

A Certain Tonic and Invigorator

Dr. Wm. N. Bradford, of Cambridge, Ohio, writes: "I find Johann Hoff's Malt Extract retained and assimilated by the most delicate stomach. It is a certain tonic and invigorator, imparts energy and vivacity; increases the red blood corpuscles and thereby supplies resistance to fatigue. It is all you claim for it."

CHAPELLE DEFENDS SPANISH FRIARS

FILIPINOS OWE CIVILIZATION TO CHURCH INFLUENCE.

Does Not Believe That General Funston Made Remarks Regarding Confiscation of Church Property That Have Been Attributed to Him. The Philippines Cannot at Present Be Under Church Rule.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Archbishop Chapelle, of New Orleans, apostolic delegate to Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines today gave out the following statement to the Associated Press: "In answer to General Funston's statement made in an address to the students of Stanford university that 'if congress would drive out the friars and confiscate every inch of church property the bottom would drop out of the insurrection within one week.' The inhabitants of Luzon are completely under the church, I deem it proper to make the following statement: "Knowing what I do from most reliable authority of General Funston's broad mind and sense of fairness I do not believe that he has been quoted correctly. He may have stated that the insurgents demand this as a condition of peace; but that he gave them as his own sentiments I cannot credit. From my own experience I know how easily it is misquoting the All I can say is that General Funston did make this statement, he manifested a dense ignorance of the work done by the religious orders in this archipelago. On the very face of it, however, it shows quite plainly that it did not come from him as well stated as General Funston's statement. He is quoted as saying 'the inhabitants of Luzon are completely under the church.' Now, I would ask how can this be possible when every priest in the island of Luzon, and the whole of the island of Manila, is a prisoner of the insurgents. For the past eighteen months this state of affairs has existed and during all this period more than 250 friars have been undergoing unheard of torture in insurgent dungeons. This being a fact it is hard for me to see how the island can be 'under the friars.' It looks to me as though just the opposite were the case. "That the insurgents have asked as one of their terms of peace the expulsion of the friars and the confiscation of the property of all the churches, which property is a fact well known; but they are told by the government officials (and I know it to be a fact from other reliable sources) that the insurgents represent only one tribe out of the 85 tribes peopling the archipelago. The sentiments voiced by the insurgents about the friars and church cannot be taken as the sentiments of the great body of the natives. No more than they came to be taken as the sentiments of the natives toward our people and government."

investigate all charges made against religious orders, titles of property, etc. Until I have completed my work I would ask the good people of the United States not to be too ready to swallow as facts the opinions of gentlemen whose previous training and lack of opportunity to get at the real facts do not warrant their statements concerning the Catholic ministers of religion, the intellectual capacity, the moral and social condition of the people of the archipelago, to be taken as undisputed facts by sensible and just minds, nor can this be therefore be taken as an exact presentation of a condition of things in the Philippines upon which the United States government could prudently and equitably base its policy with regard to this archipelago. The church asks only justice, and I will not countenance the retention of one inch of property which is not legitimately held. "One word now on another subject. I see that it is said that the object of my visit to the white house on Saturday was to protest against the looting and desecrating of the churches in the Philippines. This was not the case. As to the looting and desecration of these churches, I am informed by a person whose word I cannot doubt that this looting was not done by our American soldiers, but by the insurgents and the Chinese.

LANCASTER COUNTERFEITERS.

All Will Probably Be Sentenced This Week. Philadelphia, Oct. 23.—The reasons for a new trial for Ellery P. Ingham and Harvey K. Newitt, the lawyers who last Friday were found guilty of bribery and conspiracy, were not filed today. The defendants have until tomorrow to act in the matter, as four days are allowed for filing reasons when a motion for a new trial is made. After the reasons have been advanced Judge Esherson, before whom the case was tried, will fix a day for argument and if his decision is adverse to the defense an appeal will be taken to the United States circuit court of appeals. Bail must be furnished pending a decision upon the appeal, which, in any event, Ingham and Newitt's application is disposed of. Kendig, Jacobs, Taylor, Bredell, Burns and Downey, the six men who have confessed and are to be sentenced for participation in the counterfeiting plot, will not be brought before the court until after the Ingham and Newitt application is disposed of. When the six are brought into court, John E. Wittke, chief of the United States secret service, will go on the witness stand and detail the complete story of the crime. The six months spent by five of the defendants in the Missouri penitentiary to count on their sentence. Kendig is at liberty on bail.

CASE OF ANNIE MARKS.

A Salvation Army Lass Will Be Sent Back to England. Washington, Oct. 23.—Immigration Inspector Rodgers, of Philadelphia, has reported to Commissioner General Powderly the case of Maud Annie Marks, a native of England, who, it is said, was applied in coming to this country by the Salvation Army. Soon after her arrival, the report states, she joined the Salvation Army at Philadelphia, and shortly after her arrival was sent out on the street to bring for a Christmas dinner, and through the exposure incident thereupon contracted a severe cold, which developed into tuberculosis. She has no relatives in this country, is destitute and at her request the immigration authorities will return her to England.

MURDERED FOR MONEY.

Second Tragedy in Italian Colony at Huntingdon. Huntingdon, Pa., Oct. 22.—The village of Barre, this county, where extensive railroad improvements are being made, was the scene last evening of the second murder within two months among the Italian colony of railroad laborers. On pretense of going nutting, Lorenzo Menicini hired Cesar Curci in the woods back of the village and there killed him with a stone. Then taking up a heavier stone weighing twenty pounds, he pounded Curci's head into an unrecognizable mass. After robbing his victim of about $150 Menicini fled to the mountains and has not yet been arrested. Curci leaves a family in Italy.

REVOLT AT COLUMBIA.

Revolutionary Movement to Restore Financial Equilibrium. Kingston, Ja., Oct. 23.—Advisers from Columbia just received announce the commencement of a revolutionary movement there with the object of restoring the financial equilibrium. The revolt was prematurely started in the department of Santander last week but is reported to be gaining headway.

In Need of Tutelage.

"A former British counsel (a Protestant) writing on this subject, says: 'It was by means of these estates the friars introduced agriculture and settled habits of life among tribes originally nomadic. It was by means of these estates that they got them to live in villages and introduced among them the arts of civilized life. It was by means of these estates that they acquired the power of inducing them to labor with a certain amount of regularity and method—the great safeguard against a relapse again into their original state of savagery. The natives,' he says, 'are with some rare exceptions in need of tutelage, without which they would fall back to the customs of their ancestors, a custom that no one can exercise better than the friars. Within the precincts of the monasteries are to be found carpenter shops, forges, brick and tile yards, etc., to teach the natives various trades. The villages formed around the presented a pleasing picture of happiness and content in startling contrast to those who were still Pagan and uncivilized.' "In a short time I will start for the Philippines, and I will personally investigate all charges made against religious orders, titles of property, etc. Until I have completed my work I would ask the good people of the United States not to be too ready to swallow as facts the opinions of gentlemen whose previous training and lack of opportunity to get at the real facts do not warrant their statements concerning the Catholic ministers of religion, the intellectual capacity, the moral and social condition of the people of the archipelago, to be taken as undisputed facts by sensible and just minds, nor can this be therefore be taken as an exact presentation of a condition of things in the Philippines upon which the United States government could prudently and equitably base its policy with regard to this archipelago. The church asks only justice, and I will not countenance the retention of one inch of property which is not legitimately held. "One word now on another subject. LIVE NEWS OF THE INDUSTRIAL WORLD

PROSPECT FOR THE TIN PLATE INDUSTRY.

Mr. Torbet Must Do the Work of Obtaining Stock Subscriptions—Board of Trade Will Not Engage in That Work—James W. Clark Made Chief Clerk in the Division Freight and Passenger Office of the Lackawanna Road—Monster Coal Breaker at Carbondale. The manufacturers committee of the board of trade desire it understood that the only thing to be given the proposed tin plate factory by that body will be what might be termed moral support. The actual work of obtaining stock subscriptions is to be done by Mr. Torbet himself. The support of the committee will not be given until Mr. Torbet brings here a practical man who will agree to assume the management of the plant. Mr. Paton, who was here on Saturday last, is being prevailed upon to do this, but as he already has a good position in Cleveland, it is doubtful if he will accept. Mr. Torbet is at present engaged in looking up such a man and has promised to come to this city again on next Saturday.

Clark Appointed.

James W. Clark, of Market street, has been appointed chief clerk in the division freight and passenger office of the Lackawanna, and will begin duty Wednesday morning. Mr. Clark, for the past three years, has been in the office in this city of the Lehigh Valley railroad, and formerly was with the Ontario and Western company.

An Immense Breaker.

"To fully realize the immense height of the mammoth breaker under construction by the Delaware and Hudson company on the 'flats' one should mount to the top most floor and look to the ground below," says the Carbondale Leader. "When finished it will be one great piece of machinery and will contain all of the newest methods of preparing coal for the market. In a building measuring the length of what looks to be a place similar to the one now in use to pull the cars over to the top of the Conkrob breaker in a building under which there is an immense hopper where coal can be dumped both from the standard gauge cars and the small mine cars. From this hopper a coal conveyor carries the lumpy material to the topmost point in the breaker, which looks like a separate two story structure, placed directly on top of the main building and about half as wide. By the conveyor arrangement the pulling of the cars upon an inclined plane is done by the breaker, the method usually employed, is avoided, making a great saving of time and money, for often times a cable broke and the whole trip of cars ran to the bottom of the plane and were smashed. "The coal from Wilson Creek mine was formerly taken to the trestle from the top of the culm pile into Coalbrook breaker, but that with the other coal will be dumped into the immense hopper and taken into the new breaker by the conveyor. For this purpose a new track has been constructed along the hillside from the top of the culm pile and across the tracks leading from Coalbrook mine, cherting in a miniature horse shoe towards the hopper building. There they are switched back toward the mule barn on a circular track that rejoins the 'horse shoe' in the street, which leads from the old track. The grade in some places on the new track is said to be three feet in a hundred. "The immense enterprise is impressed upon one's mind fully when the coal stoppage plant on the site of Anthracite Park is visited. Here great progress has been made, the seven tracks having been laid already and everything is in readiness for the laying of the circular rails upon which the reloader will work. The coal will be piled upon culm instead of cement as first intended. The coal will be piled upon conveyers which will be operated by stationary steam engines. It is first dumped into hoppers similar to the one at new Coalbrook breaker, except that they operate upon movable chute-like arrangements which are supported by an iron trestle."
