FOOT BALL AT PITTSTON.

Wyoming Seminary and the Cornell Scrub Team.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Pittston, Nov. 12.-A heavy downpour of rain and a field a mass of mud had no terror for the foot bail players at Kingston yesterday, and the 300 people who braved the storm for about hour witnessed a first class foot ball game. The spectators included enthusiasts from all points in the county and had the day been favorable the attendance would have been considerable greater. The game was between the Cornell scrub team and Wyoming Seminary 'varsity team, twenty and fifteen minute halfs being played. It was generally expected that Cornell would run up a large score. The Seminary boys, however, proved themselves no easy task for the visitors, who succeeded in making but one touchdown, five points. Owing to the mud neither sides made any runs to speak of, aithough the Seminary made several pretty attempts. The Cornell team had a decided advantage in weight and made all their gains by few evenings since, went into her barn, forcing through the Seminary's line. The plays of the Seminary were much quicker than Cornell's, but the soggy around made the plays fruitless. The team work of both sides was about equal. The visitors expected to make at least 30 points and were considerably surprised by the game put up by the Seminary. Had the weather been favorable the Seminary would surely have secred. Taggart's bunting was one of the features of the game. The teams lined up as follows:

Seminary-Cake, left end; Williams, left tackle: Johnson, left guerd; Balliet, centre: Pickarski, right guard; Anderson, captain, right tackle: Maxwell, right end: Oberender, quarter back: Borden, left halfback: Bedow, right half-back; Taggart, full back. Cornell-Watterson, Hall, left end: Sinder, left tackle; Utz, left guard; Kent, centre: Hardy, right guard; Davitt, right tackle; Touhill. right end; Thomas, captain, quarterback; Callahan, left half-back; Schoelkopf, right half-back; Ofut, full back. Vinol, as we wish every one to know, owes its power of accomplishing the cures that it effects to the fact that it contains the most wonderful medicinal elements known to science for the cure of all wasting diseases, as well as being in itself a marvelous tonic. These medicinal properties exist and have here-tofore been found only in cod-liver oil. Vinol contains these elements. For by a scientific process the necessary curative properties of the cod-liver oil have separated from the fat and grease Creegan and Patrick O'Rourke lost which formerly made cod-liver oil preparations so objectionable.

This is said to be the result of a conference on Saturday evening at which the matter was fully discussed. If the work had not tinction as to who their candidates been interrupted it is likely Scranton cars would be running into this town by this time. The roadbed is now all Engineer Watson Boydon is on the ready as far as the switch opposite E A Jones' residence and the work of lifting and relaying the rails will not occupy much time. The great majority of the people of this town will be pleased to have the trouble settled without the help of the law. Archbald has had enough of that within the past year.

The funeral of the late Michael Dougherty, who was killed by a Delaware and Hudson coal train Thursday night, occurred yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. #### THEATRICAL.

"A Battle-Scarred Hero."

Bert Coote will be seen at the Lyeum this evening in "A Battie-Scarred Hero." It is said to offer Mr. Coote exceptional opportunities for fun-making and is cast on entirely different lines from "The New Boy," in fact, it is said to be even funnier than that farce-comedy classic. Mr. Coote's com-pany this season is said to be a very strong one, including besides Julia Kingsley, without whom a Coote play would be "like Hamlet with the character of Ophelia omitted, such welsknown names as Miss Elizabeth Woodson, Miss Minnie Monk, Miss Marion Watts, Mr. George Macomber, Mr. Nelson Lewis, Mr. D. F. Brine, Mr. Charles M. Williams, Mr. O. E. Hallam, Mr. Thomas F. Gibson and Mr. Charles W. Macdonald.

"The White Horse Tavern."

A cast that is said to be in keeping with the play has been selected by Daniel and Charles Frohman for their production of "At the White Horse Tavern," at the Lyceum this evening It would be a poor play indeed that could fail to please with such a combination of clever artists. But "At the White Horse Tavern" is pronounced to be the most charming comedy present ed in years. Love predominates, of course, but laughter is incessant. Leo Deitrichstein, Frederic Bond. Hal Reid's new play, "The Night Before Christmas," which comes to the Academy of Music, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, also matinees Tuezday and Wednesday, has more purheart interest than any play of modern times. The story is one so sweet and homely that, as the title carries one homely that, as the title carries one back to childhood, so does the lines and situations. The cast is headed by Hal Reid, supported by the beautiful young American actress, Bertha Belle Westbrook, and a company of unusual strength, numbering twenty well-known people, selected with great and control of the control of the control of the company of unusual strength, numbering twenty well-known people, selected with great and control of the control of the

At the Gaiety.

The attraction for the next three days at the Galety will be "The Little Magnets," a new show this season. The show is in two parts, opening with a grand ollo of vaudeville acts, which includes the Trio Keno, Welsh and Melrose, Lucia Kooper and her crazy Koons, Arlington and Delmore, Ed. Rogers and Mantel and Harris. Concluding the performance will be the burlesque, "A Summer Night's Frolic." described as furiously funny. Miss Aggie Collins will appear in the leading role, assisted by the entire company and twenty bewitching and gorgeously costumed maidens.

Maro, the Magician.

Tuesday night Maro, the magician, will be seen at the Lyceum. By his peculiar method of working he gives out the impression that he is not trying to deceive his audience, and to this fact alone may be attributed a greater portion of Maro's success, for his auditors at once become on friendly terms with him, and enter into the various illusions almost as ardently as the magician himself.

The Bostonians.

Seats wil be placed on sale tomorrow for the engagement of "The Bostonians" at the Lyceum, Thursday evening, Nov. 16, and there is every reason to believe a long line of purchasers will be in evidence when the box sheet is open for inspection. This famous and popular organization needs no second invitation to music lovers, and the proud record which they have sustained for a number of years as being first in the lyric field is warranty enough to crowd the theatre during their engagement. Victor Herbert's tuneful composition, "The Serenade," is announced.

The cast will include Henry Clay Barnabee, W. H. MacDonald, Helen Bertram, Marcia Van Dresser, George Frothingham, Frank Rushworth, Jooph Bartlett, Frederick Knight, W. H. Fitzgerald, Grace Cameron, Charles R. Hawley. Edith Hendee and others, supported by a chorus of sixty fresh young voices and an orchestra under the baton of S. L. Studley.

"Kidnapped in New York."

"Kidnapped in New York," which omes to the Academy of Music the st half of this week and matinees Friday and Saturday, is spoken of as being one of the best comedy-dramas ouring the road this season. Barney Glimore, who plays the part of Mr. Dooley, the Irish detective, obtained distinction the last three seasons in "Hogan's Alley," and it is said that his success has been even more pronounced. The part fits him to a nicety and enables him to Illustrate his skill as a character comedian.

The company supporting Mr. Gilmore is spoken of as being above the aver-Special scenery is provided for the production.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Nov. 11.-Today's bank statement proved rather worse than the most etreme estimates had foretold. The as in the cash reserves were $5,217,400. whereas the extreme estimate had been for only $4,500,000. Some sanguine persons had hoped that the cash losses would offset by a loan contraction as high as $12,000.000. Instead of that the decrease in loans reached only $7,151,600. As this only reduced the reserve requirements to the extent of $2,776,800, the cash losses, howver, resulted in increasing the deficiency below the legal requirement to $25,788,350 It was not to be expected that so formulable an encroachment on the already depicted reserves of the banks should be without effect and prices gave way all around. The losses on the list are strikingly small in spite of a large volume of dealings.
