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. The action grows out of the construction of the Mears building at Washington avenue and Spruce street. The contract for fire proofing the building was given to the plaintiff company, but Mr. Mears alleges that the work was not properly done and that the provisions of the contract were not observed. The company claims there is $7,500 due them which the defendant refuses to pay. The case will continue all of today, at least.

Before Judge Gunster, J. A. Barron is trying to collect $115 from Hubert Johnson. Both men reside at Philadelphia and Barron alleges the amount is due him for groceries and passage tickets to Europe obtained by Johnson. The latter alleges that he sent steamship tickets to friends in England for Barron, but declares he did not assume responsibility for the payment of them. He admits owing $25.10 and is willing to pay that amount. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney C. L. Haxley and the defendant by Attorney John B. Collings. Testimony for the defense was being heard when court adjourned.

Two Ejectment Suits. James O'Malley is the plaintiff in an action in ejectment begun yesterday against Bridges, Mary, Edward, Kate, John R. Edwards, and James Lawler.
