FOOT BALL AT STROUDSBURG.

Wyoming Seminary Defeats the Normal—Score 10 to 0.

Special to The Scranton Tribune.
Stroudsburg, Oct. 8.—Normal played a fairly good game of foot ball yesterday with Wyoming seminary on Normal campus. Score, 10 to 0, favor of Wyoming. The interest in the game was increased when it became known that Overfield, the great University of Pennsylvania centre, would referee the game.

The feature of the game was the playing of Higley, who played right guard for the Normal team, and O'Neill, Normal's centre, did excellent work. The game was lost to the Normal on account of her poor interference. Normal was handicapped by not having three of her regular players in the game. The line-up was as follows: Normal—Ramsay, left end; Kennedy, left tackle; Hincham, left guard; O'Neill, center; Hight, right guard; Bird, right tackle; Davitt, quarterback; O'Neill, left halfback; Reese, right halfback; Palmer, fullback; Pervis, right end.

JAIL BIRD RECAPTURED.

William Spears is Returned to New Jersey Penitentiary.

Special to The Scranton Tribune.

Susquehanna, Oct. 8.—The warden of the Trenton (N. J.) penitentiary came to Susquehanna on Saturday morning and fully identified the man captured here on Wednesday evening by Chief of Police Thomas J. McMahon of Susquehanna, as William Spears, who escaped from the penitentiary in August last in a mysterious manner. When Spears saw the warden he said, "Well, the jig is up." Asked by the warden how he escaped, Spears said: "It would be no good to tell you." Spears was committed from Paterson in 1894, for burglary, for ten years, and was serving his second term in the prison when he escaped. A reward of $100 was offered for his capture. There have been several mysterious escapes of late from the prison, and the matter is being officially investigated.

KILROW-LARRABEE CASE.

The Defendant Enters Rule to Arbitrate.

Special to The Scranton Tribune.

Susquehanna, Oct. 8.—Act I, scene II in the famous Larrabee-Kilrow legal case.
Immediately upon the rendering of the verdict against him by Justice Gleason of Susquehanna, the defendant appealed the case to the court of common pleas of Susquehanna county and has entered a rule to arbitrate. The rules and papers were served on plaintiff Larrabee by Sheriff Deal, of Monroe, on Friday, and it is returned on Monday, October 23, at 10 o'clock a. m.

CHRISTMAS TREE TRADE.

It is Monopolized Almost Entirely by Monroe County Men.

Special to The Scranton Tribune.

Stroudsburg, Oct. 8.—As in former years this county will furnish a goodly number of Christmas trees to the city markets. Fully a score of Monroe county men are preparing to go east to secure Christmas trees. In a week the advance guard will leave for the pine forests of New England to make ready for the mad Christmas tide. More than 95 per cent. of the Christmas trees which reached New York and Philadelphia and other extensive markets come from Maine, and are handled by Monroe county men. It is a poor acre of fir land which will not yield 5,000 trees, and allowing $10 an acre for stumping, $30 an acre for labor and carriage and $50 an acre for freight the trees do not cost 2 cents apiece delivered in Boston or New York. The price of the smallest tree in the city is seldom if ever below 25 cents. Ascending from that sum to a maximum of $100 a tree can be found. Customers the men who handle Christmas trees are in no danger of becoming poor.

Of late years the Monroe county men, however, have had decreased profits. Many of the trees shipped by Monroe county men go to Philadelphia and for the past few years the market has been overstocked, and carloads of trees went for a song.

DEATH ROLL.

Mrs. W. S. Wells.

Wilkes-Barre, Oct. 8.—On Friday morning at her home on North Franklin street, Mrs. Wells, wife of the venerable Judge W. S. Wells, passed away of old age. She was born in Suffolk, England, in the year 1819, and came to America in 1823. In 1837 she was united in marriage at Kingston with W. S. Wells, then a struggling young lawyer and lived happily with him until the end. For seventy-one years she was a devoted member of the Methodist Episcopal church. Besides her husband, Mrs. Wells is survived by the following children: Charles D. Wells and Mrs. H. B. Courtright of this city; Mrs. J. Edwin Watt, of Catawissa, and Mrs. N. H. Davis, of Moshopy; Mrs. E. S. Morgan, deceased was also a daughter. The funeral services will be held from the residence on Monday at 3 o'clock p. m. Interment will be private.

Mrs. Mary E. Appley.

Honesdale, Oct. 8.—Mrs. Mary E. Appley died at her home on Main street at 2 p. m. Friday, after a long and painful illness. The funeral will be held on Tuesday. Her nearest relatives are second cousins. Miss Mary Effinger was born at West Chester, February 14, 1813, and came from an influential Quaker family. She became the second wife of Dr. Luther Appley in 1841 and came with him to Damascus in December, 1842. Two children were born to them, one died in infancy. Adelaide became the wife of Luther W. Peck and died Sept. 4, 1867. Mrs. Appley and her daughter resided at Damascus a few years after the death of her husband and then came to Honesdale where she has since resided.

Mrs. Mary Strauch.

Pottsville, Oct. 8.—Mrs. Mary Strauch died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Emma R. Lutz, 501 North Centre street at 11:40 last night. Mrs. Strauch was born in Reading Pa., in 1826. When ten years old her parents located in Pottsville, and during the long period of time in the interim she had resided on Centre street. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Emma R. Lutz, with whom she resided, and Mrs. Ellen Britton, of West Race street.

Mrs. Bridget Corrigan.

Nanticoke, Oct. 8.—There died in this place last week the oldest woman in Luzerne county, perhaps the oldest in northeastern Pennsylvania.—Mrs. Bridget Corrigan, whose age was 107 years. She is survived by one son, two daughters and nineteen grandchildren.

SKELETON UNEARTHED.

Supposed to Be the Remains of a Man Named Jones.

Special to The Scranton Tribune.
Pittston, Oct. 8.—The old Welsh cemetery used by the people of this vicinity some fifty years ago was brought to public notice on Saturday. The old cemetery was located on what is now known as William street, in front of the Pittston high school, and while workmen were engaged in excavating for the new city sewer the skeleton of a full grown man was unearthed about two feet from the surface.

When the cemetery was abandoned about twenty years ago, owing to the opening of city thoroughfares, the remains of the dead were removed to other cemeteries. The remains of one, a man named Jones, could not be found and the skeleton found Saturday is supposed to be that of Mr. Jones. William Jones, a student of Honesdale, believing the bones to be those of his father had them buried in West Pittston cemetery.

MONUMENT UNVEILED.

The Ceremonies at Catawissa Are Attended by Thousands.

Catawissa, Oct. 8.—Saturday was the greatest day in the history of Catawissa, the occasion being the unveiling of the handsome monument erected by the Lieutenant H. H. Hoagland post in memory of their departed comrades. From early morning until late in the evening a crowd of fully 10,000 people thronged the streets.
In the morning a procession of G. A. R. posts from this and surrounding counties, Scouts of Veterans, P. O. S. of A. organizations and numerous societies and bands paraded the streets and were heartily cheered. Governor Stone arrived at 2 p. m. and was escorted to the monument by the home post, where he was seated side by side with Farmer Cressy, the Democratic candidate for state treasurer. The invocation was delivered by Rev. U. Myers of St. John's Lutheran church, and the presentation address delivered by Rev. G. M. Pfeifer, of the Methodist Episcopal church. W. H. Rhawn, esq., delivered the address of acceptance, after which Governor Stone delivered an eloquent and patriotic oration.
Short addresses were delivered by Senator Vice-Commander Charles H. Hall, of Wilkes-Barre, and Rev. J. D. Smith, of Bloomsburg. Benediction was pronounced by Rev. G. H. Hemmingway, of Bloomsburg, after which Governor Stone held an informal reception. He was tendered a banquet by the home post at the Susquehanna house, and departed for Harrisburg at 7 p. m.

CULM CAUSES LITIGATION.

Damages Claimed Amounting Up in the Hundreds of Thousands.

Pottsville, Oct. 8.—Law suits for damages to property by culm along the banks of the Schuylkill river continue to multiply. On Friday Sheriff Probst, of Berks county, was here and served a large number of papers on Schuylkill county coal companies who are accused of washing culm into the river. Mr. Probst also visited Carbon, Luzerne and Lackawanna counties to give representatives of the coal companies legal notice of the suits brought. Altogether 620 papers were served by Sheriff Probst in the coal region. These were all issued in the cases of the 21 hills, excepting those of Berks county, farmers against the coal companies, charging them with allowing the dirt from the mines to run into the Schuylkill. As each year the culm appears farther down the Schuylkill valley, there is apparently no end in sight to the suits against the coal corporations. The claims in the hands of G. H. Gerber, of Pottsville, alone amount to over $100,000 for damages. Mr. Gerber has settled a great many of the suits he had on hand, but he has as many cases today pending in court, as he ever had. In order to settle the matter Mr. Gerber proposes to bring one big suit against all the companies responsible for the culm in the river. The claims of all of Mr. Gerber's clients will be merged into this one suit.

HORSE LEADS TO DISPUTE.

Murderer-Suicide's Property Causes Contention Among His Relatives.

Shamokin, Oct. 8.—John Thompson murdered his wife and shot himself in Irish Valley, two months ago, and his son, Frederick Thompson, was named administrator of the estate. A fine horse stood in the stable, and following the funeral the murderer's granddaughter, Miss Edna Thompson, said the horse belonged to her, charging that Mr. Thompson had given it to her previous to the tragedy.
Frederick Thompson took it from a stable Friday and sold the animal. Yesterday he was arrested at the instance of Miss Thompson and placed under ball for trying to illegally dispose of the horse. The case will come up at the next term of Criminal court.

TUNKHANNOCK.

Special to The Scranton Tribune.

Tunkhannock, Oct. 8.—Keystone academy, Factoryville, came over to try conclusions with our local foot ball team for the second time this season on Saturday last. The game was played on the fair ground before a small crowd and resulted in a victory for Keystone. Score 16-0, in 25-minute halves. The home team showed their lack of practice in their constant fumbling giving Keystone two of their three touchdowns. Tunkhannock had trouble in making gains when their kicks could hold the ball and the only man able to gain any ground for Keystone was Half-back Richards. The officials were W. N. Reynolds, Jr., of Wilkes-Barre, referee, and Professor Bromley Smith, of Factoryville, umpire.
Court convenes this Monday afternoon at 2 p. m. Judge Dunham is in attendance at the trial of Attorney Z. V. Ingham at Philadelphia and President Judge Little, of Columbia county, will preside.

PAPER MILL SOLD.

The Water Gap Establishment Will Not Join the Trust.

Special to The Scranton Tribune.
Stroudsburg, Oct. 8.—The Minel pulp and paper mill, situated near Delaware Water Gap, formerly owned by the Water Gap Paper Co., of New Jersey, was sold by the late owner, daughter of the late owner, to a number of New York paper men on Friday. The price paid is about $50,000. The purchasers include F. W. Felch, a member of the old firm, C. F. Hubbs, Mr. Donahue, all of New York, and Chas. Outterson of Waterford, N. Y. The new firm, with the exception of Donahue are all practical paper manufacturers and possess unlimited means. It is understood that the plant will not go into the paper trust.

PITTSBURGH.

Special to The Scranton Tribune.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 8.—A meeting of the citizens of Pittsburg was held in the board of trade rooms Saturday night to discuss the action of the city council in passing the ordinance providing for the purchase of the Troxell plot on Broad street for a city hall site, the sudden increase in the cost of the lot from $125 to $160 per front, and the hasty manner in which the ordinance was rushed through, having aroused their suspicion. A number of representative taxpayers were in attendance and expressed their indignation at the council's action. A committee was appointed to secure additional counsel to look after the taxpayers' interest at the hearing of the injunction proceedings before Judge Woodward next Tuesday. The matter of organizing a Taxpayers Association was discussed, and another meeting will be held next Thursday evening, when it is expected an organization will be effected.
During the past year or more the members of the Welsh Baptist church, of Pittsburg, made an effort to reduce the church debt. At the services on Sunday evening the committee made a formal report, stating that $90 had been collected and the church is now free of all debt.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Oct. 7.—The stock market was much neglected today, the yacht race proving the greatest attraction. Prices moved narrowly, and a few industrial, and the small room traders had the market all to themselves. They bid up prices after the opening in expectation of a favorable bank statement. Prices declined when the statement appeared, but there was no urgent liquidation and the bidding up of Louisville to 100½ over last night steadied the market. The closing was rather irregular. Attempts to still further depress Brooklyn Transit met with resistance and the stock gains a point net. Changes generally are very small and mixed, but the majority are gains. The bank statement failed to show the large relief as a result of expenditures by visitors to the Dewey celebration, and the reduction in the reserve requirement by reducing loans $3,500,000 was not sufficient to offset the loss in cash and the surplus falls to $42,520,000. Today's clearing house statement shows the sub-treasurer a debtor to that institution for $2,913,200. Coupled with the receipt of gold by today's incoming steamships this has a tendency to counteracting to a slight extent the unfavorable bank statement. Total sales, 189,100 shares.
