FELL FROM A SCAFFOLD.

Thomas Price, a painter, residing on South Garfield avenue, fell from a scaffold, a distance of twelve feet, yesterday morning, while at work on John L. Jenkins' house on Jackson street, David Johns. and sustained painful injuries. He was removed to his home, where Dr. Beddoe attended him. Price had crected a scaffold alongside the building and when he stepped from a window onto the boards the weight of his body bore them down to the ground. The man was bruised about the body and suffered other injuries. He was carried into Jenkins' drug store and made as comfortable as possible, and was afterwards conveyed to his residence.

FIRE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON. Fire was discovered in a barn on the Gibbs estate in the rear of 124 and 126 South Main avenue yesterday afternoon, which is occupied by Joseph Phillips. The flames are supposed to have been started by a small boy who was

NORTH SCRANION NOTES.

Double Tracks Now Completed-Miners' Meeting This Evening. Other News Notes.

The Scrapton Traction company com pleted its double track system from Providence square to Putnam street yesterday, and this morning, after the midnight hour had a force of men on hand to make the switch connection at the latter street. This improvement is practically per-nament (that part of the avenue being already sewered) and now much of the dobris that litters the avenue and makes it a dangerous thoroughfare should be removed speedily and the carnations. street put in driving condition. Better still would it be if the paying operations on these two blocks were taken up and completed before winter. It was stated last evening along that nortion of the avenue, below Jones tired similarly. street where the sewer operation is going on, that the contractors on the work will take out an injunction to prevent the running of street cars by the Wert and Ralph Winters.

particular points where the dangerous excavation work is being done. This move will be undertaken to insure the safety, not only of the men down in the deep trench, but also of the passengers riding by on the cars, for if a erious cave should occur, there is no telling how terrible the results might be, and the sewer contractors want to avoid this in an effort to push their work with an increased force of work men-

MINERS' MEETING.
