A number of Odd Fellows from this part of the city accompanied them on the trip and all were entertained at a banquet given by the Moscow Odd Fellows, after the installation ceremonies. It was long towards daylight before the party arrived home.

NEGLECTANCE THE CAUSE.

Verdict of Coroner's Jury in the Case of Collision at Nay Aug on August 11.

Coroner Roberts held an inquest in the Arbitration room in the court house last evening to inquire into the cause of the death of Patrick Mullin and Joseph Parry who were killed while in a caboose on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad on Sept. 11. The collision which resulted in a fatally occurred near Nay Aug about four miles from Scranton.

The train in which they were going at a rate of between eight and ten miles an hour when a train which was pushing the caboose along, with the above-mentioned results. Coroner Roberts arrived about 8:19 and the inquest was immediately started. S. E. Sullivan was present to look after the interests of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad, and John I. Martin was present in behalf of the interests of the dead Mullin's family. It was the second hearing, one having taken place last Monday night.

John J. Murray was the first witness called. He testified that he had been in the employ of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western for over nine years and that he was a brakeman. He had been in the caboose but had gotten out of it a few seconds prior to the collision. He further testified that he heard a whistle sound from the following engine. On being questioned, he stated that it was a dark night and rain had fallen. Patrick Cavanagh, the next witness was a brakeman and conductor. He was in the caboose at the time of the collision. He had not heard any whistle sound, but would not say there had not been one as he was occupied with something else and did not pay any attention to it. That closed the testimony and about 10:15 the jury returned the following verdict:

"We the undersigned jurors find that Patrick Mullin and James Parry came to their death on a railroad collision on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad, this collision caused by negligence of the man in charge of pusher on train No. 1, of man in charge of pusher on train No. 2 and the careless manner in which the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company control departure of trains from the Scranton yard. Signed, H. L. Morgan, David Owens, Chas. C. Mase, B. L. Robathan, Theo. Lowry, William Simpson. CUMBERLAND BILL IS PAID.

Long Standing, Much Discussed Account Finally Settled. Mayor Moir yesterday attached his signature to the ordinance appropriating $1,388.01 for the payment of Evans Brothers and the Nay Aug Lumber company's bill of extras on the Cumberland house house. The creditors lost no time in having the city clerk sign and city controller countersign their warrants and the city treasurer to cash them.

The bill is wholly irregular, every one who looked at it conceded, but it was done upon the order of city officials and, while the officials had no authority to order it, the contractors had no reason to believe those officials were not duly authorized and the council, with the mayor, after much hesitancy, shut their eyes to the irregularity and approved the payment of the bill. Evans Brothers, who had $500 tied up in the bill, were a new firm of younger plumbers just starting in business, and this was the first good sized job they received.

Councils two years ago appropriated $1,000 for the erection of the house house. The two firms above mentioned were given the contract to build it for $89, after plans by Building Inspector Nelson, which were figured to come within the $1,000 limit. When the original contract was completed the house was little better than an empty dry goods box as far as utility went. The then city officials inspected it and the mayor was persuaded to tell the contractors to go ahead with $1,388.01 worth of extra work which the building inspector had figured would be necessary to place the house in fairly good condition.

When the bill of extras came before the auditing committee some one wanted to know who ordered the work done and the consequence was that the claim was held up for investigation. Building Inspector Nelson and Plumbing Inspector O'Malley who had approved the bill when they were called before the committee said their signatures were intended only to certify that the work was done. They know nothing authentic as to who ordered the work to be done. Chief Hickey said under the circumstances that he approved the job, but answered the committee's interrogations as to whether or not he had ordered the work by saying "I have no authority to order any such work done and do not make a practice of assuming authority that does not belong to me."

It was now up to Mayor Bailey and the committee if it there. The issue of the matter is generally conceded to be something like this: The firemen and their friends wanted the work done and after a number of councilmen had agreed to stand by the officials the latter said "Go ahead, it will be all right. We'll get your bill through." It is hardly probable that such an irregular and presumptuous act will be undertaken again in a hurry.

THREE THOUSAND FOR KINDERGARTEN

BOARD OF CONTROL APPROPRIATED THIS AMOUNT.

Kindergartens, However, Are to Be Under the Supervision of the Board—Bid of Hunt & Connell for Heating and Plumbing Caused Many Complications—The Building Committee's Recommendation for an Annex in the First Ward Not Favorably Received—Firemen Exonerated from Per Capita Tax.

After many delays the Scranton Free Kindergarten association received its appropriation of $3,000 at last evening's meeting of the board of control, but the appropriation is in the nature of a compromise between the board and the association, as the resolution accompanying it differs in many vital respects from the original one introduced some months ago.

When the meeting was called to order by President James all the members were present with the exceptions of Messrs. O'Malley, Schrieffer and Schwass.

A communication from the board of health was read, calling the attention of the board to the necessity of the enforcement of the rules regarding the vaccination of the pupils and was referred to the teachers' committee. A petition signed by a number of taxpayers in the Tenth ward was next presented. It asked that the board build another school in that ward in order to accommodate the smaller children who are obliged to cross the railroad tracks on their way to school. After a great deal of lively debate, it was finally decided to refer the petition to the teachers and building committees.

DISCUSSION OVER A BID.

The next thing read was a bid from Hunt & Connell offering to furnish the heating and plumbing in No. 2 school for $7,512. It will be noticed that the bid for both the heating and plumbing is called for in the specifications. Ordinarily the plumbing is included in the general contract. The members therefore took it for granted that the bid was for the heating only and of course, considered it too high. Mr. Evans, who is a hot-air-heat enthusiast, saw an excellent opportunity for a clinching argument in favor of that form of heat in the high bid, the latter, of course, being for steam. A number of other members also had their views on the question of heat. Mr. Barker made a motion to reject the bid, advertise for others, and Mr. Evans amended to have hot air stipulated in the specifications. The amendment was not seconded and another was proposed and adopted instead of inviting bids of the different heating systems.

Then Mr. Jennings offered a motion that the specifications be changed and then the board woke up to the fact that the bid included plumbing. Then Mr. Schrieffer wanted bids for No. 38 school advertised for also. This was agreed upon and a motion was passed providing that the bids for the plumbing be advertised for separately. There were a number of other motions and amendments sandwiched in between the above, but they would be incomprehensible to the lay mind unacquainted with school board parliamentary law.

COMMITTEE REPORT.

The report of the building committee was next presented by Chairman Shires and was as follows: "The building committee recommend that the contract for the heating ventilation of No. 2, be awarded to Hunt & Connell for the price named in their bid, $1,917, being the lowest and best bidders. We recommend that a $200 bonus be given to the contractor for tearing down old No. 2 for the material in the building, the board reserving the right to remove any and all material at the shape of furniture and movables that may be of any use to the district. We recommend that the janitor of No. 21 be paid at the rate of $2 per month on account of addition to building, to date from Sept. 1. That the janitor of No. 5 be paid $5 additional on account of the opening of annex, to date from Oct. 1. The janitor of No. 25 to be paid $5 additional on account of opening of additional rooms, to date from Sept. 1 and the janitor of No. 32 to be paid at the rate of $9 per month, the same as Nos. 18 and 35. We also recommend that the building committee be instructed to fit up five rooms in old No. 3 and that the contractor of No. 21 be instructed to furnish three additional rooms for pupils of No. 2 during the construction of No. 2. We further recommend that the controller of the ward and the superintendent of schools be instructed to see if an annex is needed in the upper end of the First ward and to have power to rent a suitable annex. The report was adopted except the last clause, which provides for the hiring of a new building by the controller from the First ward, who happens to be Mr. Shires himself. The funds, the latter explained, were to be taken from next year's appropriation. This clause, caused serious objection. Quoth Mr. Gibbons in objecting: "I can't vote on this, as I don't know who'll be here from my ward after next February. Mr. Shires is probably in earnest. If he didn't have two more years to serve we might say he was electioneering, playing to the galleries, but he has those two years ahead of him, yet, and there's no cause for any anxiety on his part."

LAI D ON THE TABLE.

On motion of Mr. Casoy, the last clause of the report was laid on the table. Mr. Jennings then said that he understood that the sub-contractors furnishing the stone for Nos. 9 and 28 were having the work done outside the city, a practice which he declared was unjust to the interests of the city. He moved that the building committee furnish data at the next meeting as to who the contractors were and where the work was being done. The motion was carried.

Mr. Francois then spoke of the pool of stagnant water in front of No. 24 and asked that the board have some action as to its removal. Mr. Gibbons created great amusement by moving that the matter be referred to the board of health with power to act. The motion was put and was unanimously adopted.

The finance committee recommended that all active volunteer firemen be exonerated from the per capita tax, permanent men and honorary members not included. The recommendation was adopted.

The text book committee presented a request from the Young Women's Christian association for a number of old text books and the board granted it.

The report of the teachers' committee was next read and adopted. It was as follows: "The teachers' committee recommended that night schools be opened on the first Monday in November on petition, as heretofore, of the parents of not less than twenty pupils in the locality where the school is to be opened. No teacher is to be employed without a diploma approved by the certificate issued by the superintendent.

MATTER OF KINDERGARTENS. The kindergarten committee then asked that the board take the matter of the appropriation for kindergartens out of their hands. This was done and Mr. Barker then introduced the following resolution, which was unanimously passed, after which the meeting adjourned:

Resolved, That the sum of $3,000 be appropriated towards maintaining four or more free kindergartens, to be managed by the Scranton Free Kindergarten association in conjunction with the city superintendent of schools and board of control. Qualification of kindergartens must be such as to comply with the school laws and as required by the superintendent and laws of the Scranton board of school control. Location of kindergartens to be decided upon by the Scranton Free Kindergarten association subject to the approval of the board of control and be in trust. Resolved, That no person be employed as a kindergarten who shall not at the end of three months from this time pass an efficient satisfactory test as superintendent of schools, in addition to presenting a kindergarten diploma. The above resolution places the regulations of the kindergartens more directly under the supervision of the board of control than did the original one. One of the principal objections to the latter was that the state appropriation might be cut off on account of there being no clause providing that the teachers have state certificates. This is arranged in the new resolution by compelling the teachers to comply with the state school laws.

ATTEMPTED HER LIFE.

Mrs. Thomas Cooper, of Deacon Street, Cut Her Throat with a Razor—Condition Dangerous.

Mrs. Thomas Cooper, aged about 47 years, and residing at 623 Deacon street, made what was almost a successful attempt to end her life, very early yesterday morning, by cutting her throat with a razor.

Mrs. Cooper is a married woman and has been residing for several months past with one of her daughters, Mr. Lizzie Dibble, who resides on Deacon street. Mrs. Cooper's husband is a blacksmith by trade, but has been for a number of years somewhat dissipated, causing his wife much trouble and worry. He left her very suddenly a short time ago and when last heard from was in Canada. This fact, coupled with Mrs. Cooper's intense nervous disposition, all tended toward producing a state of melancholia almost bordering on mild insanity, from which she has suffered since her husband's departure. She has also had the hallucination of late, so common to sufferers of her class, that she was a burden upon her daughter, Mrs. Dibble. In fact, her condition grew so alarming that her sister, Mrs. Johnson, of Binghamton, has summoned to this city this Saturday at Mrs. Cooper's own request, for the purpose of taking care of her and watching her. Mrs. Cooper also expressed herself on Saturday that she was desirous of being placed in some institution, as she was afraid of herself at times.

She was not feeling any worse than usual on Sunday, but was heard to arise at about 5:30 o'clock yesterday morning, which was rather unusual. She came downstairs and passed by those in the house, greeting each, and went out into the yard. She went to her outhouse and in getting there attracted the attention of her sister, who followed after her. Mrs. Cooper entered the outhouse, slammed the door, and was heard the next moment to scream. Mrs. Johnson pushed open the door and found her lying on the floor, with blood streaming from an open gash in her throat and a razor in her hand. She was carried to the house, where efforts were made to stop the flow of blood, while medical aid was summoned.

Mrs. Surreth and Thompson responded and dressed the gash in the neck and made the unfortunate woman as comfortable as possible. The cut was several inches long and the windpipe was partially severed, allowing blood to flow into the lungs. This is the only mitigating feature against recovery, as pneumonia is very apt to set in. The chances are, therefore, about even for her recovery or death.

Mrs. Cooper was held in the highest respect by her neighbors in Green Ridge, and many expressions of sympathy were heard from them yesterday regarding her attempt to end her life.

MEMBERS OF CITY COUNCIL SCORED

THEY DO NOT ATTEND TO THEIR DUTIES.

That Is What Edward J. McNally Told Them at Last Night's Meeting of the Auditing Committee. Mr. McNally Has Had a Claim for Damages Under Consideration for Some Time at the Hands of a Committee—Feels That the Matter Has Been Neglected.

The spectacle of an aggrieved citizen publicly accusing councilmen of neglect of duty was the unusual event witnessed at last night's meeting of the joint session of the council and the auditing committee. A body composed of the chairman of the committees of each branch of the city legislature.

Edward J. McNally, the well known commercial traveler was the accuser and Select Councilman Edward James and J. J. Schneider the accused. These two councilmen with Common Councilman E. M. Tewkesbury were appointed a sub-committee of the auditing committee to investigate and report upon Mr. McNally's claim for $350 for damages done his property at the corner of Railroad avenue and Luzerne street by water overflowing the sidewalk into the basement of his house. When the report of the sub-committee was called for, at the conclusion of the routine business, last night, Mr. James, the chairman stated that he had not attended the meeting of the committee but had arranged one and that Mr. Tewkesbury would offer the report.

ENGINEER'S OPINION.

Mr. Tewkesbury said that in conjunction with City Engineer Phillips he and Mr. Schneider had examined the place and made an investigation. The city engineer was of the opinion that the damage resulted from the building of the Maloney Oil company switch and that the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company was the party to be held responsible. The members of the sub-committee found that the overflowing water came mainly from the railroad tracks and quite coincided with the city engineer that the railroad company was primarily responsible.

Mr. Roche argued that while it might be true the company was primarily responsible, the city would be answerable to the property holder. The city might hold the railroad but, the property holder had a right to expect reimbursement from the city. Mr. Tewkesbury said he waited on ex-Chief Engineer Archbald just previous to the latter's retirement but owing to the approaching severance of his relations with the company he declined to take the matter up. His successor had not been seen in the matter.

At this juncture Mr. James interjected that he had seen Mr. Archbald and that the latter admitted the company's liability. "Then" said Mr. Wenzel, "I favor holding the matter over until the committee had an interview with the Lackawanna people. As Mr. James says he saw Mr. Archbald."

SOME WARM WORDS.

"Mr. James didn't see anybody," broke in Mr. McNally approaching the long table about which the committee was assembled. "He has done the boy act in this whole affair. The matter has received no attention whatever at his hands." "What's that?" indignantly inquired Mr. James. "I'll have you understand I attend to my duties as councilman, and I gave this matter due attention. Even if the city is liable, you are asking too much. There is no $350 worth of damage there."

Mr. Roche interrupted with a rejoinder that personalities were altogether unbecoming and cautioned Mr. McNally to be a little more discreet in his utterances.

Mr. McNally retorted with, "When I was a public official I gave some attention to matters that were brought before me. He ought to give some attention to an important matter of this kind. I'm not begging for anything. I offered to make a compromise with the city. If it doesn't want to pay any attention to my offer I want to know it. My attorney is awaiting your decision."

Mr. Tewkesbury made a motion that Mr. McNally be tendered $50. Mr. Roche offered an amendment that it be made $75. Mr. James moved as an amendment to the amendment that the tender be $100, adding that this would fully cover all the damage. The $50 motion prevailed. Mr. McNally at this juncture unburdened himself further by adding that Mr. Schneider had neglected his duty in the premises.

"Mr. Tewkesbury is the only member of the committee that has given this matter any attention at all," said he. Mr. McNally asked for the return of his written offer of compromise, but was persuaded to let the matter rest as it is for the present.

SAUL WILL BRING SUIT.

Attorney Torrey Retained to Sue the City for Patrolman's Wages. Patrolman James Saul has retained Attorney James H. Torrey to sue the city for wages as patrolman from the time the mayor laid him off in August to the present.

Mr. Torrey will first make an effort to have the matter tried out in a case stated, but if this fails he will proceed in assumpsit. Patrolman Dyer will allow his claim to hinge on the outcome of the Saul suit.
