A MAGNIFICENT WOMAN

Pe-ru-na Drug M'f'g Co., Columbus, Gentlemen-After repeated use of Pecan only speak of its medicinal value in the highest terms. It is the best tenic I have ever known for general debility—a sure cure for liver complaint, and a never-failing adjuster in these of dysparatio. I have also used cases of dyspepsia. I have also used it in cases of female irregularities and weak nerves common to the sex, and have found it most satisfactory. Morrison in a New Role.

Lewis Morrison who has been the Mephisto of "Faust" for so many years that theatre goers find it difficult to associate him with any other role proved at the Lyceum last night that he can be great in roles other than Mephisto. His Frederick The Great," of which much has been heard, was produced at that theatre and was received with strong manifestations of approval. At the end of the third act Mr. Morrison was called before the curtain and made a neat little speech of thanks to the

The day has been when women, especially mar-ried women, expected to be haggard The "Frederick The Great" which Mr. Morrison and his company presented last night is very handsomely staged it is in fact one of the finest productions in that respect seen in Scranton for some time. Everything used on the stage during the production is carried by the company. As the irrivable many-sided king of Prussia, Mr. Morrison displayed great eleverness as an actor and was rewarded by the audience by many hearty tributes of applause. Miss Florence Roberts in the role of La Barbarina shared the honors of the evening with the star. The other members of the company gave excellent support to these two artists.
