CARBONDALE.

WILLIAM CONNOR INJURED.

Right Arm Badly Crushed While Coupling Cars at Uniondale.

William Connor, of Dundaff street, an Erie trainman, about thirty-eight years of age, was taken to Emergency hospital last evening with a badly crushed right arm. The member was caught between the bumpers while Mr. Connor was attempting to make a coupling at Uniondale yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Both bones were broken and protruded through the flesh. It was at first thought amputation would be necessary, but later the doctors thought there was a possibility of saving the arm and the wounds were dressed with that end in view.

The unfortunate man also sustained severe bodily bruises.

INDUSTRY SEEKS LOCATION.

Mayor Kilpatrick has received the following communication, which explains itself:

Dear Sir: We contemplate opening a large factory which would employ a great many hands, the greatest per cent. of which, if not altogether, would be females, from small girls to women.

With this object in view, we write you this letter to learn if there are a great many unemployed female workers in your city, and about the wages at which they could be employed at their respective ages, the work being light; the small girls to be employed cutting out with scissors, while the larger ones would work at machines run by power. You might also inform us about how many workers of this class your city can supply. We should like to hear from you at once on this subject. Very truly yours,

M. H. Frank & Co.

L. A. PATTERSON OPERATED ON.

Levi A. Patterson, one of the most prominent residents of this city, was operated upon yesterday for appendicitis by Dr. Gardner, of Scranton, and S. S. Shields, M. D., of this city. At last accounts the prognosis was favorable. Mr. Patterson had been ailing for some time, but the disease did not assume an acute stage until Tuesday.

MRS. REYNOLDS ENTERTAINS.

Wednesday and Thursday afternoons Mrs. R. H. Reynolds entertained about one hundred ladies at thimble teas at her pleasant home on Wyoming street. The house was prettily decorated and careful attention to the many details that constitute a successful reception made it one of the most harmonious and enjoyable social affairs of the season. It will long be a happy recollection of the guests.

Not a Surprise.

It will not be a surprise to any who are at all familiar with the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, to know that people everywhere take pleasure in relating their experience in the use of that splendid medicine and in telling of the benefit they have received from it, of bad colds it has cured, of threatened attacks of pneumonia it has averted and of the children it has saved from attacks of croup and whooping cough. It is a grand, good medicine. For sale by all druggists, Matthew Bros., wholesale and retail agents. **

JERMYN AND MAYFIELD.

Injured While Stealing a Ride—Superintendent Gebhardt Held the Lucky Ticket — Sidewalk Case Heard by the Arbitrators Yesterday—Personal News.

Emmet Barrett, a son of Martin Barrett, of Third street, was painfully bruised and cut yesterday while attempting to ride on the side of a culm car up the plane at the culm dump of the Delaware and Hudson. The boy is not employed there and was simply stealing a ride. He was struck by some timbers that lay quite close to the track and was hurled from the swift moving cars. He was taken to his home and attended by Dr. I. S. Graves who found it necessary to put several stitches in a cut in the boy's forehead. He also complained of much pain around the body caused by being squeezed between the timbers and car before he was thrown off.

The $10 drawn by the ticket 294 at the firemen's social and which has been awarded a claimant since October 20, was yesterday claimed and paid over to Superintendent Gus Gebhardt, who had not been aware he held the lucky ticket until yesterday.

The suit of the borough versus J. D. Stocker to recover the cost of laying the sidewalk in front of the latter's property on Bacon and Second streets, was heard by the arbitrators appointed by court yesterday and it is expected a decision will be rendered today. It is understood the case will be appealed in case the borough loses.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Parks, of Third street entertained a number of their friends on Hallowe'en. The pleasant affair had been looked forward to by the favored ones for several days and it was one of the most brilliant social affairs of the season. The rooms were prettily decorated with chrysanthemums, potted flowers, ferns and smilax with pleasing effect. A feature of the evening's amusement was a pictorial guessing contest. The hostess had cut a number of pictures from advertisements and, numbering them, had pinned them against the walls and doors of several of the rooms. Each guest was provided with pencil and paper, and the contest was to write the names of the article the cuts represented. It was supposed by those present that the ladies would come out easy winners of the contest. The papers were afterwards handed to a committee and it was found that Frank Winter had written the most correct list. He was subsequently presented with a prize. During the evening two well-known "gypsies" presented themselves and entertained the guests for some time. At 11 o'clock refreshments were served, after which a number of games were indulged in and continued until the wee sma' hours. Both the host and hostess proved excellent entertainers and everyone apparently had spent a most enjoyable evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Baker, Prof. and Mrs. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. George Stone, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Swick, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. George Walters, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Houghton, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Griffiths, Mrs. H. A. Willman, Mrs. Bray, Mrs. Badger, Mrs. J. M. Graves, Mrs. Hemelright, Mrs. William Bell, Mrs. S. D. Davis, and the Misses Bertha, Ella and Carrie Coon, Danie Rymer, Gertie Davies, Cora Davis, Emily Rich, Carrie Murray, Lucy and Eva Wheeler, Grace and Gertie Vail, Alice Hawkins, Jessie Winter, Mary Swick, Bertha Bell, Emma Moon, Dora Tennis, Julia Gill, Bess Freas, Margaret Osborne, and Helen and Carrie Battenberg, Cora Miller and Attorney Battenberg, of Archbald; Miss Belle Biesecker of Bald Mount; Miss Margaret Gould, of Scranton, and Frank Winter, Walter Moon, Grant Bell, George Nicholson, John and Harry Griffiths, Arthur Winter, Merton Wheeler George Dyer, Will Parks, George Ditmore, Mr. Nice and Lewis Pizer.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist Episcopal church will hold an entertainment and an oyster and chicken pie supper on Thanksgiving night in the basement of the church.

Alfred W. Walkey and Anthony Mulhearn have enrolled themselves as students of the Scranton Business college.

A child of Mr. and Mrs. David Mendelson, of Mayfield, is seriously ill of cholera infantum.

Alfred Helmes, of Yatesville, has been in town the past few days visiting friends.

Edward Netherton, of Forty Fort, was a visitor here yesterday.

Mrs. W. S. Badger and son, Preston, of Cemetery street, are visiting Hancock, N. Y., friends.

Mrs. John Mellow, of Bason street, is in New York.

Miss Vera Day, of Cemetery street, is spending a few days with Wilkes-Barre friends.

Two children, Libbie and Willie, of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Quinn, of Mayfield, are ill of scarlet fever.

The Delaware and Hudson colliery worked about twenty days last month.

The regular monthly meeting of the borough council takes place this evening.

Miss Mina Dowrich, of Hyde Park, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. F. H. Barber, of Main street, for several days, has returned home.

A case of scarlet fever exists at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dimock, of Bacon street.

Miss Alvira Day, of Cemetery street, is visiting at Wilkes-Barre.

One of the employes at Jermyn's farm at Greenfield had his hand severely cut in a threshing machine yesterday. It was found necessary to amputate one of his fingers and two others were terribly cut.

THEATRICAL.

"Sherlock Holmes" Last Night.

William Gillette gave the second performance of his magnificent play, "Sherlock Holmes," before a Scranton audience last night, which was enthusiastic in the extreme. So enthusiastic, in fact, that at the end of the last act, instead of making for the door, as Scranton play-goers usually do, the audience remained in their seats, and called the curtain up for an encore.

This is something unique in Scranton, and speaks higher than any words could for the merits of the performance.

At the Academy.

Today and tomorrow the following plays will be presented by the excellent stock company which is at the Academy of Music this week. Friday afternoon, "Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde;" Friday night, "Shadows of the Scaffold;" Saturday afternoon, "Crimes of New York;" Saturday night, "Ten Ton Door."

European Sensation Company.

Owing to train delay the European Sensation copany did not arrive in the city in time for the matinee yesterday but gave a creditable performance in the evening.

The usual matinee will be given this afternoon and in the evening news of the Jeffries-Sharkey fight, which will be one of the features, will be read from the stage. The entertainment given by this troupe is a la Francaise, and calculated to please the most fastidious connoisseur of Parisian frivolities who may be found near the footlights.

Bostonia Sextette Tonight.

The Rochester Democrat and Chronicle says of the Bostonia Sextette, which will be seen at the Lyceum tonight: "The company is composed of artists of high rank, and their work was greatly appreciated by the large audience present. The music played represented almost all the schools of composition. The shading in their concerted efforts was truly marvelous. The ensemble work could hardly be surpassed."

Collier as "Mr. Smooth."

Willie Collier, in his own comedy, "Mr. Smooth," which is announced for presentation in this city at the Lyceum tomorrow afternoon and evening, enjoys a double triumph as an actor and author. A combination of this kind is in the very nature of the occupation of the stage, although it is not very common. "Mr. Smooth" made his first bow to the public at the Park theatre, Boston, last spring, won favor from the start, and has been growing in popularity ever since; having inaugurated the regular season at the Manhattan theatre, New York on September 2, where an engagement of four weeks was played to the capacity of that theatre nightly. Willie Collier scoring the success of his career in the title role of his own comedy.

Daniel R. Ryan.

Daniel Ryan, with his capable company, will be at the Academy of Music all next week in a repertoire of standard plays. It is said that this is the strongest repertoire company playing at popular prices. The plays are among the best known on the stage and are pieces of merit, while the company is fully capable of presenting them. The opening play is Clay M. Greene's romantic melo-drama, "Forgiven." The other plays to be presented during the week are: "The Celebrated Case," "After 20 Years," "Ingomar," "Nita's First," "Withered Leaves," "The Fatal Wedding," "Virginius," and "The Three Guardsmen." Seats on sale Friday morning at 9 a. m. Prices 10, 20 and 30 cents at night, and 10 cents to the matinees.

SHOPPING IN JAPAN.

Great Deliberation Marks All Business Transactions.

Tokio Correspondence of the Baltimore Sun.

Japanese are very fond of strolling through their bazaars. You enter at one door and leave by another. Goods for sale are displayed on each side of aisles that wind through the length of the shop. Passing up and down these aisles they lead you to the second and often third, story of the building, then back again through different aisles, causing you to travel the length of the establishment many times. Finally you see the doorway a few feet distant, but even then you must travel this maze several times its length to escape.

Usually shopping is very restful in Japan. You sit around on the floor, and in some shops they bring you cups of tea to sip and a "hibachi" from which to light your pipe.

Time is of no consequence to the orientals, nor are they eager to sell. Their ideas of trade are very peculiar. You are compelled to ask them whether you can see articles after their stating that they have them in the store. Ten pieces of an article sometimes cost twelve times the cost of one. They will not sell a hundred at a less rate, but insist on your paying extra because of the large quantity desired. They frankly tell you their price to Japanese customers, and then that foreigners have to pay about 50 to 100 per cent. more, and laugh.

In the largest dry goods store in Tokio fifty clerks are seen kneeling upon the floor of the large building, but no merchandise is visible. It is kept in fireproof (?) structures in the rear, and carried to and fro for customers' inspection by numerous boys. It is very interesting to watch proceedings in such a store.

Nearly all Japanese stores are conducted in the same manner, though some shops have on display samples of articles sold. If a foreign lady is shopping, a crowd of Japanese usually blockade the store, anxious to see the strange sight. Preparatory to the new treaties going into effect the government issued an order for the the natives to abandon this obstructive habit.

The Japanese are great imitators. Almost every staple article has its imitation here and its labeled counterfeited. A Philadelphia shoe blacking has half a dozen imitations. One maker inserts his name, leaving North Front street, Philadelphia, remaining, and the label unchanged, except "superior quality" is "superior quarity." Another inserts his name and Japanese town, but leaves "133 and 146 North Front street," and so on.

The Japanese make heroic efforts at English. While butchering it horribly they do remarkably well, considering everything. On the few English signs of leading firms on Tokio's chief street are seen: "Druccist," for druggist; "foreign gords," "caned goods, wholesale and detail," "The shop of the articles of finery," "The carriage and all of harness" and "A harness maker," "manufaktealary," "apothekaly," etc.
