CARBONDALE.

OPENING OF SCHOOL.

The school board has decided not to delay the opening of school beyond Oct. 2 on account of the central building. The following letter will show the status of affairs:

Every district school in the city will open on Monday, Oct. 2, the central building opening as soon as the addition is completed, but every pupil who expects to enter the eighth or ninth grades at that building must report on Monday between the hours of 9 a. m. and 12 o'clock noon, or 1 and 4 o'clock p. m. to Principal Bryden and Superintendent Gare, who will be in the room which was known as Mr. Collins' room last term. Every student will then be required to register and state the course of study he is

Owing to the crowded condition of No. 8 or Belmont street school, a new room has been furnished at No. 7 or Farview street school and a resolution recently adopted by the board instructs all pupils living west of the Lackawanna river in that district to go to the Farview street school and the Belmont street school. This rule will be strictly enforced in every in-Respectfully. stance. W. R. Moon, President.

THEATRICAL.

At the Academy of Music.

"A Nutmeg Match" was played to a big house at the Academy last night by the Katharine Rober company, and in the afternoon a crowded house witnessed a repetition of the excellent presentation of "Killarney."

"A Nutmeg Match" will be repeated this afternoon and the even u, bill will be "Romeo and Juliet." This is one of the best, if not the very best popularpriced repertoire companies that has been at the Academy.

Miss May Irwin.

For the first time in several seasons Miss May Irwin will be seen at the Lyceum tonight. She will present her new farce "Sister Mary," in which she has been very successful. Miss Irwin is the embediment of good humor and spontaneous fun. She has only to appear on the stage and a close bond of sympathy is at once established. Her joylality and "bon homie" are irresistible. She has what so few women on the stage possess-a keen sense of humor. And to all these natural gifts Miss Irwin brings to her work, however trivial that it may seem at times, an artistic perception of the highest value.

Up to Date and More.

Hoey & Norton's Twentieth Century omedians will be seen at the Galety for the remainder of the week beginning with this afternoon's matines The Buffalo News says of the company

"Bright up-to-date acts by other omedians, singers and dancers and acrobats were so well given that they all received deserved recalls. The walls of the Lyceum never before resounded with such hearty peals of laughter. The crowded house was kept interested in all they saw and heard for nearly three hours, until the final curtain checked the storm of applause.

The Parry Concert.

Friday evening Dr. Joseph Parry and his great party of concert and operation ambulance which is one of the finest artists will give a concert at the Lyceum. It will be one of the features of the musical season.
