Pay your gas bills today and save the discount. F. C. Fuller returned from a business trip to New York yesterday. Mrs. D. U. Hanner, of West Pittston, is visiting friends in this city. Rev. T. C. Edwards, of Kingston, was among the visitors in town yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Garret Hagar, of Adams Avenue, were in Binghamton yesterday. Dr. Ernest Wells, of North Main Avenue, is convalescent from his recent illness. Mrs. Charles Graham, of Tunkhannock, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Carr. Miss Loue R. Cobb, of Maple Lake, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. G. Doud, of Franklin Avenue. Architect Percival Morris and Martin P. Flynn, of the Valley House, went to New York yesterday. Martin Gill, roadmaster of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad at Stroudsburg, was in the city yesterday. The Philadelphia Inquirer yesterday contained a snap shot picture of Deputy Attorney Fred W. Flett, of this city, and the following sketch of his career: "A sturdy young element is rapidly coming to the front in the Republican organization of Pennsylvania. In the appointment of Frederic W. Flett, of Lackawanna, as deputy attorney general, Governor Stone's administration was strengthened by the accession of a capable lawyer, a popular and eloquent worker in the interest of Republicanism and a courteous and obliging public officer. Bora on a farm, near Wellboro, Tiooga county, Pa., in 1868, Mr. Flett attended the public schools of that vicinity, and afterward the Mansfield State Normal school. He spent three years roughing it on the Pacific coast and then returned to his native state with not only his shattered health restored, but endowed with a splendid physique, which makes him a striking figure at state conventions and other gatherings of active Republicans in Pennsylvania. He studied law under the direction of Congressman Packer and subsequently went to Scranton, where he formed a law partnership with J. Wharton Carpenter. He has since taken a lively interest in politics and before he was in Lackawanna six months he was elected secretary of the Republican county committee. He was for several years secretary of the State League of Republican clubs, was journal clerk in the house of representatives in 1888, and reading clerk in 1887. His wife is a daughter of former United States Senator John I. Mitchell, of Tiooga county."

MORRIS-OSLAND NUPTIALS.

Ceremony Was Performed in St. Luke's Episcopal Church. Miss Anna Genevieve Osland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Osland, and Irvin Griffith Morris were united in marriage yesterday in St. Luke's church by Rev. Rogers Israel, the rector. At 12:30 o'clock the bride entered the church, which was crowded with invited guests, upon the arm of her father, from the left hand side of the sanctuary and proceeded to the altar, where she was met by the groom and the ceremony performed. During the solemnization of the marriage Alfred Pennington, organist at the Elm Park church, presided at the organ. The bride wore a grey traveling costume, with hat to match and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums. Both herself and the groom were unattended.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents on Adams Avenue, which was attended by only the immediate relatives and friends of both parties. Mr. and Mrs. Morris left at its conclusion on an extended wedding tour.

TROLLEY CAR KILLS HORSE.

Animal Owned by Butcher G. W. Potter Run Down. An electric car on Washington Avenue near the intersection of Richmond Avenue, Green Ridge, struck and killed a horse owned by Butcher G. W. Potter, of Dunmore, yesterday. The car, which was run by Motorman Frank Hyman, and was in charge of Conductor Morris Gardner, was coming toward the city and had started down the grade on Washington Avenue. The horse was driving down Richmond Avenue, and at the intersection his horse was killed. Mr. Potter's son, Charles, was driving the team when the accident occurred. The animal was badly cut up by the wheels of the car. The wagon tongue was smashed and the other horse's foot was injured, while the car's fender and front were smashed, but the motorman, luckily, was not injured. The horse was not instantly killed by the car, but was shot by L. Tyler Connolly to put it out of its sufferings.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The much needed supplies arrived Wednesday and were distributed among the students. Five hours each day is the required time for every pupil to put on his lessons outside of school hours. Latin is being made the foundation on which all the other studies depend, in the Latin, scientific and classical courses. The "scrub" football team of the Scranton High School is practicing every day and under the supervision of their able coach, Harry Jones, of the sophomore class, they will soon attain the skill necessary to ably cope with any antagonist of equal ability and strength. Friday is the time for the teachers of the various classes to hand in a report of the backward students. To the parents of every pupil making below 70 per cent in any one of his studies a report of the same is sent by mail. This is in nowise to discourage the pupil, but to enable the parents to know definitely the progress of the pupil. The classes in physical geography taught by Prof. Fuller, Flood and Beaumont will visit Bold Mt. Saturday for the purpose of examining the geological structure of the site. The pupils will meet at the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western depot at 7:30 and from that point take the Luzerne car. The pupils that go ought to take field glasses along to view the surrounding country, as the view is one of the most beautiful in the state. Thursday, slips were passed around to the various classes by Prof. Grant on which the name of the pupil, together with his date of birth, place of residence, the name of parent or guardian, the class and division to which he belonged and the occupation of parent or guardian was to be written. From these slips the different things will be copied and placed in a permanent class book. This will enable the principal to read and find the record of any pupil in school. The Scranton High School football eleven will play the Keystone Academy football team Saturday at the Athletic Park. A very interesting game is expected as Keystone will no doubt prove a very formidable antagonist. Games commenced at 2:30 o'clock. The signal gun was out of order during Thursday's session, but the janitor managed to secure some means for making the required noise, in the shape of an old hand bell. This furnished quite an amount of amusement for the pupils.

Lots Will Soon Advance $25.00-100

New Houses Are Being Built for Employes of Our factory. It is needless to speak extensively of the improvements at New Orange. They are of such value to the property that very soon we will advance the price of each lot $25. We now have ninety houses, all of a good class; two factories, a large building, depot, railroad trains running regularly on the schedule time, insuring good service to New York and all other points that are reached by the different trunk lines, and miles of graded streets. We have signed contracts with Oxley & Enos, of New York, manufacturers of hand-chandeliers, having a pay-roll of $300,000 per year; the Roca Manufacturing company is now in full operation, Max Ernst, who will occupy a newly-completed factory and employ two hundred and fifty people, is now moving his machinery. Most of it has already been placed in the building. One hundred houses have been commenced, and one hundred more will be started soon, to accommodate his employes. All these houses will be needed for the one factory, and many more. The Gardam Machine and Tool company, William Gardam & Son, proprietors, will soon have their factory under way, ground already having been broken. They will employ at least one hundred and fifty high-class machinists, and there are several more factories on hand, and still more coming. Poles are in position and wires are strung for electric light, Western Union Telegraph and long distance and local telephone lines. A postoffice has been in operation in New Orange for some time, and there are many other improvements under way in and around our new city. To elaborate systems of water-works adjoin our property and either of them would be glad to make an extension through our property. Contract signed for building two miles of sidewalk. Let us hear from you monthly. New Orange Industrial Association, 414 Spruce street, Scranton, Pa.

LITTLE IS GUILTY OF LIBEL

Reporter O'Toole Had a Very Narrow Escape.

HOW THE JURY STOOD

They Were Unanimous on the Proposition of Returning Little Guilty and When the Jurors First Retired They Stood Ten to Two in Favor of Convicting O'Toole—Little's Attorneys Are Preparing Reasons for a New Trial Which Will Be Presented to Court Today—If a New Trial Is Refused Here They Will Go to the Higher Courts.

Richard Little, editor of the Scrantonian, was yesterday found guilty of criminally libelling Colonel E. H. Ripple in the issue of July 26 last. M. J. O'Toole, the associate editor of the Scrantonian, was returned not guilty. He had a narrow escape, however, for the jury when it first went out stood ten to two in favor of convicting O'Toole. From the outset the jury was of one mind with reference to the case of Little. All the jurors were agreed that he ought to be returned guilty.

As announced in The Tribune of yesterday the jury agreed at 9:40 Wednesday night and yesterday morning as soon as court opened the verdict was reported. Little was not in court at the time, but Reporter O'Toole was. The verdict gives general satisfaction and approving comments were everywhere heard about it yesterday. There was a general feeling that the reputations of people in this community will be safer now from the scandalous attacks with which the columns of the Scrantonian were loaded each week. The verdict shows that redress is to be had by appealing to the law and in that respect the result of the trial is a victory for law and order.

Little's attorneys were at work yesterday afternoon preparing reasons for a new trial and it is expected that they will be filed today. It remains for the court to say whether or not a rule to show cause why a new trial should not be granted shall be allowed. If the rule is granted the Supreme court, because a matter pertaining to the constitution is involved, that is, provided the Supreme court permits the appeal to be taken.

BERGER HELD IN BAIL.

The Man Who Jumped from a Train Taking Officer's Watch. George Berger was arraigned before Alderman Kason yesterday morning on a charge of larceny preferred by Special Officer Morris Weiss and was committed to the county jail in default of bail to await a trial in court. It will be remembered that Berger escaped from Weiss about two months ago while the latter was bringing him to this city to be tried for assault and battery. He jumped through the window of the car, handcuffed as he was, and also took with him the watch of Mr. Weiss, who was calmly re-arriving on the seat. He was later re-captured and taken to this city and has since been serving a short sentence in the county jail.

THE SCRANTON ELKS WIN.

They Defeated the Iroquois Bowlers from Buffalo. The Scranton Elks' Bowling club opened its season last night by defeating the Iroquois club, from Buffalo, two out of three games. Three more will be played tonight and next week the Buffalo bowlers will meet the Scranton men on their own alleys on Thursday and Friday nights. The highest score of the evening was made by W. Plantz, of Buffalo, he making 203 points. Charles Fowler, of the Scranton team, was a close second, with 201.

Fowler, 193, 201, 185; Ed. Flynn, 135, 135, 191; Ed. Bartl, 145, 135, 191; M. Madenspacher, 138, 151, 149; Charles Weichel, 160, 162, 135. Buffalo—John G. Floss, 176, 143, 182; William Pankow, 168, 150, 158; Ed. Butler, 135, 137, 164; George Pilsinger, 118, 179, 153; W. Plantz, 203, 190, 187. The totals were: Scranton, 775, 815, 818. Buffalo—740, 786, 847. Summed up, Scranton had 2466 points and Buffalo, 2373. The game was umpired by John R. Lamb, of the West End club, of Wilkes-Barre.

A PRETTY WEDDING.

Ruel U. Capwell and Miss Frances Coleman United in Wedlock. Ruel U. Capwell, of this city, and Miss Frances Coleman, of Factoryville, were married yesterday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benton Coleman, at Factoryville. The ceremony took place in the parlor under a floral arch, and was performed by the Rev. Samuel Wilson, of Jersey City, formerly of Factoryville. Miss Maye Price, one of the faculty of Keystone academy, played the wedding march. Miss Della Coleman, a sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, and Clarence Capwell, of Wilkes-Barre, a cousin of the bridegroom, acted as best man.

The wedding tour of the newly married couple will be to Niagara and Buffalo and on their return to this city they will reside in Green Ridge. Mrs. Capwell is a graduate of Keystone academy and is a talented musician. Mr. Capwell is a graduate of Keystone and Dickinson university and has been a member of the Lackawanna bar for about a year.

SHIFFER'S TERRIBLE FALL

Was Working on the Third Floor of the New Shopland Building and Dropped to the Cellar.

Edward Shiffer, employed by Contractor E. S. Williams as a foreman, yesterday fell from the third floor of the Shopland building on Lackawanna Avenue now in process of erection on the site of the former hotel which was burned last winter, and sustained serious injuries which may result fatally. Shiffer was in charge of the bricklayers on the job and had ten minutes before the accident happened been hoisted in the elevator, used for carrying building materials, to the third floor.

In a short time the engineer, D. A. Williams, was horrified to see Shiffer's body come crashing down the opening left for the stairways. The unfortunate man struck on his head on the temporary flooring and his body rebounded and fell to the cellar. The distance from the third to the first floor is about thirty feet and to the cellar about twelve feet more, making a total fall of about forty-two feet. Shiffer was unconscious when picked up and taken to the hospital and his injuries were so serious that he was removed to that institution. There were no workmen on the third floor at the time so that exactly how the accident occurred is not known. Shiffer himself when he regained consciousness was unable to explain it. The most likely theory is, of course, that he made a misstep.

At the Lackawanna hospital he was found to have quite a gash on his forehead. He presented several symptoms of a fracture of the base of the skull, but others were so slight that the attending physicians were not exactly sure as to whether he sustained this injury or not. It will indeed be wonderful if he has not considering the distance and the fact that he landed on his head. At any rate his condition is considered serious.

Regarding Zinc and Lead Mining.

The prosperity of zinc mining is the subject of remark the world over. In the Missouri-Kansas district, at least 90 per cent of the mines are only now paying anywhere from five to thirty-five hundred dollars per week clear profit, in spite of the heavy lease royalties paid by mine operators. In the Joplin district, the zinc output for this year will probably exceed that of the gold production of Alaska. The following are the three elements insure success—a desirable property; capable and honest management at the mines; reliable office management.

The Philadelphia Zinc and Lead mining company, which has been lately organized for the public, possesses these elements in a marked degree. It controls the fee simple of over 6000 acres of the finest zinc land in the world, which means that instead of paying royalties, they will collect them, and it is confidently predicted that these royalties will soon pay all the expenses of operating the mines, leaving the entire output of the mills as clear profit. The ore, too, is unusually rich, being withal, in too, a point of absolute purity. It crops right out on the surface in true lumps, veins, increasing in richness as depth is gained.

At the mines, the company has secured the services as resident engineer, of Mr. Clay Gregory whose twelve years' experience in the Joplin district, eminently fits him for the position.

Mr. George O. Ansell, brings to the general management of the business the ripe experience of thirty years in similar enterprises. As to the office management, one has but to glance over the list of gentlemen of tried ability forming the directors, to feel perfect confidence in the value of investment in this company's shares, particularly at their present low price.

SCRANTONIANS IN THE SOUTHWEST

PARTY RETURNS FROM TRIP TO ALAMOGORDO.

Colonel H. M. Boies and Attorney C. H. Welles Give Some Interesting Incidents of Their Visit to the Rich Country Which Scranton Push and Capital Is Helping to Develop—Ladies of the Party Turned Gold Miners and One of Them Made a Rich Strike.

Colonel and Mrs. H. M. Boies, Miss Ethel Boies, Attorney and Mrs. Charles H. Welles, Henry B. Boies, Jr., Miss Alice Boies and Miss Anna McLeod are home from their fifteen days' trip to New Mexico, delighted with their journey and enthusiastic over the wonderful country in and about Alamogordo, for which Scranton capital is doing so much in the way of improvement.

Colonel Boies, who was there one year ago last April, when the place was a vast stretch of sage brush, expressed himself as fairly amazed at the transformation. On his previous visit he made the journey from El Paso in a four-mule wagon. This time he went out in Vice-President Eddy's special car, "Frisco and Norte," over a one hundred and sixty-three mile railway, and surpassed in excellence of construction by any road in the country, and on arriving at Alamogordo, which was a paper-town on his first visit, found a thriving village of 1,500 inhabitants, practically modern, not to say handsome, residences, two water works, one for irrigation purposes, a bank with a capitalization of $50,000, located in a marble-front building, an electric light plant, two immense saw-mills, four churches, a weekly paper, a large first-class hotel and a party of ladies numerous industries under way, including car shops and like accessories of the railroad.

IT HAS A FUTURE.

"It is a country with a great future," said Colonel Boies. "I do not know of any place that offers better opportunities for investment. If I were a young man bent on making a fortune, I would go to Alamogordo."

Colonel Boies brought home with him some specimens of gold, copper and coal, secured in that region. The coal is of the bituminous variety and is found in a nine-foot vein that seems practically inexhaustible. The lumber, controlled by the Improvement company, is estimated to last fifty years at the present rate of cutting. As to what gold there is in the country, nothing definite is known. Twelve or fifteen years ago some prospecting was done by miners on El Paso, but the difficulty of procuring water caused them to give up. There is some digging going on there now and it proves very profitable. The Scranton party came across three men who were extracting gold from dirt lodged in a gorge and which it had been washed down from the mountains. They were taking out $150 worth of gold a day, with only a primitive fanning machine and a small cradle as their implements. Colonel Boies bought one washing as it lay in the cradle for $50 and upon gathering it up found it weighed two and one-half ounces.

EAST TRANSPLANTED.

Mr. Welles echoes Colonel Boies' sentiments regarding the opportunities of the place. "It is a section of the East set down in a southwestern desert," was his way of expressing it. The new railroad was what particularly impressed Mr. Welles. That such an admirably built road was to be found in a country of that kind was as much a matter of surprise to him as the engineering feats in its construction were a matter of wonder. In the first eighty-six miles of the road there are two straight stretches, one of forty-three miles and the other twenty-two. These stretches are as straight as a die and level as a deal board. Log trains make fifty miles an hour on this road.

When the road begins to ascend the Sacramento mountains to Cloudcroft, in the lumber region, it first encircles a conical mountain and then zig-zags up the side of a canyon a distance of a full mile. From the foot of the mountain one can see the railroad paralleling itself four times on the mountain side. Cloudcroft is 9,000 feet above the sea level and 5,000 feet above the plain.

Colonel Boies and Mr. Welles both say it is the grandest view they ever beheld, and both are extensive travelers. Their trip to and from El Paso was made from St. Louis over the Iron Mountain and Texas and Pacific roads. The route follows the line of a fish-hook with the barb pointing back towards Scranton.

PHROSO A GREAT SUCCESS.

Performance at Wilkes-Barre Last Night Was Very Satisfactory. Manager H. R. Long, of the Lyceum, received the following telegram from Manager M. H. Burgunder:

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Oct. 19. H. R. Long, Manager Lyceum, Scranton, Charles Frohman's company presented a dramatization of Anthony Hope's charming story, "Phroso," before a large and well pleased audience at the Nesbitt this evening. Miss Odette Tyler in the title role was seen at her best and is surrounded by a well selected and competent cast. The production is handsomely staged and the performance eminently satisfactory in every detail. I can cheerfully recommend this attraction to the patrons of the Lyceum theater, and those who miss seeing this production, will lose an opportunity to witness one of the finest dramatic offerings of the season. Respectfully, M. H. Burgunder.
