The train stopped and backed to the place of accident, and one of the brakemen was left with the body.

The young man was eighteen years ld and had been in this country two months, coming her from Poland. He has no relatives in America so far as ould be learned. Coroner Roberts was notified of the fatality. Meanwhile the dead body remained beside the railroad track, awaiting the coroner's arrival. The latter was on hand soon and ordered the body removed to Yourman's boarding house. He summoned a jury which will investigate the death.

CAKE WALK IN MUSIC HALL. It Attracted a Very Large Audience

FINAL EVENT OF THE CONVENTION

TOURNAMENT CONCLUDES THE PROGRAMME OF THE WEEK.

Visitors Homeward Bound Well Pleased with Scranton and Her People-Few Companies Remain Over Till Today-Hose Race, Hook and Ladder Race and Drill Proved Very Interesting Events-One of the Decisions on Individual Prizes Protested.

The firemen's convention is now a thing of the past. The last event occurred yesterday afternoon when the tournament took place, and last night only a few of visiting companies remained in the city.

It was a big event all through and augument in no small measure the fame Scranton has won as a convention city. On all sides we hear only the warmest words of praise from the visitors for the hospitable manner in which they were entertained. The convention committee is reserving congratulations for the highly successful results of its labors. Other cities in which state firemen's conventions have been held have given it out that these gatherings were a decidedly undesirable thing, but it is not likely that Scranton will be heard uttering any such complaint. The firemen were probably incited to obnoxious conduct in the instances which developed complaints. Here, they found entertainment provided for them that did not call for a display of boisterousness in its enjoyment. Like any other delegate would, the firemen took what was offered and being kept busy with reasonably quiet and orderly entertainment had little time for

Before departing they paraded the principal streets carrying horns and making a big noise. The Tribune was honored with a visit from the happy Pittston lads and has to acknowledge its appreclation of a delightful serenade, the feature of which was the rendition of 'Songs Without Notes" by their cow bell band.

KEPT OPEN HOUSE.

All the companies kept open house again last night that those who remained over night might be made to realize that the hospitality of Scranton firemen is unbounded. To speak accurrately, the "open houses" which were inaugurated Thursday night were still open last night.

All of yesterday the visitors kept making the rounds of the local companies' quarters and at night they were still at it. Both entertainers and entertained were having a great, glorious, grand time in their own peculiar way and the onlookers wished them

The firemen still remaining in the city are scheduled to leave this morn-The state officers and most of ing. the other prominent members of the association left at various times yesterday. enterprise "An industrial commissioner on ailroad is what a secretary of a board of trade is to a city. His business is build up the business of the road by ouilding up the business of the towns ontributing to the road's support.

"If towns along the line of a railroad are prosperous a road can be prosperous. A railroad can not expect to do business in a territory that is dead industrially. To figure it down to first principles it should be the duty of a railroad to do all it can to make every industrial body along its line wealthy and I might say healthy, happy and wise if it can, for then there will be more food eaten, more and better clothes worn, more building and furnishing of houses and more traveling. and when all this would eventuate the railroad capable of holding its own in competition ought to profit.

BOOK OF PARTICULARS.

"Already the transportation department is at work on a book." Mr. Daly went on to say, "in which is to be listed in ready-reference form, all the ren resentative industries on all the Lack awanna lines. This will be distributed broadcast, and it will be the duty of the industrial commissioner to bring these industries to the attention of the buyers and encourage purchases from them by offering the best freight rates the company can afford to give over its own lines and make with connecting lines. He will particularly endeavor to advertise these industries one to the other and strive to encourage an interchange of business. "Incidentally, the company will rigidly pursue the policy already inaugurated of buying all its supplies and having all its work done in its own immediate territory.

WANTS THE ORDER REVOKED.

Jacob Keiper Asks for the Custody of His Child.

Court granted a rule yesterday on Michael Walter to show cause why an order made in 1895 shall not be revoked. The rule was issued in the matter of the adoption of Pauline Vivian Kelper, at the solicitation of the child's father, Jacob Keiper, a resident of Altoona

The child was adopted by the Walters on Oct. 25, 1895, when all the parties lived in this city, and on July 21 of the present year, Mrs. Walters eloped with a man named Parker, taking the child to Indiana, where they have since resided

The father alleges that the woman is not the proper person to care for the child, and on that account wants the decree for adoption revoked, and the child returned to his care.

Yesterday morning saw as motley and as variegated an assortment of prisoners in police court as were ever arraigned there at one time before. There were twenty three offenders altogether the most of whom had celebrated firemen's day a little too much.

Thirty-one dollars in fines were colected from various plain and other drunks. Several prisoners were dis-charged including the two young lads arrested on Thursday morning who were supposed to be runaways from Belelfonte.

Dangerous Condition of North Main Avenue Trenches.

Manager Silliman yesterday stopped the running of cars on North Main avenue where the Philo street sewer is being constructed, owing to the danger of a fatality at that point. The soil is sandy and full of gravel, and when the cars pass over the trenches the ground is shaken and the dirt slides into the ditch. It is feared an accident may result if any more cars are run over the opening.

On of the difficulties which it was said, was causing the steel company to consider the advisability of moving freight rate it had to pay on ore brought here from the west and which despite the high cost of transportation was cheaper in the long run than the Tilly Foster and Lebanon ores which it had been using. "The towns that will be benefited most by this feature of the work are those to offer the best inducements. A board of trade that will co-operate with the commissioner will profit by it. The company will be found ready and willing at all times to do its share, and here in Scranton it sees opportunities of doing considerable. I have known roads in the west to give land and loan money to new industries that wanted to locate along their lines. How far the Lackawanna will carry its work of encouragement I am not prepared to state. I can say, however, that President Truesdale was never niggardly in the carrying out of any policy he adopted and in this particular policy he is enthusiastically interested.
