CARBONDALE.

THE NEW TELEPHONE COMPANY

At the next meeting of the common council an ordinance will come up for first reading amending an ordinance entitled "An ordinance granting a franchise to the Carbondale Telephone company, approved March 28th, 1899. The amendment simply extends the time for erecting and putting the system in operation one year-to Dec. 31, 1900. The system must be extensive enough to supply at least 200 subscribers. The delay has been occasioned by an advance in the price of materials, which necessitated an increase in the capital stock.

THE MYSTERY DEEPENS.

The assertion of the coroner that Michael O'Boyle, who was found dead in the Lackawanna river bed Sunday. could not have turned over on his face the fractures of the back of the skull had been sustained by the fall, has led some to believe in foul play. As yet there is a motive lacking. The his person excludes the robbery theory. vited to be present. ne interesting testimony may be adduced at the inquest today.

EPWORTH LEAGUE CONVENTION

Several hundred Epworth league delegates of the Wyoming conference arrived in the snow storm yesterday afternoon to participate in the annual convention, which opened at the Methodist church last evening. There were interesting addresses by Rev. L. C. Murdock and C. M. Giffin. The evangelistic services have been suspended until Thursday afternoon.

OBSEQUIES.

The funeral of Michael Morrison took place yesterday morning from the home of his parents on Scott street. The funeral cortege, which was a large one, proceeded to St. Rose's church, where a high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. J. J. Griffin. At the conclusion of the mass Father Griffin delivered a fitting eulogy, taking for his text the Book of Wisdom 4:11: "He was taken away less wickedness might understand him or beguile his soul." At the conclusion of the ceremony the remains were conveyed to St. Rose's cemetery, where interment was made. The pall-bearers were selected from companions of the deceased and were ry Tighe, William Kearney, Patrick Gilboy, Owen Clark and Michael Bar-

OLYPHANT. The borough fathers met and transacted much business on Tuesday night. After Secretary O'Malley read the minutes of the previous meeting, Mr. Howard took exceptions to that portion relating to the awarding of the sewer contract to Stephen Flanagan. Howard maintained that isasmuch as the letting of the contract to Flanagan was lost by a tie vote at a previous meeting, the action of the council at last meeting was illegal. Mr. O'Brien did not agree with him and stated that, as the resolution awarding the contract was in writing and was passed by a majority it was per-fectly legal. After several motions and counter-motions, the minutes were left unapproved. The street commissloner's time for October was then read and passed upon. The auditor's bills were paid, as were also those of the secretary and burgess for salary. The expenses for operating the electric plent, for labor and supplies for Octo-ber, amounted to $303.77. An opinion was read from Borough Solicitor Lynch relative to the question as to whether the Traction company could be held responsible for the payment of a portion of the Lackawanna street pave. It was his opinion that the company had escaped liability by abandoning that part of the route before the pave was laid. Mr. Howard moved that the street commissioner's time, which has been held up for several months past, be paid. It was passed. G. A. Prokopovitch, who had a barouche damaged by falling into an excavation, stated that unless the council was prompt in taking some action on the matter he would proceed to law. The president appointed Messrs. Robinson and Marks to investigate and see whether the Olyphant Water company or the borough were responsible for the damages sustained. The street commissioner was directed to clean up the Lackawanna street pave. The bond of the sewer contractors was laid over until the minutes of the previous meeting are approved of. The street committee was directed to fix a water plug on Jones street and have cost of same charged to the Olyphant Water company.

Frank, the 14-year-old son of Mrs. William V. Davis, of Blakely, was fa-tally injured in the Grassy mine yesterday morning about 10 o'clock. The boy was employed as a driver and was coupling the cars when they suddenly came together, crushing his body in a most horrible manner. There was no one near when the accident happened, but when discovered some time later he was tenderly removed by several of the miners. He was taken to his home in Jones' ambulance, where he died shortly after arriving. He was a bright and industrious boy and had a large number of friends who will be deeply grieved at his untimely demise. Besides his mother he is survived by three brothers and two sis-ters. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in Union cemetery. Miss Henrietta Gruener, of cranton, has accepted a position in Freedman's new store on Lackawanna street.

An opinion from Judge surety. Later on the chief and his assistants arrested sixteen workmen and Superintendent Flynn and they were obliged to enter bail. Their bondsmen were E. S. Jones, of Blakely, and E. A. Jones, of this place.

After their release from custody the workmen started to narrow again and continued at work until 5 o'clock. Work was not resumed vesterday morning. While they worked during the day they narrowed about 200 yards and the Scranton cars can now come to the top of Dutch hill. They are running no farther than the Peckville line, however, and may not until the present trouble is settled.

The difficulty is proving rather expensive to the borough. Watchmen are kept on duty at the expense of the people and in the end they will have to settle. The borough council should meet at once and agree upon a line of action. The differences are not so great that they cannot be adjusted if the council goes about the settlement in a Maro, the Magician.

The Brockway entertainment course gave the third of its attractions last night, when Maro, the magician, appeared before a select and representative audience of Scrantonians. Maro is a rather versatile genius, and in the course of the evening, in addition to his acts of necromancy, gave selections upon various instruments, including, among others, the Tery guitar, the Marimbo pipes and the Goggiefep, an instrument with only one string.

Besides this, he introduced the art of shadowgraphy, which consisted in throwing on a screen black silhouettes, representing various objects, and which were caused only by the shadow of his hands. He also made several lightning sketches and succeeded in producing on his easel a picture which, when inverted, proved a tolerably good marine startling newness, and did not possess any remarkable originality, still they were very eleverly performed and in were very cleverly performed and in every case left the spectators in a complete state of mystification. Maro performed Hermann's old egg trick with huge success, taking three or four eggs from his colored servitor's mouth. The magician completed his evening's entertainment by inveigling Attorney George M. Watson on the stage. He began operations by shaking about a dozen packs of cards out of Mr. Watson's clothes. He followed this up by emoving from some part of his victim's person an almost endless roll of paper. As a climax, a brace of ducks was removed from Mr. Watson's anatomy, and fearing that a baby rhinoceros might be discovered somewhere on him, he then beat a retreat, leaving in his wake a boundless line of paper.

The next entertainment in this cours akes place Wednesday, Nov. 22, when Will Carleton, the poet, will appear at the Lyceum.

At the Calety.

This afternoon and evening the Little Magnets Big Burlesquers company will occupy the house, For the last half of this week Puck's Victoria Bur-lesquers will be the attraction.

"A High Ball" is the significant title of the burlesque produced by the Victoria Burlesquers this season. The music was written by John Stromber, the musical director and author of all Weber & Fields successes. The entire strength of the company is put forth to give the burlesque a perfect rendition.

Specialties are introduced by Agnes Behler, Camille Stafford, Fields and Wooley, Reid and Gilbert and others, Some very popular musical numbers are interspersed throughout the piece, notably "Popularity," "Say You Love Me Sue," "Dance D'Arabia." "Romeo and Juliet." "Za Za." "The Great Ruby," and "The Turtle" are served as a "salad" in travesty form. Agnes Behler interprets the leading roles in the various burlettas.

"Kidnapped in New York."

"Kidnapped in New York," a four act melodrama by Howard Hall, is announced as an up-to-date play, based on the principal incidents in the celebrated Marion Clark case. A child being the central character, "heart interest." that is considered an essential element in a successful play, is abundant in Mr. Hall's work. The play it is said will appeal especially and forcibly to fathers and mothers and catch the popular fancy. Barney Gilmore, the comedian and character actor, late of Gilmore and Leonard. will be the stellar feature of Mr. Hall's play, appearing as Mr. Dooley, the detective. The company will be under and will be seen at the Academy the balance of the week, beginning Thursday. Matinee Friday and Saturday.

"At the White Horse Tavern." Scranton is to have Daniel and Charles Frohman's latest New York success, "At the White Horse Tavern." next week at the Lyceum with the original cast of nearly forty people. The same piece in German by Blumenthal and Kadelburg kept Berlin in roars of laughter for a year. Sydney Rosenfeld's English version at Watlack's made the hit of the season, it being equally understood by gallery, dress circle and orchestra stalls. Love laughter, sentiment, picturesque settings and artistic accuracy, with a may c story so simple yet interesting, made "At the White Horse Tavern," New THE York's most delightful entertainment this season; so say the folks of Manhattan. The folks of Scranton will have the piece presented at the Lycoum this evening with the very clever people who created the parts in New York, with the scenery including the realistic steamboat, not forgetting the rainstorm that causes the curtain of the first act to be raised many times with laughter and applause so hearty.

"Jack and the Beanstalk." That famous extravaganza, "Jack and the Beanstalk," which for the past two or three seasons has electrified all the large cities of our country, is anhis daughter, Mrs. Amos Hamflett, on | nounced to appear at the Lyceum next Saturday afternoon and evening. This will be the occasion of the first visit of this widely heralded production to this on means Indigestion-Indigestion leads city, and the result is not for a moment to be doubted. It is confidently expected that the usual record-breaking result to which "Jack" has become accustomed will attend the engagement
