Councilman Bergan Commences Legal Proceedings to Obtain Possession of His Seat - Warrants Issued for the Arrest of ex-Secretary Cavanaugh-Church Societies Meet-

As intimated in our vesterday's correspondence the attempt to oust Councilman Bergan from his seat in the Mayfield council has been taken to court. Mr. Bergan had a mandamus issued against the other members of council to show cause why he should not exercise the rights and privileges of the office to which he was ected and later in the day the deputy sheriff was in Mayfield serving the necessary legal papers upon the coun-The case is returnable on the 9th, and it will be followed with much interest by both factions of the May-

Last night was the regular meeting night of the Mayfield council, but only E. J. Edmunds, Richard Reynolds and P. F. Bergan were on hand at the proper time, and after waiting a few minutes without either of the other councilmen making an appearance, the three named departed and closed the council chamber.

Thomas J. Quinn, acting on behalf of the William Walker Hose company, yesterday had two warrants sworn out for the arrest of Mathew J. Cavanaugh, it is claimed, some time ago Juplicated an order ordered drawn by council in favor of the are company for the sum of $60, which he appropriated to his own use The warrant was placed in the hands of Constable Mulderly and the hearing was to have taken place at o'clock. At the hour named the burgess, tax collector, borough treasurer, zeveral conceilmen and indeed nearly all the prominent men of the town were assembled in the office of Justice of the Peace Mendelson, where the case was to be heard, but after waiting some time it was discovered that the constable had not been able to find the ex-secretary who, as is well known, repaid to the borough treasurer the $60 several weeks ago.

THE EARLIEST RUBBER SHOES. Ungainly Appearance of Those Made Fifty Years Ago.

From the Philadelphia Record. India rubber shoes were first manufac-

Endowed by nature with a most lance of taying been run into molds, or blown, the same as glass bottles are made. They were made of pure rubber gum. No attempt was made to imitate the shape of the shoe or foot they were intended to cover. In shape they were hollow tubes, tapering toward the toe. taste or caprice of the customer. work was done by the salesman after the buyer had selected, according to his requirements, heavy or light, thick or thin of uninterrupted success attest to the Men's sizes were very heavy, the soles being frequently from one-fourth to a half inch in thickness. They were tied in pairs and stuffed with straw or hay to keep them in shape for shipment. A lady's foot, incased in such a huge illshaped mass of India rubber gum, weighing at least a pound, presented a clumsy appearance, indeed, particularly when compared with the light and truly artistic appearance of the present styles.

The first attempt at making overshoed of India rubber did not prove a success, a large amount of capital being sunk in the experiment, as well as all the un-sold stock. They answered the purpose in cold weather, but would not stand the heat, melting into a disgusting mass. Experiments to remedy this difficulty esulted in reaching the opposite extreme cold weather freezing them so hard as to make them brittle, so they could not be drawn over the shoe until they were thoroughly warmed, and this obstacle to success was not overcome until Churles Goodyeur discovered his process of vulcanizing rubber, which has rendered his

Dickens tas immortalized this particular style by placing them on the feet of the pretty Arabella that Mr. Winkle met and fell love with white viriting with Mr. Picklck at Old Wardle's.

All ruther shoes were made from the solid gom at that time, and we are safe in saying that a single pair would outweigh six pairs of those now in the macket. Besides being heavy and unly, they were often painful from being so tightly stretched over the foot. They made the wearer look club-footed, and any attteries—Seymour and Warner; Bailey Bergen. In 1844 Goodyear perfected his vul-canizing process, and his method of spreading pure gum upon elastic textile fabrics, and the manufacture of rubber shoes has since improved from year to year, until they have become a thing of beauty,
