BIG MASS MEETING.

Hundreds of Solid Citizens Declare .Themselves for Municipal Water. Nothing has so thoroughly stirred Carbondale in half a century as the rise in water rates caused by the Consolidated Water Supply company and hundreds of the most solid citizens responded to the call for a meeting at the Academy of Music last night. They entered their protests in most emphatic language and the start of a municipal water plant may be said to be fairly made. H. B. Jadwin was elected chairman and Norman Gelder, secretary. The names of the one hundred who have agreed to bear the expense of employing counsel were read on motion of in this movement. While waiting for the committee on resolutions to report, the meeting was take the floor and after reciting the change in rates he expressed his surprise that the Crystal Lake Water company sold out even at $10 for $1 and thereby "gave away" as he put it. one of the finest properties in the state of Pennsylvania. He also said the case has a humorous aspect. It is this: That while the Delaware and Hudson company a few years ago practically controlled all the water around here, it is now in the boat with the rest of us.

The resolutions were of the stereotyped order, and after pointing out the prohibitive effect of present conditions on new manufactures and danger to the health of residents that would result from the opening of wells, resolved for competent legal advice preparatory to a battle for municipal ow-

Mayor Kilpatrick, Dr. H. C. Wheeler, Reese Hughes, L. A. Roberts, Alderman Morrison, Editor Reilly, Norman Gelder and others spoke on the subject. Chairman Jadwin remarked about the absence of lawyers and then gave the following points looked up by him-After twenty years a water plant may be purchased by paying the net cost and maintenance with 10 per cent. per annum, deducting all dividends declared. Water companies have exclusive franchise for five years only.

Court of common pleas has jurisdic tion and pursuant to petition will determine whether bill for water is ex-If so, it may be thrown out or cut down.

Ex-Mayor Jadwin closed his remarked by saying he had always respected and always would respect John Jermyn and only wished his family took the same views of life that he does.

Executive and finance committees were appointed to carry out the wishes of the assemblage. There was not a dissenting voice on any motion.

ORGANIZATIONS TO ORGANIZE.

Many labor organizations have been effected in rapid succession in this vicinity during the past year. Now it is proposed to have these organizations gustine, Fla. organize by forming a central union. Mine workers, railroaders, painters, carpenters, printers and machinists from Forest City to Archbald will be present at the meeting at Hotel Harrison tonight, when the preliminary steps will be taken. Such a combination will greatly strengthen the cause of labor.

BALD MOUNT.

One of the saddest deaths that has occurred in this community was that of Howard, eldest child of Professor and Mrs. F. L. Thompson. The little fellow was taken with convulsions on Thursday of last week and the attending physician attributed it to his having eaten too many chestnuts. All that was possible was done but the child grew rapidly worse and died on Sunday. The funeral services were held in the Baptist church on Wednesday. Interment in Newton cemetery. The second child, Maurice, is very ill from the same cause. Three physicians Mr. and Mrs. Ira Rosenkrans, of

Wilkes-Barre, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Van Buskirk on Wednesday. Mrs. O. Van Buskirk is visiting her nother Mrs. O. R. Pease, on Washing-

Roberts, who took the initiative | booths up and the exhibition begins to take on shape and promises when the doors open on Monday evening to be a bewildering surprise. The varthrown open to all who desired to lous booths will be arranged so as to speak. H. J. Brennan was first to best display their rare and curious contents. The mineral booth has among its many specimens the collection of the late Edward Jones, which is one of the finest extant. Also the collection of minerals from the west, gathered in Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona by W. G. Robertson and consisting of gold and silver ores, nuggets, gold dust, etc., valued at hundreds of dollars. They also have the collection of Dr. J. B. Sickler, of varlous minerals gathered from all over the world. The zoological booth has a collection of stuffed animals gathered by the different collectors throughout this region, also some of the finest specimens of Mr. Frantz, the state taxidermist. They also have a live alligator about three feet in length. But one of the most interesting exhibits to many will be the curio booth. In it will be displayed a rare collection of curiosities. Among them are old vases taken from the graves of the Incas in the Peru and loaned to the exhibit by W. M. Bell, of Taylor, and scores of other relics interesting and Instructive.

One of the most interesting displays is that of John B. Lack, of Archbald. Mr. Lack spent some time in the Sandwich islands and he has many mementoes of his residence there. Shell necklace made near the volcano Mauna Loa, a basket made from the seed of the Koa tree, a scarf in made from a nut of the Kukuki tree, lava and sulphur from Mauna Loa and other articles of less interest. His collection of minerals is also It includes tin ore from Cornwall, copper from south of England, iron pyrites, rare stones from Colorado, Arizona and Mexico, fossil specimens from coal measures; a block of Mexican onyx, salt crystals from Syracuse and stones from other parts of the world. Other important articles are a horse-hair chain made by natives of the Malabar Islands; rare buds from Syria; Chinese and Japanese gold coins, cornelias from Rome, medallion struck by a German city, a rare collection of shells from the South Sea Islands, and a part of the famous sea-shell fort, San Marco, near S.t Au-

A splendid concert will be given each evening and these concerts will be a distinctive feature of the exhibition, as such artists as Miss Cordelia Freeman, soprano, Scranton: Miss Phoche soloist, First Presbyterian Smith, church, Providence; W. W. Watkins, baritone; Miss Anna C. Sands, soprano; Mrs. McDonald, elocutionist Scranton; Miss Beatrice Morris, Scranton; the Philharmonic Trio, of Scranton: Harwood Mandolin club, Mr. Jennings, impersonator, and many others will appear in the different concerts. The admission to both concert and exhibition is 10 cents, and the exhibit opens Monday evening next and continues one week. The members of the kitchen committee of the loan exhibition of the Presbyterian church are requested to meet in Morgan's this evening at 8 o'clock

Price Library Board of Directors Will Meet This Evening-Fair Well Patronized-Personal and Minor Notes

The board of directors of the Price Library association will meet in the library rooms this evening for the purpose of devising some plans for the opening of the rooms for the winter mnths and also for the support of the association. One year ago this month the rooms were opened to the public. but before many months passed the attendance became so discouraging that the doors had to be again closed. The library is something that every young man and woman of our borough should be connected with, as a more convenient and pleasant place to pass the evening's leisure hours away cannot be found in the town. It is sincerely hoped that our young people will grasp the golden opportunity afforded them by attending this evening's meeting. All are cordially invited.

Mrs. John Reynolds, of Hyde Park, was the guest of relatives in this place on Wednesday. The fair and festival of the Odd Felows lodge proved a strong attraction again last evening and was largely attended. The booths and counters are a great attraction with their beautiful decorations. The Taylor silver cornet band was present on Wednesday evening and entertained the audience in a royal manner. The selections rendered were thoroughly enjoyed. The door prize on Wednesday evening was won by Mr. Richard Morris, his number was 14. The prize was ten yards of carnet. The young men connected with the Methodist Episcopal church are at present busily engaged in the preparations for the bachelor's supper which will be held in the church parlors on October 26. The young men have considerable experience in conducting these affairs and on the approaching occasion these efforts will be substantially rewarded. The supper will consist of oysters and other seasonable viands will be served at reasonable

The blue prints of the proposed stlk reaving plant show that the building, which is to be of brick, will be two stories in height, with basement. The dimensions are 200 feet in length and seventy feet in width. The boiler house and engine room will be located apart from the main building and will be 25x 42 feet. The committee yesterday received a number of voluntary contributions and with a few moments' hustling raised the total sum needed, $1,100, The names of yesterday's contributors will be given tomorrow.

Roy Snyder, the young man who met with such a terrible accident in the Delaware and Hudson colliery, Wednesday morning, died at a few minutes to 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon as a result of the shock. His death is greatly deplored by a wide circle of friends and acquaintances, by whom he was held in greatest esteem. Besides his parents, he is survived by several brothers and sisters. He was a member of James Stuart council, Junior Order United American Mechanics, who will hold a special meeting this evening to make arrangements to attend the funeral, which will probably be held on Sunday afternoon.

Miss Mabel Seymour and Patrick F. Burns, two well-known were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wednesday evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. B. Cook, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, and was witnessed by a large number of friends. The bride was attired in a pretty costume of cadet blue. Her sister Nellie was bridesmaid, and she vore a dress of white lawn. John Tompkins was groomsman. After the ceremony the usual congratulations were offered and a supper was served. During the evening Hogarth's band, of which the groom is a member, serenaded the happy couple. Mr. and Mrs. Burns were the recipients of a large number of useful wedding presents.

Miss Bessle Hills, of Third street, was given an agrecable surprise Tuesday evening, when a number of her friends pald her an unexpected visit for the purpose of spending a social evening together. They were heartily welcomed and were given the freedom of the house for several hours. The time passed swiftly, a fact that was generally regretted when the time for leave-taking had arrived. During the evening refreshments were served Those present were the Misses Alica Maitland, Clio Carter, Tillie Rowe, Edith Simmons, Ida Giles, Mary Nicholson, Lucy Bennett, Bessie Snyder, Jennie Morcom, Lizzie Ohnmacht, Bessie Tiffany, Ruth Thomas, Ruth Dilts, of Carbondale, and Harry Smith, Eddie Carter, Arthur Pizer, Arthur Rowe, Arthur Winter, Arthur Jones, Willie Jones, Herbert Lutey, Stanley Layman, Willie Hill, Clarence Tiffany and George Hattenberg.

"Phroso" Tonight.

Charles Frohman presents at the Lycum theater this evening a dramatization of Anthony Hope's famous story "Phroso," with Odette Tyler in the title role. She will be assisted by a specially selected company and the entire Empire theater production will be put upon the stage here. The dramatist has added to rather than detracted from the great interest in Phroso's story. Lord Wheatley determines to love her because Phroso had modestly declared that she loves him and it may be believed that the dramatist has not dared to fly in the face of the old established fact that love finds the way." This three-corsered fight for Phroso's hand evolves dramatic situations more intense than ever yet before conceived by writer for the stage; from start to finish the attention is held with intense tension: there is not a dull moment anywhere and those who are fortunate enough to see the performance will enjoy a

"Under the Red Robe," which will be seen at the Lyceum Saturday, matince and night. Gil de Berault is a type that requires a handsome, manly actor for his embodiment, such an actor as Paul Cazeneuve, who has long beer associated with parts of this quality and who has always been a favorite actor with the fair sex. Mr. Cazeneuve, who is the leading man of Julius "ahn's "Under the Red Robe" comcany, has played the role of Gil de Berault many times and those who see him in the Empire theater production of Stanley Weyman's romance-drama will understand the difference between a Cyrano de Bergerac and a Gil de Berault, both by the way belonging to the days of Louis XIII and Riche-

Three Star Combination.

The most notable theatrical enterprise of the present season is the big triple-star combination consisting of Louis James, Kathryn Kidder and Charles B. Hanford, supported by company of players, each of whom has had disinguished success on the classie stage. No such aggregation of legitimate actors has ever been put before the American public for a comprehensive season, with the single exeption of the Booth-Barrett-Mojeska ompany of about ten years ago. The company aside from the three principals enlists such names as Harry Langdon, John A. Ellsler, Barry John stone, Norman Hackett, Thomas Cofin Cooke, Collin Kemper, J. L. Me-Vickar, Miss Helen Singer, Miss Aphie James and Mrs. Henry Vandenhoff. The engagement here is announced for Monday, Oct. 23, at the Lyceum. Manager Long has selected "The Winter's Tale," which not only gives each and every member of the company an important part, but it is also the most elaborate and complete production carried by the management.

King Dramatic Company.

Great successes in repertoire field are few and far between and, in fact, the recognized attractions of this class can be counted on the fingers of a single hand. Among the foremost of these organizations and perhaps the one that has gained the greatest triumphs is the King Dramatic company, which is now in its third year of repast has been in New York state, is in markable success. The engagement of this company at the Academy of Music next week means a series of productions at 10, 20 and 30 cents which are said to equal the original renditions.
