

What! Leave Scranton?

Well! Guess Not!

Some of our competitors who are, no doubt, anxious to see us go, have been busy themselves telling this story to say. With the fine line of goods we have, and the prompt way of handling our customers, we are gaining friends and patrons rapidly. Our plans are without question, some of the finest today on the market. The very best possible to buy is the Knave. If you want a high grade piano, possible expense, buy a Briggs or a Vose & Son. If you want a good, well built piano at a reasonable cost, buy a Ludwig. If you want to patronize a solid and reliable firm buy your piano at Perry Brothers, Phonographs, Gramophones and supplies. Mail orders promptly attended to.

Mr. Hughes has lived for ten years in that country and became intimately acquainted with the Boers and the politics of the country.

WILLIAM REESE INJURED

WILLIAM REESE INJURED.—William Reese, of Johnson's Patch, was taken to the Lackawanna hospital yesterday, suffering with a broken arm. Reese is a married man, and works in the Patton mine in Dunmore. He had prepared a blast, and not getting out of the road quick enough, was struck by a flying piece of coal. His left arm, as a result, has a compound fracture.

MISS DUNN'S SECOND TALK

Charmed a Large Audience in the Bicycle Club House Yesterday Afternoon—Exhibition of Pictures.

A large number of people listened again to Miss Emeline A. Dunn at the Bicycle club yesterday afternoon and admired her lovely water colors. One of the distinguishing features of her work is that while the pictures grow upon one as if often found to be the case, they are charming at first sight. There are no naval greens, no hard angular outlines. Everything is painted from a true artistic standpoint. There is faithful execution, flawless drawing and a genuine feeling for color. Too often water colors are cold. These pictures are sunny and rich without being in any sense glaring. Miss Dunn has studied under the best masters in America and has had exceptional advantages during a prolonged stay abroad. Her work shows the effect of infinite study and preparation.

ATTEMPT TO END STRIKE

Imported Laborers Work Under Guard of Armed Deputies.

CONDITIONS ARE ALARMING

Old Forge Strikers Aroused by Finding Men Taking Their Places and the Detested Deputies in Their Midst Form Into Line Fourteen Hundred Strong and March from One Hamlet to Another Shouting Out Against the "Blacklegs" and Scattering Notices Warning Workmen Away from the Jersey Collieries Until the Strike Is Settled. Squad of Workmen Returning Home Under the Protection of the Deputies Are Hooted and Jeered. History of the Trouble and the Present Situation.

Conditions almost exactly similar to those which preceded the fatal Black Friday at Lattimer now exist at Old Forge where fourteen hundred workmen are on strike for over a month.

The breach between the company and the men is constantly widening. The company is attempting to resume operations with "blacklegs" and the strikers are intimidating the workmen and conducting parades from one hamlet to another while armed deputies patrol the works and escort those who are willing as they go to and from the mine.

A collision between the strikers and the deputies which was not imminent, is not improbable, though both sides declare such a thing is very unlikely. The company's representatives say the presence of the deputies will prevent disorder. The strikers say they will not molest either the deputies or the workmen, further than to plead with the latter to keep away from the works. If these intentions are persisted in there will be no trouble. There is, however, a lurking danger in the thoughtless or hot headed acts of the individual on either side and it is this that has to be guarded against.

DOCKAGE THE GRIEVANCE.

The grievance is about dockage. They claim they are docked too much and demand that one of their own number shall be employed to act in conjunction with the docking boss at the "head" in determining the percentage of dirty coal sent up.

Joseph J. Jermyn, the company's manager, would not hear to this proposition, realizing that there would be constant disputes between the two docking bosses and daily squabbles between the superintendent and the miners over the conflicting findings. To satisfy the men he suggested that they select a man for the position of docking boss and he would appoint him, providing, of course, he was fitted for the position. The men either did not appreciate the offer or object to receding from their original demand, for they refused to accept it and persisted in what they had asked for.

The company refused to make the concession the men at No. 2 colliery on October 12 quit work and took out their tools. The next day those employed at No. 1 did likewise. Since that time the mines have been idle and both sides have been playing a waiting game.

Monday when the word was passed that No. 1 was resuming operations a meeting of the strikers was called for 3 o'clock in the afternoon and after they had been in session two hours they started out from their headquarters in Columbia hall on Main street, Old Forge, and marched on one set tlement to the other passing through Mudtown, Austin Heights, Sibley, Barberton and finally to Rendham where they were met by the Jersey Colliery and Co.'s store. There was no disorder further than some shouting and cheering at various points in the line of march. Signs were tacked up on trees throughout the whole region urging strikers to keep away from the Jermyn & Co.'s mines until the strike is settled.

KEISER'S SUDDEN DEATH.

Was for Many Years a Prominent Business Man of This City. Succumbed to Apoplexy.

William K. Keiser, for many years a prominent business man of this city, died suddenly yesterday at his home in Dalton.

When Mr. Keiser awoke yesterday morning he was as well as usual, but about 10 o'clock complained of being ill and sent a messenger for Dr. John C. Price. When the physician arrived Mr. Keiser was dead. Apoplexy was the cause.

A sad feature in connection with Mr. Keiser's death is that his wife and daughter are visiting George Keiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keiser, who is a resident of Alamogordo, N. M. Mr. Keiser was apprised by telegraph of her husband's death. Arrangements for the funeral will not be completed until her wishes are ascertained. Mr. Keiser served with distinction in the civil war and afterwards entered into the furniture business in this city. He was a member of the firm of Hill & Keiser, of this city, until about fifteen years ago when he disposed of his interest to the Hon. W. L. Connell. Since then he has not engaged actively in business. About nine years ago he moved from this city to Dalton where he has since resided.

NEW CONCERT COMPANY.

TESTIMONY IN THE BIG EQUITY SUIT

NUMBER OF WITNESSES ON THE STAND YESTERDAY.

Answer of the Defendants Filed in the Equity Suit Against Members of the Fell Township School Board. City Begins Actions Against E. B. Sturges and R. E. Hurley to Collect a Paving Assessment—Opinion in the Jones and Hermitage-Cleveland Case.

From present indications the remainder of the week will be consumed in the trial of the equity case of the Mt. Pleasant Coal company against the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company. The witnesses examined yesterday were James L. Neale, E. L. Fuller, president of the company; Thomas Bevan, Surveyors Oldknow and Wolf and R. B. Brockway. The latter was on the stand when court adjourned. His examination in chief was completed and this morning he will be cross examined. Mr. Brockway built the Mt. Pleasant breaker twenty-five years ago.

Before court adjourned Mr. Fuller admitted, and the admission was placed on the record, that he did not make any effort to have his present contract with the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company renewed. He said he did not want any more contracts that restrict him to 120 days' work per year.

Answers Filed. An answer was filed yesterday by the defendants in the equity suit of Nicholas Glyn; Andrew Moran and J. Coughlin against John Mooney, James Heenan, Edward Hooley, James W. Thomas, Honing and Nathaniel Davis. Both complainants and defendants are members of the school board of Fell township.

The defendants deny that the contract for school books given to Glyn & company is illegal and maintain that the action was not brought in good faith by the defendants. They say the plaintiffs are acting in the interest of the American Book company and that the purpose is to retain for that company a monopoly of the business of furnishing books to the school district of Fell Township.

An answer was also filed by the defendants in the case of Allen W. Williams, Arminda L. Linceo and John L. Linceo against James F. Green, Thomas H. Spruks, Henry F. Spruks, S. S. Spruks, Sterling Evans, Arthur Smith, Frank Smith and Frederick Webber. In their answer the defendants deny all of the allegations of the complainants.

City Begins Actions. The city yesterday began actions through City Solicitor A. A. Voshub against E. B. Sturges and R. E. Hurley and E. B. Sturges for the asphaltting of North Washington avenue in front of the houses of these gentlemen owned by the municipality. In each case the municipality is claiming that the work was defective and the city now brings action in assumpsit in accordance with the decision of Judge Gunster handed down some time ago.

Ask for a Charter. Through Attorneys Willard, Warren and Knapp a charter was yesterday asked for an association to be composed of the rector, church wardens and vestrymen of St. David's Episcopal church, of West Scranton.

The names of the following are affixed to the application for the charter: Thomas J. Williams, Jacob O. Hopkins, Charles Frazer, Thomas S. Jones and David Holmes.

COURT HOUSE NEWS NOTES.

A petition asking for a bridge over Myer creek in Benton township was yesterday filed with Clerk of the Courts Daniels. It will be referred to the grand jury. The stock of Joseph Joseph, in the Empire Dry Goods store on Washington avenue was sold yesterday by the sheriff. It was bought by O'Brien & Kelly as attorneys for $8.45. Judge Edwards yesterday handed down an opinion in the case of Jones and Hermitage against Cleveland, etc., etc., in relation to resort of referee. A new trial is ordered before the same referee.
