

EVENTS OF DAY IN WEST SCRANTON

RECEPTION FOR HOSPITAL AMBULANCE FUND.

Brilliant Social Function at Electric City Wheelmen's Club House—Regular Meeting of Board of Trade. Entertainments at Hampton Street and C. M. Churches—Cases Before the Aldermen—Reception Tendered Mrs. St. John—Funerals of Mrs. Warnke and Enoch Davis—Other Notes and Personals.

The reception and tea given at the club house of the Electric City Wheelmen yesterday afternoon for the benefit of the ambulance fund of the West Side hospital was not only a great social event, but as a financial benefit to the hospital was a complete success. The amount of money realized from the project exceeded the most sanguinary expectations of the enterprising young women having the affair in charge. It is estimated by the managers that over five hundred people attended.

Not only did West Scranton people turn out, but an unusual number of ladies from the central city stopped in during the afternoon. The unusual success of the tea is a great compliment to the young women in charge whose able help was the reason for the object was to purchase the ambulance for the hospital.

The rooms of the wheelmen are always attractive, but yesterday afternoon the club house was transformed into a veritable bower. Oak leaves were strung on the walls, while the stairs were covered with magnificent palms. Bauer's band entertained the guests from the second floor. A number of artists from the city also assisted in making the reception a social success.

Miss Elizabeth Thomas, soprano, entertained the guests with several selections. Mrs. L. R. Foster, Miss Lillian Shively and Ralph Williams, tenor, also sang, accompanied by Mrs. D. B. Thomas.

The refreshments were served in the dining room by the following young women: Margaret Edwards, May Edwards, Florence Gibbs, Edith Richards, Helen Thayer, Grace Thayer, Edith Blair, Gertrude Miller, Edna Williams, Grace Walker, Clara Hughes and Lois Fellows.

The frappe table, located under a spreading palm in the reception room, was presided over by Miss Margaret Gibbs, assisted by Miss Annie Edwards and Miss Christine Fellows.

The ladies who received were Mrs. Clarence R. Shryer, Mrs. Gomer Price, Mrs. P. F. Struppeler, Mrs. Rensseler W. Luce, Mrs. Robert W. Walker, Jr., Mrs. George L. Peck, Mrs. David J.

FUNERAL OF MRS. WARNKE.

The funeral of Mrs. Jacob Warnke yesterday afternoon was attended by many sympathizing friends from all parts of the city and the warmth of their affection for the deceased was manifested in the beautiful floral tributes sent to the house. The services there at 2 o'clock were conducted by Rev. A. L. Kramer, of St. Mark's Lutheran church, and Rev. P. H. Zieglman, of the Zion German Evangelical Lutheran church.

At 3 o'clock the remains were borne to the church on Millin avenue, of which deceased was a member, and there were assembled in the edifice representatives of many of the first families of Scranton. Both pastors spoke in the most endearing terms of the young life which had just passed beyond the great divide and offered words of consolation to the bereaved relatives. The cortege afterwards moved to Forest Hill cemetery, where interment was made.

The pall-bearers were John Genter, Henry Forster, Charles Oberdorfer, Ernest Schuster, Charles Stetter and Frank Robling. Flower-bearers: Albert Graff, Victor Wenzel, George Koch, Will Koch, Philip McAlone, Harry Cavanaugh, Fred Weiss and Nelson Teets.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING.

The local board of trade held a regular meeting in their room over the bank last evening. Less than a dozen members were present and nothing of importance was accomplished. A report was made that the Hyde Park avenue pike was completed and a new crosswalk had been laid on South Main avenue at the northerly intersection of Luzerne street.

The street commissioner's attention was called to the condition of the gutters on South Main avenue, between Oxford and Luzerne streets, and also on Washburn street, between Van Buren avenue and Morris court. A depression in the West Lackawanna avenue pavement near Fairview avenue was also reported.

The condition of that portion of the Newton turnpike which is within the city limits was referred to and the streets and bridges committee were instructed to wait on the mayor, street commissioner and councilmen from the Twenty-first ward to learn what Mr. Corse, of 117 South Grant street, has to say in regard to it. The farmers who look after the townships roads offered to put the thoroughfare in first-class condition for $350 from the tollgate down to Jackson street, but members of the council wanted to expend the money themselves and the result was that nothing has been done in the matter. Efforts have been made to obtain special appropriations for the repairs, but without success, and unless something is done before the frost sets in the traffic might as well close the road to traffic.

In view of the announcement made by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western officials regarding the appointment of an industrial commissioner, the secretary was instructed to furnish the chairman of the manufacturers committee with the names of his associates in order that they can confer with the new official relative to what land the company will offer for industries in West Scranton. The board adjourned after several minor matters were discussed.

ALDERMANIC CASES.

Frank Deagal, jr., of Van Buren avenue, and William McAndrew, of Back road, who were held in $1,000 bail each by Alderman Davies on Monday evening for a hearing last night on a charge of highway robbery, preferred by Martin Corse, of 117 South Grant street, were discharged, as the evidence was insufficient to hold them. They were each held in $200 bail, however, on a charge of assault and battery, preferred by Corse. Thomas A. McAndrew qualified as their bondsman.

Alderman John was called upon to decide a peculiar case last evening in which a police officer was the prosecutor. On Saturday night, September 30, Patrolman Mathews was called to quell a disturbance on South Main avenue, when several young men interfered. A warrant was issued for the arrest of two in the party who were suspected of interference. Both were required to pay the costs, but no direct evidence was offered to show that they in any way were connected with the affair.

MRS. ST. JOHN HONORED.

Mrs. Lizzie Parry James St. John, of Chatham, Va., who has been visiting relatives here for some time, was tendered a reception last evening by her many friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Griffith Davis, 1123 Rock street.

The majority of those who present were identified with the Cambrian-American Choral society which was formed by Mrs. St. John several years ago, when the reception was arranged to afford her an opportunity to renew the acquaintances of those who sang with her at that time.

The event was very pleasant, and the time was spent in singing old-fashioned songs and listening to new compositions through the aid of Edison's phonograph. Refreshments were passed and goodbyes were said to the honored guest, who leaves for Virginia next Monday.

JUNIOR LEAGUE SOCIAL.

A large audience attended the entertainment and social at the Hampton Street Methodist Episcopal church last evening given under the auspices of the Junior league of the church. The programme published in The Tribune was carried out in its entirety and each number received merited applause.

The participants were Flossie Rundle, Esther Howard, Hilda Parsons, Irene Moses, Stanley Ross, Viola Ruddle, Jennie and Annie Leister, Bessie Heller, Bessie Deihl, Walter Lewis, Rosa Sloan, Verma Roderick, Nellie Housh and Ada Polver.

B. T. Stone sang a solo, and the Epworth League Banjo and Mandolin club played several selections. The Ladies' Aid society served ice cream, cake, coffee and home-made candy.

AN EXCELLENT CONCERT.

The array of talent heard at the entertainment in the Welsh Calvinistic Methodist church last evening under the auspices of the young people of the church, is seldom gathered together in West Scranton, and an audience which completely filled the edifice sat patiently until after 10 o'clock to enjoy every number given.

Much by celebrated composers was rendered and to speak more favorably of one artist than another would be an injustice. Suffice to say that each participant was accorded their full measure of applause.

The soloists were Misses Margaret Jones, Lydia Sailer, David Stevens, Philip Warren, Thomas Boynton and John W. Jones. The elocutionist, Miss Sadie Jones, and the accompanist, Mrs. D. B. Thomas.

SOCIETIES ATTEND MASS.

Prior to the parade yesterday, the West Scranton temperance societies assembled at St. David's hall and marched to Father's hall, where they were met by Bauer's band, where they attended mass. The celebrants were Rev. J. B. Whelan, Rev. John J. Ruddy and Rev. P. E. Lavell.

The societies attending were the St. Paul's Pioneer Corps, St. Leo's Battalion, Hyde Park Father Mathew society, Father Mathew Cadets and St. Cecilia's ladies' society. The first named organization was honored with the marshal, chief of staff and division escorts in the parade, and Peter McCoy is the youngest grand marshal ever selected by the C. T. A. U. All the societies made an excellent impression in the demonstration, there being nearly a thousand from this side alone.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The Home Missionary society, of Simpson Methodist Episcopal church, held its annual election Monday evening. The following officers and committees were chosen: President, Mrs. G. Moser; vice-presidents, Mrs. J. B. Sweet, Mrs. H. M. Bass, Miss Helen Peck; secretary, Miss Augusta Blair; treasurer, Mrs. A. Widenor; correspond-

He was on top of the load when it shifted, throwing him. His leg caught, breaking the fall somewhat, but not enough to keep him from striking the ground upon his arm. Dr. Roos was called. He reduced the fracture after which Mr. Babcock went to his home.

GAMBLER IN SOUTH SCRANTON

SUDDEN DEATH OF ANDREW CONWAY YESTERDAY.

He Was One of the Best Known Men in This Part of the City and Was a Member of the Century Hose Company—Action Taken by That Organization at Its Meeting Last Night—Edward Gamble Injured in the Lackawanna Knitting Mill.

Andrew Conway, of 816 Crown avenue, one of the best known men in this part of the city, died early yesterday morning after a few hours illness. Stomach trouble was the cause of death. Conway was about 30 years of age and was employed at the mills in the South mill. He is survived by his mother, two brothers and one sister. They are John and Daniel Conway and Mrs. Michael McGarry, all residents of this city.

The funeral will take place Friday morning at 8:30 o'clock. A requiem mass will be celebrated at St. Peter's cathedral and interment will be made in the Cathedral cemetery.

The deceased was a member of the Century Hose company and that organization met last night to take action on his death. It was decided to attend the funeral in a body and invite other members of the department to join them. A committee consisting of Edwin Frable, Christian Storr, jr., and P. J. Hickey was appointed to draft resolutions expressing the sorrow of the members of the company over the death of Mr. Conway. Eulogistic remarks were made by a number of the members.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

The following official action was taken by the Century Hose company at its meeting last night:

Resolved, That the Century Hose Co., No. 20, do adopt this method of recording our impression of the deep sense of deprivation we feel in his sudden and unexpected death, and our estimate of his qualities as a man and his record as a noble and generous, kind and sympathetic; he bore no resentment and inspired none. He not only felt for the sorrows of others but demonstrated the sincerity of his sympathy by a ready assistance to all forms of want. His time, his labor, his means and his intellect, was always for the betterment of his fellow-men and as such he knew no incentive but public duty and acknowledged no master but his conscience, and we point with pride to his record of self-sacrifice for the Century Hose company.

Resolved, That in the death of honest Andrew Conway this city has lost one of its noblest citizens, a company of a staunch and faithful member, and we, his associates, a genial companion and warm friend, and further

Resolved, That our quarters be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days and that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this company, published in the daily newspaper, and a copy furnished the family of our deceased member, Edwin Frable, Christian Storr, jr., P. J. Hickey, Committee.
