Rev. James Benninger, pastor of the Hampton Street Methodist Episcopal church, who has recently recovered rom a month's illness, preached the first sermon yesterday morning in a new series. His subject was "The Parable of the Sower," and his text was taken from Matthew, xiii:1-9, 18-23. He spoke, in part, as follows:

"The parable of the sower is one of those living truths which must certainly bring conviction to the human heart. It is so plain, so terse, so like Christ that the underlying thought is bound to show us just where we stand. We love to have pleasant things said about us, we love the thought of fame and glory, but when we are not living as we ought and our real condition is described, we go away sorrowful.
