AFTER POT HUNTERS.

Sheriff Harvey Will Clear the Susquehanna of Eel Weirs.

Special to The Scranton Tribune.

Pittston, Oct. 1.—Sheriff Harvey, of Luzerne county, has decided to clear the Susquehanna river of all eel weirs and other illegal fishing contrivances, three or four of which are known to exist at different points along the river within this county. Several deputies were at work Saturday removing one of these, situated between the island and east shore, opposite Port Griffith. The river is narrow at this point and the water runs swiftly over the reef. Along this reef loose stones had been piled to almost a level with the water, extending from each shore towards a point in the center, in a "V" shape. A space several feet wide was left open in the center and arranged so that a net with several pockets could be attached without difficulty. The fish, especially eels, in coming down the river are confronted by the pile of stones and naturally swim along the line until they find the opening in the center, through which, of course, they pass unsuspectingly into their nets. This has been the case in the past two weeks. The deputies destroyed the weir by wading waist deep into the water and scattering the stones hither and thither.

Another weir is located at the county line, near A. L. Stanton's farm, and another near the railroad bridge in West Pittston. Both will be destroyed. The one near Stanton's is a well-built wall of stone and mortar, extending almost across the river, and has existed for several years. It is expected that its removal will require a week's work with a force of about ten men.

POLITICS IN PIKE.

A Struggle for Offices That Are Worthless Financially.

Special to The Scranton Tribune.

Stroudsburg, Pa., Oct. 1.—The regular October term of the Pike county courts will be held on the 16th ult. No jurors have been summoned and the session will be a very brief one. The lawyers in Pike county have hard work to make a living on account of the scarcity of legal business. There is only one criminal case held in a year. There are only four lawyers in the county and they find plenty of time for sport and recreation. The taxes of the county do not amount to $10,000 a year. Notwithstanding all this, Pike county elections are generally lively. At the present time the regularly nominated Democratic ticket will likely be opposed by an independent Democratic ticket. The office of district attorney in Pike county is hardly worth the asking for. But at the late Democratic primaries the New Testament printed between two well-known Democrats. Even the Prohibitionists of Pike county this year will make a fight to get in possession of the county offices. The Republicans have been gaining ground for years and are hopeful of making much headway at the coming election.

ALL THE WAY ALONE.

Long Journey of a Seven-Year-Old Prussian Boy.

Shamokin, Oct. 1.—From off the Lehigh Valley train from New York, shortly before noon yesterday, there stepped a little frail boy, comfortably attired in coarse clothes, wearing a military cap, and carrying in one hand a small traveling bag and in the other a copy of the New Testament printed in a foreign language. Station Master Yordy evidently expected the child, for he stepped up to him, and after looking at the tag, hanging on his coat, led him into the station, where he attracted considerable attention.

The boy's name is George Ptasiniski and his age is seven years. He hails from Prussia and traveled the 4,000 miles to Shamokin alone. He arrived on the steamship Lahn from Bremen, Germany. His father died shortly after he was born, but the mother married again and when George was only a year old left him in the old country with her mother, and she and her husband came to Shamokin, subsequently going on a farm a short distance from Herndon. The boy's purpose is to rejoin his mother.

DEWEY IN COAL.

Unique Presentation Made by an Ingenious Shenandoah Man.

Pottsville, Oct. 1.—Among the tokens of esteem which Admiral Dewey will receive is one that was sent him yesterday from Shenandoah. It consists of a faithful likeness of the admiral worked out of anthracite coal. The work of art is in the shape of a plaque, circular in design and about eight inches in circumference. It is mounted in the usual way.

The coal out of which the design is made was mined at Paicker No. 2 colliery, and was brought to its present state of pleasing perfection by Walter Kauffman, of Brownsville, who is quite an expert at fashioning ornaments from rough specimens of the dusky diamond. Mr. Kauffman presented the plaque to his father-in-law, Mahlon Albaugh of West Apple alley, who in turn forwarded it by express to Admiral Dewey accompanied by the following letter:

To Admiral Dewey, U. S. N.—Dear Sir: In behalf of my infant son born upon the first of March, 1898, and named in your honor I present this token of my esteem as an American citizen. As you will see it is made from our anthracite coal, which I have had cut and used in my furnace. With kind wishes for long and happy success, I am sincerely yours, Mahlon Albaugh.

PROF. COLES FOR OCTOBER.

From Storms and Signs.

A more remarkable conjunction of the planets than has occurred for six thousand years will take place in October, November and December of this year. It will not be a perfect conjunction, but on the 21st of the present month Uranus, Saturn, Jupiter, Mars, Venus and Mercury will be in a line, the latter being on the opposite side of the sun near where the earth is on June 1st. At the same time Neptune will be on the opposite side of the sun, or near where the earth is on December 1st. This planetary conjunction in planets in line, and explains the meaning of what is called the great planetary conjunction that is being discussed in all civilized countries. On December 1st the earth will have moved into line with the sun and six of the big planets arrayed against poor old mother earth, she will receive some awful punishment, we fear.

THE OCTOBER OUTLOOK.

The New Moon occurs on the 4th at 2:07. The first aspects formed are a sextile to Saturn and trine to Neptune. The latter is a very favorable business outlook for the coming year. The vital forces being about equal in strength will cause the stock markets to fluctuate in prices and great excitement will prevail. The planets point to a great calamity in the Western Hemisphere, but it will be closed by the end of the year. The unusual nature. The life of a great ruler will end during these planetary conjunctions and cause universal sorrow. Auroral lights, earthquakes and volcanic eruptions will be common in the world. The "Yellow Jack" will continue to increase in virulence; and typhoid fever epidemics will again spread over the country. Dysentery will prevail among those born in sign Scorpio; and cholera will be common. The "born in the sign Sagittarius." "Rally" applied to the eyes will cure the latter disease and the eating of a nutmeg, by the nibbling process, will cure the former. The "Yellow Jack" caused a great consternation in the South last month, when prediction foretold. The Bubonic plague will sweep its thousands to death this fall.

VALUABLE INFORMATION.

The fish caught on the 7th, 12th, 16th, 17th, 24th and 25th will be in best condition and tenderest of them all. Bleed the fish as soon as caught for a fish that dies a natural death is no more fit to eat than a pig or chicken that dies the natural death. We will again send full directions for "Rally" cures, for sowing, fruit gathering and all such information free for postage two stamps this month. Pork killed on the 7th, 9th, 12th, 16th, 17th or 18th, the meat will be excellent and when fresh from the mill, will be enough grease come from it to run in the pan. Killed on the 21st, 24th or 31st the meat when cooked will fry all to grease. Those who do not believe in moon signs can be convinced by letting the moon shine on fresh butchered beef at night—the meat will be green and putrid as carrion by morning.

Chicago Grain and Produce.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Receipts of cattle today were too small to make a market and quotations were almost entirely nominal. A few lots of medium grade cattle sold at unchanged prices. There was a fairly active demand for hogs at yesterday's market, but the market was scarce.
