BURIAL OF FURMAN FIELD.

Peculiar Request of the Dead Man Complied With.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Towanda, Nov. 13 .- An eccentric request made by Furman Field, a wealthy lumber man and one of the best known residents of Lycoming county, who died near Williamsport last Wednesday, was carried out on Friday, when the funeral occurred. Some time prior to his death Mr. Fleld told Sam-uel Swartz, of Williamsport, a dis-tant relative, that when he (Fleld) died he wanted the funeral conducted without any ceremony whatever, and that the coffin in which his body was placed should be drawn by a team of horses which he had driven for many years and that Swartz alone in the vehicle should haul the body to the Williams-port cemetery. He also requested that in making the trip from his home to the cemetery Swartz should drive across the country, a distance of twenty miles, and that no services should be held at the grave. The request was carried out as stated, except that short services were held at the house. Mr. Swartz pro-cured the coffin from the undertaker named by Mr. Field, and made the trip in the manner requested. The de-ceased was $3 years old and had been in the lumber business for over fifty vears.

DEATH OF M. F. RANSOM.

Was Formerly Commissioner of Bradford County.

Special to the Scrarton Tribune. Towanda, Nov. 14 .- Ex-County Commissioner M. F. Ransom died at his home near Ulster yesterday, aged eighty-four years. His death was rather sudden. Mr. Ransom was born in Tioga county, N. Y.; his father, Ira Ransom, was the first white male child born in his town. His grandfather, Forman Ransom, was a scout in Washington's army and was also sheriff of Tioga county, N. Y. The decased had been a resident of this county for sixty years. He was married in 1846 to Miss Adelaide D. Lent, of Wysox, whose ancestors were pioneers of that township. In younger days he engaged in rafting wheat and other products down the river, and later he had one of the best farms in the county. Politically he was a Democrat, and in 1881 was elected county commissioner, serving three years. Besides his wife, three daughters and two sons survive: Alice, at home: Mrs. R. D. Nichols, of Athens; Mrs. H. L. Knolleys, of Niagara Falls; William, of Spencer, N. Y., and George, of Jersey City. Funeral tomorrow,

RUNAWAY BOY INJURED.

Fred Woodruff's Leg Entangled in Lumber on a Freight Car.

Special to the Scrarton Tribune. Towanda, Nov. 14 .- Two South Waverly youngsters, giving their names as Fred Woodruff and Henry Arville, aged eleven years, went to Elmira last Friday night, and were returned home on Saturday by the authorities. Young Woodruff claimed he went to the city to find a relative, but had forgotten the address. They had tried to find the place, but being unsuccessful, had started home and caught a ride on a freight for that purpose.

They were as far as the Southport yards, when Woodruff's leg became caught in the lumber with which the car was loaded, and he began calling for help. His cries were heard by a brakeman, who stopped the train, and it was found impossible to extricate him; a switch engine had to be ordered was taken to the main yards in Elmira, where the boy was relieved of his suffering. No serious results are expected. Officers delivered the boys to their lomes.

Chief Robling and Detective Moir alled on the manager of the great sale which is going on at 428 Lackawanna avenue with a warrant for his arrest in refusing to pay $200 as a license which was recently passed in council for a transient dealer. This the manager refused to pay, as he is not a translent, but a permanent merchant.

The manager furnished ball and the case will go for the court to decide.

but why was this arrest made? These people are doing a land office business, being crowded daily, while their would-be competitors are laying ldie and are looking on. Rival clothlers, it is understood, are at the back of it. Of course we don't blame them, if they would only meet competition in a business-like manner, but they cannot drive this concern out of town. The manager is now more determined than ever to sell the stock and these prices will do it. It does not take an X-rays to see why such action was taken against them, as they are selling goods for less than rival dealers can buy
