COLUMBIAS. FRANKLINS AND HOOKS ENTERTAIN GUESTS.

Headquarters of The Three Companies Besieged by Firemen Last Evening-Initial Supper by The Ladies of First Baptist Church-Funeral of Arvilla Cannon-Accidents at Briggs' Shaft-Royal Arcanum Members Discuss an Important Question-Other Notes and Personals.

Columbias and Franklins stamped themselves as good fellows among the visiting firemen yesterday and outdid their efforts of the previous day in the way of entertaining their guests. After the parade the Lebanon, Bloomsburg and Allentown companies took possession of the local quarters and far into the night made merry with songs, music, cake walks and other hilarities which only go with a state convention At the Columbia quarters a temporary lunch awaited the visitors upon their arrival, and Permanent Men Perhrick, Thomas and Myers, together with ex-Councilman Chver, William Johns and the other members of the company served them to their hearts' The band played everything in their repertoire and several of the firemen rendered popular songs.

Another pleasant duty fell to the Columbia boys in entertaining the fol-lowing ladies from Allentown: Mrs. Alfred Butz, Mrs. Edward Butz, Mrs. Charles Butz, Mrs. Harry Eastman, Mrs. Frank Gramis, Mrs. Mary Gemert, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Charles Walf. They acompanied the Allen fire company to this city.

Last night many of the firemen visited the Continental mines under the guidance of Samuel Harris, and the Grand Central band of Lebanon, together with a number of the Columbias. Allens and others paid a fraternal visit to the Franklins' quarters at 9

AT THE FRANKLIN HOUSE. The Unions of Lebanon and members of various other companies spent the evening at the Franklin engine house where Permanent Men Kime and Lowry gave exhibitions of how they respond to alarms.

particularly visitors pleased with this treat and many spectators also witnessed the exhibitions. Permanent Man Lowry was presented with a mammoth bouquet of cabbage stumps, turnips and red beets and his associate Mr. Kime was awarded a fish horn six feet in length for his trouble

The Ringgold band was stationed in the tent adjoining the engine house and discoursed music during the evening. Members Daniels, Beavers, Kime, Vorhis and others attended to the wants of the guesis and an informal progremme of songs and speechmaking was enjoyed by the assemblage Cigars were passed and a smoker fol-owed the lunching. The Niagaras of Pittston, wer the guests of the Hook and Ladder company during the day and evening, and vere treated to an elaporate banquet last night in the company's quarters. The house was probably the hest dec-orated building in the city, and the work reflects great credit on Harry May, who arranged the electrical display in front of the building.

All three companies made a most creditable appearance in the parade, and turned out the largest numbers in the history of their organizations. The Columbias mascot "Tanner," was a conspicuous figure in the line.

AN INITIAL SUPPER.

ladies of the First Baptist church whose names begin with the letters A and B conducted a very profitable supper at the home of Mrs. A. M. Dershimer, on South Main avenue, last evening. From 5.30 to 9 o'clock many people availed themselves of the opportunity to patronize the tables and enjoy the spread. The ladies in charge were: Mrs. B G. Beddoe, Mrs. Charles Bush, Mrs. Bartholomew, Mrs. Arthur Banning, Mrs. Agnes Bisher, Mrs. Ashleman, Mrs. Adkins and Mrs. Alney.
